Hi School Board offers contracts to 21 teachers

At a special meeting of the Board of Education of the Arlington Heights Township High School, Saturday evening, April 14, teaching contracts were prepared and offered to 21 teachers on the faculty at the present time for the 1945-46 school year.

The teachers and their teaching fields are:

Gleah D. Brown, English.
Donald M. Costain, Music.
Paul E. Conklin, Mathematics.
Alice Eikenberry, Social Studies.
Florence Elfeld, English and Social Studies.
Hazel Faulkner, Commercial.
Mary Funk, Home Economics.
Ruth Johnson, Commercial.
Eleanor Kestin, Girls Physical Education.
Leslie Larson, Science.
Alma Leonhard, English.
Edith Lindsey, English.
R. Stanley Meyers, Industrial Arts.
Dorrine Petersen, English.
Donna Marie Volz, Latin.
Virgene Watson, Mathematics.
Carroll Whalen, Commercial.
Leonhard Brown, Science.
H. L. Slichenmyer, Science.
Kenneth Duzan, Mathematics.
Frank Vokac, Boys Physical Education.

It was further voted to employ two additional teachers, a full-time librarian and a health teacher. For the past year the school has had to have temporary approval of the librarian. It is a requirement of accredited high schools of our enrollment to have a full time librarian with a library degree on the faculty.

To further meet the recently enacted state law, requiring high school students to have physical education 200 minutes per week, it was voted to combine health education with the required gymnasium classes. By having one health lesson each week and alternating gymnasium classes, this requirement will be met.

Students aid

Students who helped in the recent vaccinations at the high school were Joan Lewke at the high school, Joy Heidemann and Betty Suerth at the North school, and Audrey Schuman and Joy Labantschnig at the South school. Those in charge of this important part of the health program say the girls' assistance made the procedure go much more smoothly.

Business houses closed at three o'clock Saturday for the balance of the day.

Lutheran school closed Friday afternoon following memorial service.

Public school closed at noon Friday.

Music concert at Arlington high set for April 27

On Friday night, April 27, at 8 p. m. the music department of the Arlington High School will present its annual Spring Concert in the school auditorium.

Over a period of years, this interesting program of varied music, given by the choruses and band under the direction of D. G. Costain, has been looked forward to by parents and friends as one of the musical highlights of the year. The band, mixed chorus, triple trio, and girls chorus of one hundred twenty voices, have been rehearsing strenuously for several months in order to attain the perfection of past performances.

No charge is made for this concert, which is given not only to entertain the patrons and friends of the school with the talent developed in our high school music department, but as a token of appreciation for their loyal support of the school functions given throughout the year.

T-Sgt. William Danielson now missing in action

Three local boys, previously reported as missing, are prisoners of war, according to official notices received by their relatives. They are Peter Bodor and Wm. Butler of Arlington Heights and Mel Bach of Mt. Prospect. Stories appear on page 7 of this issue.

Technical Sergeant William Danielson of Prospect Heights was declared missing in action March 18 it was revealed last week. Bill is a gunner and radio operator aboard a bomber stationed in England. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Danielson, Sr., 409 N. Elmhurst road, Prospect Heights.

Bill entered service June 14, 1943, and reported to Amarillo Army air field in Texas. He had graduated from Arlington Heights high school that June. In September he was transferred to Sioux Falls, South Dakota, for a 20 week radio operator and mechanic's course.

T-Sgt. Danielson was graduated from this school in March and was then transferred to the flexible gunnery school at Yuma, Arizona. He was granted his gunner's wings the end of May, 1944. Lincoln, Nebraska, was the next stop, Bill going overseas the end of September after undertaking cross-country flying at Rapid City, South Dakota.

In January of this year Bill was awarded the Air Medal for his activities as a radio operator and gunner of the 8th air force. His 100th bombardment group was based in England.

Bill is believed to have been on his 31st mission when declared missing, as his last letter, dated March 16, stated he had just 6 to go for a furlough.

A ray of hope for his return is held by virtue of the co-pilot of his ship being rescued from a German prison camp. It was stated this co-pilot, of same name and home town of Bill's co-pilot, and shot down over Berlin the same day, was interviewed by a metropolitan press reporter.

Scout drive nets $1800

The 1945 Financial Campaign of the Boy Scouts of America in Arlington Heights has reached its conclusion. It is with great pleasure that Scout Commissioner Cubley announces that the total subscriptions made are in excess of $1,800.00. The final figure is not as yet available, but will be published later.

"On behalf of the Boy Scouts of America and the Northwest Suburban Council of which Arlington Heights is a part," Mr. Cubley says, "I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the splendid way in which this community has supported this campaign with increased support given by the residents as well as business houses of Arlington Heights. I am sure that the Scouting program will be enabled to greatly improve and expand their program for the youth of our community.

"To Mr. Franzen, chairman of the 1945 drive, and to the men in charge of the various sections of the Community as well as the many others who loyally contributed their time and effort toward making this drive successful, I wish to express my gratitude for the efficient manner in which they carried out the duties assigned to them and I am sure that their efforts will be rewarded during the coming year."

On page three, this issue, is a partial reprint of an article entitled "Tribute From A Jungle Fighter", published in the National Scouting Magazine, written by Lt. Col. George O. Van Orden, U. S. M. C., which may be of interest to every parent of a Scout or Cub as well as others interested in the Scouting movement. This article conveys in words the depth of character building which is being attempted by the Boy Scouts of America and it is with great pride that we are able to print an article of this nature.

Opportunity for 'pinch hitting' by general public

Arlington Heights unit Bundles for America served coffee and rolls Thursday morning to the 58 men who reported at the Arlington Heights office of Selective Service for their pre-induction physicals.

It is probable that there will be other large groups called in the near future. This patriotic group of women do not intend that these men should be sent on their way without a breakfast and hope to be able to keep up the service. However, they will welcome the aid of any group or private individuals who desire to "pinch hit" for them at any time. Any person interested should call Mrs. Eric Plontke, phone Arlington Heights 367-R.

Those called for pre-induction physicals are required to leave Arlington on an early train. Those called for actual induction leave later in the day and do not require breakfast. Bundles for America, however, are still furnishing kits to those actually inducted. Mar Johnson furnishes them with cigarettes.

Call sixteen for induction

Sixteen men have been called for induction the latter part of April. Five of them are volunteers and nine are farmers. They are:

Christian Fritz, Jr., Chicago.
John Joseph Farrington, Chicago.
Elmer W. Hattendorf, Roselle.
John E. Amtmann, Palatine.
Ralph L. Hummel, Barrington.
Robert H. Nolte, Des Plaines.
Anthony C. Nickol, Arl. Hts.
Norman Slinkman, Bensenville.
Marvin J. Wessel, Palatine.
Orris E. Neagle, Palatine.
George E. Syoen, Arl. Hts.
Chester O. Scarbrough, Round Lake.
William N. Clinge, Jr., Barrington.
Max J. Hembrey, Barrington.
Charles A. Wilson, Barrington.
James A. Brown, Barrington.

Heavy vote in high school election

Although there was no opposition nor any write-in campaign in the Arlington Heights high school election last Saturday 442 votes were cast. Aside from a few strays, the vote was unanimous. C. I. Davis, candidate for president, received 429 votes and E. L. Laurin and W. C. Hanauer received 427 votes each.

Elementary School

Two hundred fifty-four votes were cast in the Arlington Elementary School election. N. M. Lattof received 249 for president; A. G. Cubley 254; Warren Fellingham 253 and A. E. Goldthwaithe 250, for members.

Place 10th in nation in war loan advertising

Placing tenth in the nation in the amount of advertising support given the 6th war loan is the record set by Paddock Publications, according to figures just released this week by the Treasury department.

In a contest among all weekly papers in the nation, the Paddock group contributed 44,870 agate lines of sponsored advertising for the campaign. Only 5 Illinois newspapers placed in the first 100, with Hillsboro, Ill., ranking 54th, and 2nd for the state.

The editors of Paddock Publications take this opportunity to thank all advertisers who aided the 6th war loan. It was their willingness to back the campaign that enabled the editors to set such a record.

The 7th war loan formally opens May 14 and ends June 30. The editors hope to set an even better record in that drive.

Roscoe Reed farm to be subdivided

C. H. Taylor, Chicago realtor, has just purchased the farm of Roscoe Reed, consisting of 40 acres. The land fronts on the north side of Euclid st., extending north to Oakton st. and is west of and adjoining Rolling Green Country Club. Hugo J. Thal attended to the legal matters of the transaction.

This property is to be subdivided into tracts of 100x300 feet each. Streets are to be constructed in accordance with the Village and FHA regulations. The parkways will be lined with elm trees and all the land sowed with grass seed for future lawns. All barns, sheds and other out buildings are to be wrecked and removed and the dwelling is to be remodeled. Adequate building restrictions will insure the project of high class development. The subdivision is to be known as C. H. Taylor's Arlington Town-Gardens. The various tracts will be offered for sale late in the summer.

The demand for spacious plots for post-war homes is becoming increasingly popular, with the growing trend of decentralization. Mr. Taylor reports sales in the various sections in the metropolitan area have increased remarkably in the past few years in this type of property.

The lands of the O'Keefe estate consisting of 120 acres at Rand Road, Oakton st., Olive st. and Thomas ave. was purchased by Mr. Taylor and sold in one to 2½ acre tracts, which sales were completed in 1943. One of his latest projects of acre tracts is at the southwest corner of Shermer Road and Techny Road, Northbrook, the last parcels of which are now being taken. May 1st another of Taylor's developments will be opened just south of Dundee road on Sanders road.

The consensus of opinion among real estate men and others is that Arlington Heights is destined to share outstandingly in the development which is to follow the war's end.

Mr. Taylor has outlined his plans to the Arlington Heights village board, the approval of which is necessary before final acceptance of the subdivision plat.

Lay preacher in Methodist pulpit

Louis Schaeffer, a Christian layman, will preach in the Methodist Meeting House in Arlington Heights Sunday, April 22, at 11:00 o'clock. Mr. Schaeffer has been invited to occupy some of the largest pulpits in Chicago and other cities. He has a standing engagement with the Edgewater Presbyterian Church of Chicago, where he has appeared for more than a half dozen years.

Mr. Schaeffer is the proprietor of the "Trophy Center", a world famous store for athletic trophies. He sends some of his merchandise to every civilized country. His metals and trophies have been awarded to some of the world's most famous athletes.

Mr. Schaeffer is a silversmith and gets many ideas for his lay sermons from working with precious metals. His address to the church school is the evolutionary story of how a silver knife becomes a mark of a fine appointed home and the equipment of a gracious hostess. But he says, "the evolution of Christian life requires more sterling qualities."

$5 REWARD

A reward of $5.00 will be paid for return to the office of Paddock Publications of a laundry bundle of men's shirts lost in Arlington Heights Wednesday morning.

Kindergarten pupils must be physically fit

Registrations for next fall should be made now

Parents of children who are eligible for kindergarten next year may expect to be contacted by members of the public or parochial Summer Round-up Committee very soon. At that time, they will be provided with the proper blanks and information for the pre-school medical and dental examinations required, by law, of all children before entering school.

Parents are asked to make appointments, at once, with their family physician and dentist so that the completed record may be returned to their school on the day set for the round-up. No examinations will be conducted at the schools on the day of the round-up.

All parents of children who expect to attend kindergarten next year are urged to be sure that their child's name has been given their school or the chairman of their school's Round-up committee.

The public schools' round-up is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, with Mrs. Gerald Morrissey as Round-up chairman.

Mrs. Ralph Hull is chairman of the St. James' Catholic school Round-up, which is sponsored by the Women's Guild.

The St. Peter's Lutheran School Round-up is sponsored by the Mother's Club, with Mrs. Irene Malzahn as its chairman.

It is the belief of all those connected with these programs that the home is responsible for the health of the pre-school child and that the home can make no greater contribution than to send to the school a pupil physically ready to take full advantage of the opportunities that education has to offer.

Hold memorial service at Arlington high

A memorial service in honor of Franklin Roosevelt was held Friday morning at Arlington Heights high school. As per orders of Cook County Superintendent of Schools Puffer, classes were halted at 11 a. m., memorial service was held, and school was dismissed for the remainder of the day.

Singing of the national anthem opened the program, Mr. Costain directing. After a few remarks by principal Egdorf, Henry Ehard, president of the senior class, read Whitman's "Oh Captain".

Rev. Vondracek of the Arlington Heights Methodist church read the 118th Psalm, and Midshipman's prayer. This prayer is given to all servicemen upon entering service. After singing of "America" the program was closed.

Publicity given grade school shop projects

Boys of Arlington Heights who made stilts in the grade school shop last year will be interested in the write-up of this project in the current issue of Popular Science magazine (April, page 161). Several other articles on shop problems by Mr. Dean have appeared in the Industrial Arts magazine and Popular Science in 1944.

Others may be seen in coming issues of Popular Homecraft and School Arts. Publication of Mr. Dean's book on Leathercraft has been delayed because of the paper shortage. It is now being considered by McKnight Publishing Co., of Bloomington, Ill.

New municipal administration for Wheeling

There was a spirited election contest in Wheeling Tuesday. A new presidents and three new aldermen will take office the first of May. Two were re-elected, Harry Jaegerman for police magistrate and Adeline Schneider for clerk. The vote was as follows:

For President:
Arthur Ortegel	160
Hans Schmidt	129
For Trustees (three elected):
Edward Gieseke, Jr.	151
Theodore Pieper	145
Herbert Grandt	144
Robert F. Scott	137
John Nielsen	129
Phil J. Doetsch	122
For Police Magistrate:
Harry Jaegermann	171
For Village Clerk:
Adeline Schneider	168

Few loans possible under present realty inflation

That servicemen and women be told the truth about loan privileges under the G. I. Bill of Rights was the subject of an address before the Arlington Heights Lions Club Tuesday evening by LeRoy A. Listug, vice-president of the Central National Bank. Mr. Listug told of many fallacies of the bill and stated the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 is far from perfect. He praised the efforts of the American Legion in sponsoring the legislation, but emphasized that the present bill, as it is working out in actual practice, is not what the Legion worked so hard for or the kind of bill that they wanted.

Mr. Listug blames the unworkable features of the loan provisions of the bill to the fact that it was rushed through Congress six weeks before the national election last year by politicians for vote getting purposes.

He cited as evidence of the unworkability of the bill that fact that during the nine months since the bill became the law of the land, less than three thousand loans have been made in the whole country and less than four thousand loans have been made in the seven states centering in the Chicago office of the Veterans Administration.

The "truth" about G. I. loans that is told in the accompanying story is of so great importance that Paddock Publications are publishing this story in all its editions. It is a rude awakening to many G. I.'s who thought the bill passed by the last congress was a Utopia.

Mr. Listug stressed the fact that it is not the kind of bill that the bankers want. Banks today have more money to lend than ever before in the history of the nation, but their hands are tied under the act. A "G. I." loan can only be made after it has first met the eligibility requirements of the Veterans Administration for guarantee. Bankers are urging, through the American Bankers Association, amendments to the act that will remove many of the restrictions that now prevent veterans from securing loans.

The most troublesome requirement for eligibility is the "reasonable normal value" restriction, which is the yard stick, by which values of homes, businesses and farms are all determined under the act. In these times of inflated values of residential property, business and farm lands, it is almost impossible to get an honest appraiser to pass on prices which are being asked for real estate and business property. Because of the "reasonable normal value" clause, he stated that no home already built in Arlington Heights or any other good suburban community, could be bought by a returning veteran under the G. I. Bill.

Of the 300 home loans made to date in the seven states around Chicago, almost all have been for homes purchased in small communities where there is no housing shortage and where property values have not been inflated because of the war.

There have been only 16 business loans and 23 farm loans, only two of which involved real estate, in these same seven states, principally for the same reason. Up to March 21, only one farm loan, involving real estate had been made in Illinois, one of the best farm states in the nation.

Mr. Listug urged that returning veterans be advised to go slow on rushing into real estate business deals. There is no particular rush since they have two years after date of discharge or after the official end of hostilities in which to avail themselves of the loan privileges under the act. He stressed the advantages of the educational features of the bill under which every returning service man or woman has the right to at least one year of schooling at the government's expense. Most veterans will be eligible for two and three years and some four years of education.

There have always been business opportunities in the past for people that had the "know how" and more likely there will be even greater opportunities in the post war period for veterans who first avail themselves of the educational benefits and prepare themselves for successful business or professional careers.

In closing Mr. Listug emphasized his sincerity in urging cautious and wise council to returning veterans by saying simply that his son, a flyer in the present war, won't be coming back.

Summing up the talk of Mr. Listag, Lion President Horath expressed the belief that a permanent central G. I. committee should be established in Arlington Heights to keep in touch with any new developments and serve as a clearing house of information to the returned service man.

64 boys win Eisenhower salvage medal

Sixty-four Arlington Heights cubs and scouts will soon be wearing the special Eisenhower medal for their activities in collecting waste paper.

The total collection made last Saturday was 80,000 pounds. The collection work of the trucks was made easier by the cooperation of the boys, each of whom had gathered at his own home a half ton or more paper. If an incentive can be found for the boys to repeat that practice, subsequent collections of paper will be handled in similar manner.

It was the greatest collection of paper ever made at one time in Arlington and is nearly one-half of the total amount previously collected since November, 1943.

Boys eligible for the Eisenhower medal are:

C. Baldwin, L. Barkhausen, R. Bauer, B. Brock, R. Chamberlain, J. Cleaver, A. Cochran, B. Collard, J. Cooper, T. Cooper, M. Creviston, C. Cubley, M. Cuscaden, B. Cutler, G. Deininger, J. Deininger, G. Eakins, J. Eakins, R. Evans, R. Fraster, R. Harth, W. Hartman, D. Havranek, D. Heckmiller, D. Helfers, R. Hill, E. Hunsinger, R. Kennedy, C. Kent, C. Knapp, D. Kurtz, W. Lasley, W. Lattof, R. McAuliffe, T. McAuliffe, D. Meineke, R. Meyer, D. Militzer, M. Moehling, R. Mook, R. Morrow, K. Mueller, S. Mundy, D. Neumann, A. Neville, D. Niemeyer, D. Othmer, M. Prellberg, P. Ransdell, R. Rudd, D. Schimmel, G. Schwartz, D. Smith, N. Sommer, N. Stadtler, V. Sturm, B. Tautsch, J. Theis, M. Theis, J. Van Deusen, B. Volz, A. Weinrich, D. Wright, H. Young.

Given new hope for missing pilot

Hope for the safe return of Lt. Ralph Hauptly of Mt. Prospect is even stronger this week with word from a crewman aboard his plane that they had made a forced landing behind Russian lines. No direct word of Hauptly, husband of the former Marilyn Framberg of Arlington Heights, has been received.

The engineer, whose home is in River Forest, asked his parents to notify the families of the other crew members. Lt. Hauptly was pilot of a B-24, and has been missing since a raid over Austria Mar. 23.

E. W. A. Rowles Co. provide benefits to employees

Announcement has been made by Robert Sindelar, president of E. W. A. Rowles Co., Arlington Heights, that employees of that company have been included in a group insurance plan, the greater part of its cost being paid by the company. The installation of the plan was the idea of the late Joseph C. Sindelar, who died before he had the opportunity of putting it into operation. It has been his son's desire, the president of the firm, to attempt to carry out as far as possible, his father's ideas as regards the treatment and welfare of the employees of the company.

The installation of this complete group insurance coverage is merely an example of one of the many things that the management is doing in order to make Rowles Company a good place to work.

While no definite announcement has yet been made concerning profit-sharing for the employees, it is understood that the company is now working out such a plan.

E. W. A. Rowles Co. is an asset to Arlington, providing employment at home for approximately 75 men.

Church synod to aid in 5 million collection

Next Sunday, April 22 Lutherans of the Missouri Synod throughout the nation will engage in a five million dollar thank offering. St. Peter Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights has promised to cooperate to the best of its ability.

The Lutheran church plans to stand ready to help Christianize and rebuild the world as soon as the dawn of peace appears again. Conscious of the chaos and confusion occasioned by the war, aware of the darkness and sorrow in men's hearts everywhere, realizing the dire need of the everlasting gospel and the healing power of Christ throughout the world, the Lutheran church of the Missouri Synod is sponsoring this offering at this time. An abundance of literature has been mailed out and sermons preached about it.

It is to be a thank offering on the part of the membership, a thank offering for the many blessings received from Almighty God during the past few years. In spite of the war and bloodshed abroad, in spite of the toil and hardships of these war years, people have fared better economically than ever before. Things have looked more wholesome for everybody from a financial standpoint.

Indications are that St. Peter church, as well as neighboring sister congregations, will raise more than its fair share. Its members are ready to lend a helping hand and see the wisdom of such a financial drive at this hour. Various workers or "heralds" will go from door to door Sunday afternoon to gather in the offering envelopes. The children of the Parish School will give their coin folders through the school. The membership has been asked to remain at home in the afternoon of April 22, if possible, until after the "heralds" have called.

The customary offering for the men in the armed forces held in the past on Mother's Day will be postponed until fall.

The Five Million is to be used exclusively for mission work in America as well as abroad.

Arlington voters give O. K. to state retirement fund

Commencing next January municipal employees of the village of Arlington Heights will come under the Retirement Fund. The voters approved the installation of the plan Tuesday by a vote of 291 to 36.

The Retirement Fund gives to men employed by municipalities some of the benefits that are now enjoyed by men employed in private industry. It encourages public employees to remain in present employment and insures them an assured future when they near the retirement age as well as disability and sick benefits.

The employees of the village of Arlington Heights can not personally thank every person who voted "yes" on the proposition and take this means to publicly express their appreciation. "We will endeavor to give concrete evidences of our thanks by providing the best possible public service to the citizens of Arlington Heights," says the committee.

Arlington students provide assembly at Crystal Lake

Seventy high school students from Arlington, journeyed to Crystal Lake last week to present an hour assembly program in the local high school auditorium. This was in the nature of an exchange assembly, as Crystal Lake presented its talent to the Arlington student body last February.

A one act play, directed by Miss Petersen, and the string ensemble, mixed chorus, and triple trio directed by Don Costain, made up the program which was well received by the Crystal Lake students.

Both schools enjoyed the exchange and hope was expressed that it might become an annual affair.

Count ballots between stitches and card hands

Officials in charge of the Arlington Heights village election Tuesday were not very busy. Just enough votes, say women officials at the village hall, to interfere with their card games and knitting. The officials at the other precinct were mostly men and of course they do not play bridge, nor did they knit.

A total of 359 votes were cast. Albert Goedke received 323 for mayor; Forrest Davis 329 for village clerk; Wm. Franke, 327, Fred Kehe 324, Rudolph Rizzi 327 for board members. Irma Grose and C. H. Mills were elected members of the library board for six year terms.

In order not to show partiality, Mayor Goedke appointed one man to the south precinct and one woman to the north precinct.

Public invited to visit Mt. Prospect clothing exchange

The Mt. Prospect Clothing Exchange has for sale ladies coats and dresses. They also have a demand for children's clothes with the exception of hats and shoes. During the month of March 295 garments were entered. The sales were $110.25, which shows the public is interested in the Exchange. The public is invited to come in Thursday mornings from 9-11:30 a. m. and visit the exchange which is located on the northeast corner of Busse and Elmhurst rds. For information call Mrs. Wax, chairman, Mt. Prospect, 856.

Banker Reveals Truth about GI Bill

Hi School Board offers contracts to 21 teachers

At a special meeting of the Board of Education of the Arlington Heights Township High School, Saturday evening, April 14, teaching contracts were prepared and offered to 21 teachers on the faculty at the present time for the 1945-46 school year.

The teachers and their teaching fields are:

Gleah D. Brown, English.
Donald M. Costain, Music.
Paul E. Conklin, Mathematics.
Alice Eikenberry, Social Studies.
Florence Elfeld, English and Social Studies.
Hazel Faulkner, Commercial.
Mary Funk, Home Economics.
Ruth Johnson, Commercial.
Eleanor Kestin, Girls Physical Education.
Leslie Larson, Science.
Alma Leonhard, English.
Edith Lindsey, English.
R. Stanley Meyers, Industrial Arts.
Dorrine Petersen, English.
Donna Marie Volz, Latin.
Virgene Watson, Mathematics.
Carroll Whalen, Commercial.
Leonhard Brown, Science.
H. L. Slichenmyer, Science.
Kenneth Duzan, Mathematics.
Frank Vokac, Boys Physical Education.

It was further voted to employ two additional teachers, a full-time librarian and a health teacher. For the past year the school has had to have temporary approval of the librarian. It is a requirement of accredited high schools of our enrollment to have a full time librarian with a library degree on the faculty.

To further meet the recently enacted state law, requiring high school students to have physical education 200 minutes per week, it was voted to combine health education with the required gymnasium classes. By having one health lesson each week and alternating gymnasium classes, this requirement will be met.

Students aid

Students who helped in the recent vaccinations at the high school were Joan Lewke at the high school, Joy Heidemann and Betty Suerth at the North school, and Audrey Schuman and Joy Labantschnig at the South school. Those in charge of this important part of the health program say the girls' assistance made the procedure go much more smoothly.

How local towns paid respect to late president

Local communities honored the memory of late President Roosevelt as follows:

Arlington Heights

Business places closed at 2:30 Saturday for the balance of day, except a few food stores which reopened at 6:00 p. m.

Public and Lutheran schools, following memorial services, closed at 11:30 on Friday. St. James school closed all day.

Palatine

Business places closed between the hours of 3:00 and 6:00 Saturday.

Memorial services held at high school Friday, closing for balance of day.

Public school closed at noon Friday.

Lutheran school closed all day Friday.

Mt. Prospect

Business houses closed at three o'clock Saturday for the balance of the day.

Lutheran school closed Friday afternoon following memorial service.

Public school closed at noon Friday.

Music concert at Arlington high set for April 27

On Friday night, April 27, at 8 p. m. the music department of the Arlington High School will present its annual Spring Concert in the school auditorium.

Over a period of years, this interesting program of varied music, given by the choruses and band under the direction of D. G. Costain, has been looked forward to by parents and friends as one of the musical highlights of the year. The band, mixed chorus, triple trio, and girls chorus of one hundred twenty voices, have been rehearsing strenuously for several months in order to attain the perfection of past performances.

No charge is made for this concert, which is given not only to entertain the patrons and friends of the school with the talent developed in our high school music department, but as a token of appreciation for their loyal support of the school functions given throughout the year.

T-Sgt. William Danielson now missing in action

Three local boys, previously reported as missing, are prisoners of war, according to official notices received by their relatives. They are Peter Bodor and Wm. Butler of Arlington Heights and Mel Bach of Mt. Prospect. Stories appear on page 7 of this issue.

Technical Sergeant William Danielson of Prospect Heights was declared missing in action March 18 it was revealed last week. Bill is a gunner and radio operator aboard a bomber stationed in England. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Danielson, Sr., 409 N. Elmhurst road, Prospect Heights.

Bill entered service June 14, 1943, and reported to Amarillo Army air field in Texas. He had graduated from Arlington Heights high school that June. In September he was transferred to Sioux Falls, South Dakota, for a 20 week radio operator and mechanic's course.

T-Sgt. Danielson was graduated from this school in March and was then transferred to the flexible gunnery school at Yuma, Arizona. He was granted his gunner's wings the end of May, 1944. Lincoln, Nebraska, was the next stop, Bill going overseas the end of September after undertaking cross-country flying at Rapid City, South Dakota.

In January of this year Bill was awarded the Air Medal for his activities as a radio operator and gunner of the 8th air force. His 100th bombardment group was based in England.

Bill is believed to have been on his 31st mission when declared missing, as his last letter, dated March 16, stated he had just 6 to go for a furlough.

A ray of hope for his return is held by virtue of the co-pilot of his ship being rescued from a German prison camp. It was stated this co-pilot, of same name and home town of Bill's co-pilot, and shot down over Berlin the same day, was interviewed by a metropolitan press reporter.

Scout drive nets $1800

The 1945 Financial Campaign of the Boy Scouts of America in Arlington Heights has reached its conclusion. It is with great pleasure that Scout Commissioner Cubley announces that the total subscriptions made are in excess of $1,800.00. The final figure is not as yet available, but will be published later.

"On behalf of the Boy Scouts of America and the Northwest Suburban Council of which Arlington Heights is a part," Mr. Cubley says, "I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the splendid way in which this community has supported this campaign with increased support given by the residents as well as business houses of Arlington Heights. I am sure that the Scouting program will be enabled to greatly improve and expand their program for the youth of our community.

"To Mr. Franzen, chairman of the 1945 drive, and to the men in charge of the various sections of the Community as well as the many others who loyally contributed their time and effort toward making this drive successful, I wish to express my gratitude for the efficient manner in which they carried out the duties assigned to them and I am sure that their efforts will be rewarded during the coming year."

On page three, this issue, is a partial reprint of an article entitled "Tribute From A Jungle Fighter", published in the National Scouting Magazine, written by Lt. Col. George O. Van Orden, U. S. M. C., which may be of interest to every parent of a Scout or Cub as well as others interested in the Scouting movement. This article conveys in words the depth of character building which is being attempted by the Boy Scouts of America and it is with great pride that we are able to print an article of this nature.

Opportunity for 'pinch hitting' by general public

Arlington Heights unit Bundles for America served coffee and rolls Thursday morning to the 58 men who reported at the Arlington Heights office of Selective Service for their pre-induction physicals.

It is probable that there will be other large groups called in the near future. This patriotic group of women do not intend that these men should be sent on their way without a breakfast and hope to be able to keep up the service. However, they will welcome the aid of any group or private individuals who desire to "pinch hit" for them at any time. Any person interested should call Mrs. Eric Plontke, phone Arlington Heights 367-R.

Those called for pre-induction physicals are required to leave Arlington on an early train. Those called for actual induction leave later in the day and do not require breakfast. Bundles for America, however, are still furnishing kits to those actually inducted. Mar Johnson furnishes them with cigarettes.

Call sixteen for induction

Sixteen men have been called for induction the latter part of April. Five of them are volunteers and nine are farmers. They are:

Christian Fritz, Jr., Chicago.
John Joseph Farrington, Chicago.
Elmer W. Hattendorf, Roselle.
John E. Amtmann, Palatine.
Ralph L. Hummel, Barrington.
Robert H. Nolte, Des Plaines.
Anthony C. Nickol, Arl. Hts.
Norman Slinkman, Bensenville.
Marvin J. Wessel, Palatine.
Orris E. Neagle, Palatine.
George E. Syoen, Arl. Hts.
Chester O. Scarbrough, Round Lake.
William N. Clinge, Jr., Barrington.
Max J. Hembrey, Barrington.
Charles A. Wilson, Barrington.
James A. Brown, Barrington.

Heavy vote in high school election

Although there was no opposition nor any write-in campaign in the Arlington Heights high school election last Saturday 442 votes were cast. Aside from a few strays, the vote was unanimous. C. I. Davis, candidate for president, received 429 votes and E. L. Laurin and W. C. Hanauer received 427 votes each.

Elementary School

Two hundred fifty-four votes were cast in the Arlington Elementary School election. N. M. Lattof received 249 for president; A. G. Cubley 254; Warren Fellingham 253 and A. E. Goldthwaithe 250, for members.

Place 10th in nation in war loan advertising

Placing tenth in the nation in the amount of advertising support given the 6th war loan is the record set by Paddock Publications, according to figures just released this week by the Treasury department.

In a contest among all weekly papers in the nation, the Paddock group contributed 44,870 agate lines of sponsored advertising for the campaign. Only 5 Illinois newspapers placed in the first 100, with Hillsboro, Ill., ranking 54th, and 2nd for the state.

The editors of Paddock Publications take this opportunity to thank all advertisers who aided the 6th war loan. It was their willingness to back the campaign that enabled the editors to set such a record.

The 7th war loan formally opens May 14 and ends June 30. The editors hope to set an even better record in that drive.

Roscoe Reed farm to be subdivided

C. H. Taylor, Chicago realtor, has just purchased the farm of Roscoe Reed, consisting of 40 acres. The land fronts on the north side of Euclid st., extending north to Oakton st. and is west of and adjoining Rolling Green Country Club. Hugo J. Thal attended to the legal matters of the transaction.

This property is to be subdivided into tracts of 100x300 feet each. Streets are to be constructed in accordance with the Village and FHA regulations. The parkways will be lined with elm trees and all the land sowed with grass seed for future lawns. All barns, sheds and other out buildings are to be wrecked and removed and the dwelling is to be remodeled. Adequate building restrictions will insure the project of high class development. The subdivision is to be known as C. H. Taylor's Arlington Town-Gardens. The various tracts will be offered for sale late in the summer.

The demand for spacious plots for post-war homes is becoming increasingly popular, with the growing trend of decentralization. Mr. Taylor reports sales in the various sections in the metropolitan area have increased remarkably in the past few years in this type of property.

The lands of the O'Keefe estate consisting of 120 acres at Rand Road, Oakton st., Olive st. and Thomas ave. was purchased by Mr. Taylor and sold in one to 2½ acre tracts, which sales were completed in 1943. One of his latest projects of acre tracts is at the southwest corner of Shermer Road and Techny Road, Northbrook, the last parcels of which are now being taken. May 1st another of Taylor's developments will be opened just south of Dundee road on Sanders road.

The consensus of opinion among real estate men and others is that Arlington Heights is destined to share outstandingly in the development which is to follow the war's end.

Mr. Taylor has outlined his plans to the Arlington Heights village board, the approval of which is necessary before final acceptance of the subdivision plat.

Lay preacher in Methodist pulpit

Louis Schaeffer, a Christian layman, will preach in the Methodist Meeting House in Arlington Heights Sunday, April 22, at 11:00 o'clock. Mr. Schaeffer has been invited to occupy some of the largest pulpits in Chicago and other cities. He has a standing engagement with the Edgewater Presbyterian Church of Chicago, where he has appeared for more than a half dozen years.

Mr. Schaeffer is the proprietor of the "Trophy Center", a world famous store for athletic trophies. He sends some of his merchandise to every civilized country. His metals and trophies have been awarded to some of the world's most famous athletes.

Mr. Schaeffer is a silversmith and gets many ideas for his lay sermons from working with precious metals. His address to the church school is the evolutionary story of how a silver knife becomes a mark of a fine appointed home and the equipment of a gracious hostess. But he says, "the evolution of Christian life requires more sterling qualities."

$5 REWARD

A reward of $5.00 will be paid for return to the office of Paddock Publications of a laundry bundle of men's shirts lost in Arlington Heights Wednesday morning.

Kindergarten pupils must be physically fit

Registrations for next fall should be made now

Parents of children who are eligible for kindergarten next year may expect to be contacted by members of the public or parochial Summer Round-up Committee very soon. At that time, they will be provided with the proper blanks and information for the pre-school medical and dental examinations required, by law, of all children before entering school.

Parents are asked to make appointments, at once, with their family physician and dentist so that the completed record may be returned to their school on the day set for the round-up. No examinations will be conducted at the schools on the day of the round-up.

All parents of children who expect to attend kindergarten next year are urged to be sure that their child's name has been given their school or the chairman of their school's Round-up committee.

The public schools' round-up is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, with Mrs. Gerald Morrissey as Round-up chairman.

Mrs. Ralph Hull is chairman of the St. James' Catholic school Round-up, which is sponsored by the Women's Guild.

The St. Peter's Lutheran School Round-up is sponsored by the Mother's Club, with Mrs. Irene Malzahn as its chairman.

It is the belief of all those connected with these programs that the home is responsible for the health of the pre-school child and that the home can make no greater contribution than to send to the school a pupil physically ready to take full advantage of the opportunities that education has to offer.

Hold memorial service at Arlington high

A memorial service in honor of Franklin Roosevelt was held Friday morning at Arlington Heights high school. As per orders of Cook County Superintendent of Schools Puffer, classes were halted at 11 a. m., memorial service was held, and school was dismissed for the remainder of the day.

Singing of the national anthem opened the program, Mr. Costain directing. After a few remarks by principal Egdorf, Henry Ehard, president of the senior class, read Whitman's "Oh Captain".

Rev. Vondracek of the Arlington Heights Methodist church read the 118th Psalm, and Midshipman's prayer. This prayer is given to all servicemen upon entering service. After singing of "America" the program was closed.

Publicity given grade school shop projects

Boys of Arlington Heights who made stilts in the grade school shop last year will be interested in the write-up of this project in the current issue of Popular Science magazine (April, page 161). Several other articles on shop problems by Mr. Dean have appeared in the Industrial Arts magazine and Popular Science in 1944.

Others may be seen in coming issues of Popular Homecraft and School Arts. Publication of Mr. Dean's book on Leathercraft has been delayed because of the paper shortage. It is now being considered by McKnight Publishing Co., of Bloomington, Ill.

New municipal administration for Wheeling

There was a spirited election contest in Wheeling Tuesday. A new presidents and three new aldermen will take office the first of May. Two were re-elected, Harry Jaegerman for police magistrate and Adeline Schneider for clerk. The vote was as follows:

For President:
Arthur Ortegel	160
Hans Schmidt	129
For Trustees (three elected):
Edward Gieseke, Jr.	151
Theodore Pieper	145
Herbert Grandt	144
Robert F. Scott	137
John Nielsen	129
Phil J. Doetsch	122
For Police Magistrate:
Harry Jaegermann	171
For Village Clerk:
Adeline Schneider	168

Few loans possible under present realty inflation

That servicemen and women be told the truth about loan privileges under the G. I. Bill of Rights was the subject of an address before the Arlington Heights Lions Club Tuesday evening by LeRoy A. Listug, vice-president of the Central National Bank. Mr. Listug told of many fallacies of the bill and stated the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 is far from perfect. He praised the efforts of the American Legion in sponsoring the legislation, but emphasized that the present bill, as it is working out in actual practice, is not what the Legion worked so hard for or the kind of bill that they wanted.

Mr. Listug blames the unworkable features of the loan provisions of the bill to the fact that it was rushed through Congress six weeks before the national election last year by politicians for vote getting purposes.

He cited as evidence of the unworkability of the bill that fact that during the nine months since the bill became the law of the land, less than three thousand loans have been made in the whole country and less than four thousand loans have been made in the seven states centering in the Chicago office of the Veterans Administration.

The "truth" about G. I. loans that is told in the accompanying story is of so great importance that Paddock Publications are publishing this story in all its editions. It is a rude awakening to many G. I.'s who thought the bill passed by the last congress was a Utopia.

Mr. Listug stressed the fact that it is not the kind of bill that the bankers want. Banks today have more money to lend than ever before in the history of the nation, but their hands are tied under the act. A "G. I." loan can only be made after it has first met the eligibility requirements of the Veterans Administration for guarantee. Bankers are urging, through the American Bankers Association, amendments to the act that will remove many of the restrictions that now prevent veterans from securing loans.

The most troublesome requirement for eligibility is the "reasonable normal value" restriction, which is the yard stick, by which values of homes, businesses and farms are all determined under the act. In these times of inflated values of residential property, business and farm lands, it is almost impossible to get an honest appraiser to pass on prices which are being asked for real estate and business property. Because of the "reasonable normal value" clause, he stated that no home already built in Arlington Heights or any other good suburban community, could be bought by a returning veteran under the G. I. Bill.

Of the 300 home loans made to date in the seven states around Chicago, almost all have been for homes purchased in small communities where there is no housing shortage and where property values have not been inflated because of the war.

There have been only 16 business loans and 23 farm loans, only two of which involved real estate, in these same seven states, principally for the same reason. Up to March 21, only one farm loan, involving real estate had been made in Illinois, one of the best farm states in the nation.

Mr. Listug urged that returning veterans be advised to go slow on rushing into real estate business deals. There is no particular rush since they have two years after date of discharge or after the official end of hostilities in which to avail themselves of the loan privileges under the act. He stressed the advantages of the educational features of the bill under which every returning service man or woman has the right to at least one year of schooling at the government's expense. Most veterans will be eligible for two and three years and some four years of education.

There have always been business opportunities in the past for people that had the "know how" and more likely there will be even greater opportunities in the post war period for veterans who first avail themselves of the educational benefits and prepare themselves for successful business or professional careers.

In closing Mr. Listug emphasized his sincerity in urging cautious and wise council to returning veterans by saying simply that his son, a flyer in the present war, won't be coming back.

Summing up the talk of Mr. Listag, Lion President Horath expressed the belief that a permanent central G. I. committee should be established in Arlington Heights to keep in touch with any new developments and serve as a clearing house of information to the returned service man.

64 boys win Eisenhower salvage medal

Sixty-four Arlington Heights cubs and scouts will soon be wearing the special Eisenhower medal for their activities in collecting waste paper.

The total collection made last Saturday was 80,000 pounds. The collection work of the trucks was made easier by the cooperation of the boys, each of whom had gathered at his own home a half ton or more paper. If an incentive can be found for the boys to repeat that practice, subsequent collections of paper will be handled in similar manner.

It was the greatest collection of paper ever made at one time in Arlington and is nearly one-half of the total amount previously collected since November, 1943.

Boys eligible for the Eisenhower medal are:

C. Baldwin, L. Barkhausen, R. Bauer, B. Brock, R. Chamberlain, J. Cleaver, A. Cochran, B. Collard, J. Cooper, T. Cooper, M. Creviston, C. Cubley.
M. Cuscaden, B. Cutler, G. Deininger, J. Deininger, G. Eakins, J. Eakins, R. Evans, R. Fraster, R. Harth, W. Hartman, D. Havranek.

Given new hope for missing pilot

Hope for the safe return of Lt. Ralph Hauptly of Mt. Prospect is even stronger this week with word from a crewman aboard his plane that they had made a forced landing behind Russian lines. No direct word of Hauptly, husband of the former Marilyn Framberg of Arlington Heights, has been received.

The engineer, whose home is in River Forest, asked his parents to notify the families of the other crew members. Lt. Hauptly was pilot of a B-24, and has been missing since a raid over Austria Mar. 23.

E. W. A. Rowles Co. provide benefits to employees

Announcement has been made by Robert Sindelar, president of E. W. A. Rowles Co., Arlington Heights, that employees of that company have been included in a group insurance plan, the greater part of its cost being paid by the company. The installation of the plan was the idea of the late Joseph C. Sindelar, who died before he had the opportunity of putting it into operation. It has been his son's desire, the president of the firm, to attempt to carry out as far as possible, his father's ideas as regards the treatment and welfare of the employees of the company.

The installation of this complete group insurance coverage is merely an example of one of the many things that the management is doing in order to make Rowles Company a good place to work.

While no definite announcement has yet been made concerning profit-sharing for the employees, it is understood that the company is now working out such a plan.

E. W. A. Rowles Co. is an asset to Arlington, providing employment at home for approximately 75 men.

Church synod to aid in 5 million collection

Next Sunday, April 22 Lutherans of the Missouri Synod throughout the nation will engage in a five million dollar thank offering. St. Peter Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights has promised to cooperate to the best of its ability.

The Lutheran church plans to stand ready to help Christianize and rebuild the world as soon as the dawn of peace appears again. Conscious of the chaos and confusion occasioned by the war, aware of the darkness and sorrow in men's hearts everywhere, realizing the dire need of the everlasting gospel and the healing power of Christ throughout the world, the Lutheran church of the Missouri Synod is sponsoring this offering at this time. An abundance of literature has been mailed out and sermons preached about it.

It is to be a thank offering on the part of the membership, a thank offering for the many blessings received from Almighty God during the past few years. In spite of the war and bloodshed abroad, in spite of the toil and hardships of these war years, people have fared better economically than ever before. Things have looked more wholesome for everybody from a financial standpoint.

Indications are that St. Peter church, as well as neighboring sister congregations, will raise more than its fair share. Its members are ready to lend a helping hand and see the wisdom of such a financial drive at this hour. Various workers or "heralds" will go from door to door Sunday afternoon to gather in the offering envelopes. The children of the Parish School will give their coin folders through the school. The membership has been asked to remain at home in the afternoon of April 22, if possible, until after the "heralds" have called.

The customary offering for the men in the armed forces held in the past on Mother's Day will be postponed until fall.

The Five Million is to be used exclusively for mission work in America as well as abroad.

Arlington voters give O. K. to state retirement fund

Commencing next January municipal employees of the village of Arlington Heights will come under the Retirement Fund. The voters approved the installation of the plan Tuesday by a vote of 291 to 36.

The Retirement Fund gives to men employed by municipalities some of the benefits that are now enjoyed by men employed in private industry. It encourages public employees to remain in present employment and insures them an assured future when they near the retirement age as well as disability and sick benefits.

The employees of the village of Arlington Heights can not personally thank every person who voted "yes" on the proposition and take this means to publicly express their appreciation. "We will endeavor to give concrete evidences of our thanks by providing the best possible public service to the citizens of Arlington Heights," says the committee.

Arlington students provide assembly at Crystal Lake

Seventy high school students from Arlington, journeyed to Crystal Lake last week to present an hour assembly program in the local high school auditorium. This was in the nature of an exchange assembly, as Crystal Lake presented its talent to the Arlington student body last February.

A one act play, directed by Miss Petersen, and the string ensemble, mixed chorus, and triple trio directed by Don Costain, made up the program which was well received by the Crystal Lake students.

Both schools enjoyed the exchange and hope was expressed that it might become an annual affair.

Count ballots between stitches and card hands

Officials in charge of the Arlington Heights village election Tuesday were not very busy. Just enough votes, say women officials at the village hall, to interfere with their card games and knitting. The officials at the other precinct were mostly men and of course they do not play bridge, nor did they knit.

A total of 359 votes were cast. Albert Goedke received 323 for mayor; Forrest Davis 329 for village clerk; Wm. Franke, 327, Fred Kehe 324, Rudolph Rizzi 327 for board members. Irma Grose and C. H. Mills were elected members of the library board for six year terms.

In order not to show partiality, Mayor Goedke appointed one man to the south precinct and one woman to the north precinct.

Public invited to visit Mt. Prospect clothing exchange

The Mt. Prospect Clothing Exchange has for sale ladies coats and dresses. They also have a demand for children's clothes with the exception of hats and shoes. During the month of March 295 garments were entered. The sales were $110.25, which shows the public is interested in the Exchange. The public is invited to come in Thursday mornings from 9-11:30 a. m. and visit the exchange which is located on the northeast corner of Busse and Elmhurst rds. For information call Mrs. Wax, chairman, Mt. Prospect, 856.

Set up new plan for validating ration stamps

"Under the new plan for validation of red and blue ration stamps, housewives will find it easier to remember when new stamps become good and to budget use of their points, since now there are always the same number of each points of each kind each month." This was the statement today of the local War Price and Rationing Board in stressing that red and blue stamps become good on the same date—the first day of each calendar month.

"We hope that the buyers of food appreciate this new arrangement under which blue stamps, good for canned fruits and vegetables, and red stamps, good for meats and fats, both are validated in blocks of five.

"Heretofore the two kinds of stamps were not on the same schedule, the blues being validated on the first of the month, but the reds becoming good on the first day of each 'rationing period'.

"Under the old plan, five red stamps for a total of 50 points were validated for each 4-week rationing period, and six red stamps for a total of 60 points were validated for each 5-week rationing period.

"The new method of validating red stamps for meats-fats will result in a reduction of about 6 per cent in the actual number of red points housewives receive," the chairman said, "but this reduction will find compensation in point values.

"Both red and blue stamps will expire for use by consumers on the last day of the fourth month after their validation."

Tax deadline next week

The dead line is near for the first installment of real estate and the personal property tax bills.

Those who have not paid their taxes to the local collectors are warned to get busy at once.

The local collectors report a decided slowing up of collections last week and the crowds at the county building office reflected the same condition there, all of which means a last minute rush to get under the wire and that the downtown crowds will be immense during the last few days rush.

The local collectors are expecting a few days grace to balance up their books and expect to have the books for a part of next week. They are making Friday, April 27, the absolute deadline on which they will receive taxes.

They expect to be at their offices up to that time so the taxpayers who have not yet made them a visit can still do so and find that they will be waited on promptly and courteously and will not have to crash any of those downtown crowds which promise to be greater than ever this year because of last week's slow down.

So it's the last call and the last chance to pay your taxes at home and in comfort.

Your local collectors will be glad to see you and your home-town taxing bodies will be happy for you to see him as it will mean that the money, the great percentage of which is used right at hime will be available for them at once.

The local collectors express their appreciation for the fine support given them by the taxpayers and they'll be glad to see those who have not yet put in an appearance.

Announce plans for canning sugar

Applications for sugar for home canning are now being accepted at the Ration Board office. No sugar checks or coupons are to be issued prior to May 1.

All issuance will be through Local Boards. The issue for fruit canning is to be at the rate of one pound of sugar for four quarts of finished fruit. Maximum issuance for putting up preserves, jelly, canned vegetables, etc., will be five pounds per person.

The maximum issuance for both fruit canning and preserving to be twenty pounds per person and not more than 160 pounds per family unit.

There are six specific questions with reference to canning needs on application Form R341. The application must be accompanied by Spare Stamp No. 13 from War Ration Book 4 of all members of the family unit for whom the application is made.

No more than two applications may be filed by any family unit during the 1945 season.

County taverns warned of May 1 license deadline

The tavern owners in the unincorporated areas of Cook County were warned yesterday that they must renew their yearly operating license by May 1, 1945.

The warnings were issued by Clayton F. Smith, President of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County, who is also the Cook County Liquor Control Commissioner.

The License Fee is $200.00 per year with an additional $50.00 for those taverns offering entertainment.

Ill. Bell plans post-war expansion of system

The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. has announced that it is ready to resume expansion and improvement of rural telephone service as soon as war conditions permit. Many new devices and methods have been worked out, and the necessary equipment and manpower will be put to work as soon as they are available.

At the present time, it is practicable to reach about 80% of the nation's rural homes from existing telephone lines or lines extended at no construction charge to the user. In Illinois Bell territory, based upon their most recent study, 96% can be so reached.

This effort to bring good telephone service to more farmers is not new. There has been steady progress through the years, and rural telephone service today is more highly developed in this country than anywhere else in the world. Rural Bell telephones in the country have increased 60% since 1935, or about the same percentage as city telephones. In the territory served by the Illinois Bell Telephone Company in the same period, rural telephones have increased over 115% as compared to about a 50% increase in city telephones. In Illinois more than 150,000 rural and farm families have telephones.

The expansion program calls for the use of many types of physical telephone facilities, including the dial system; improved pole-line construction and the radio telephone. Also, for several years before the war research and field trials were carried on by the Bell Telephone Laboratories and the Rural Electrification Administration aimed at perfecting a method of sending telephone conversations over power lines.

Some years before the war, a small dial central office system known as "community dial" was designed for use especially in small rural communities. About 110 of such "community dial" exchanges are in operation in Illinois, and more will be installed as soon as they are available after the war.

The telephone companies are studying the possible use of microwave radio systems in rural telephone service, especially to reach people in remote places.

A new wire has been developed that will permit poles to be placed farther apart than at present. This wire is much more resistant to high winds, sleet and ice, and will mean fewer interruptions of service for rural subscribers.

True prayer, says Mahatma Gandhi, is first of all an all-pervading humbleness, an all-pervading sincerity. He underlines the humbleness. To the cynic he says: "You will never know the real meaning of power until you reduce yourself to a cipher. You must be humble enough to realize that in spite of your self-considered greatness and all-encompassing intellect, you are but a speck in the universe."

Mt. Prospect scouts winners in 1st aid test

Three of Mt. Prospect First Aid teams competing in their annual First Aid contest of division two, won "A" ratings at Rand Field House, Des Plaines, Tuesday evening, April 10. Arlington Heights entered one team, Cumberland two teams, Des Plaines one Sea Scout team and Prospect Heights two teams.

Mr. Kratt, the Council Commissioner, opened the meet at eight p. m. with a brief introduction. He then turned the meeting over to Mr. Raven of Prospect Heights, who was the referee.

The time and score keepers were Messrs. Huntington, Eigenbrod, Pfiefer, and Mr. McNamee served as the doctor. Assisting were A. L. Baker, district No. 2, Commissioner, and T. R. Smith, chairman of district No. 2 Health and Safety.

Serving as judges were Messrs. Lester, Byron Foot, Tom Dobson, Will Davis, Wm. Ziebell, George Westerman, Randell, Russell Smith, Friezell and Byron Bohrer.

Messrs. Wax, Von Kampen, Freeman, Hauptly, and Robert Lowe were also present.

Mr. Raven called the meeting to order and after the pledge of allegiance to the flag and the scout oath ceremony, the judges were assigned to their respective teams. Troop No. 22 of Des Plaines did not compete, but instead, they willingly agreed to act as patients in the tests. The first one of the four problems was then read. Each team was allowed a three minute huddle period for its solution. Then ten minutes were allowed to set up the equipment and actually perform the necessary treatment as they believe the situation called for.

In one problem an elderly lady and a street car motorman were supposed to be injured. When the boys rushed from their huddle to the two boys laying on the floor as patients, one of the scouts shouted out, "Which one of you guys wants to be the old lady?" This was settled immediately in true scout fashion and the tourniquet, splints and bandages rapidly and neatly applied.

Four stiff problems covering about every type of symptom of ache, pain or accident that could befall us poor humans were encountered. These were carefully diagnosed, and the proper remedy quickly, neatly and accurately applied. Seven of the teams were given an "A" rating and will be qualified to compete in the Council First Aid meet which will be held April 26. The scores are:

Troop 7 Flying Eagle of Arlington Heights	B
Troop 23 Owl team of Mt. Prospect	A
Troop 22 Panther team of Mt. Prospect	A
Troop 23 Wild Cat team of Mt. Prospect	A
Troop 23 Explorers No. 2 of Mt. Prospect	B
Troop 27 Cobra team of Cumberland	A
Troop 27 Eagle team of Cumberland	A
Troop 36 Seniors of Prospect Heights	A
Troop 36 Juniors of Prospect Heights	B
Ship 136 Crew No. 1 of Des Plaines	A

The Court of Honor to be held June 8, places and times to be announced later. Parents are strongly urged to be present in person on these evenings.

There is an excellent record, a record any one can and should be proud of. The boys, together with all of the officers, have worked hard and each and everyone deserves a lot of credit. The least parents can do is to turn out and lend their moral support to the boys and all their officers.

The meeting came to an end at 10:30 p. m. and when the boys came outside there was Jim Wax and VonKampen with a box as big as a clothes basket pilled high with the swellest ice cream sundaes. Oh boy, did they empty that box in a hurry. Those who weren't there missed a fine treat.

Seek help in combatting fires

There have been 112 fires in the forest preserves since January 1, burning over 612 acres, including 150 acres of fine woodland and young forest plantings. There need not have been ONE if people only understood the damage done by forest and grass fires.

Every spring and every fall, thousands of acres of prairie and vacant subdivisions are burned off. Some of these fires jump over into forest preserves. Many fires start inside the preserves, or along their highway borders, from matches, cigarettes or pipe dottle thrown aside by careless people. Some start from picnic fires. A few are kindled by boys who have seen their parents or neighbors do the same thing at home.

Most people believe that the prairies should be burned off "to make better grass." The new green grass shows more quickly when the old grass and weeds have been so removed. But the good, nutritious grasses, such as bluegrass, timothy and clover, are killed by repeated burnings. Only the tough grasses, such as crabgrass and quackgrass, survive these burnings and they are of little value for pasture or hay. Most of the weed seeds are unharmed by such burnings. The native wildflowers, however, disappear. Burning also destroys all food and cover for birds and other wildlife.

Fire in the woods kills the young trees and frequently so scars the trunks of the older trees that disease and insects can enter, eventually destroying them. Fire also consumes the fallen leaves, twigs and other vegetable matter which, if allowed to decay, provide necessary natural fertilizer.

Serve Swiss steak often with variations. For full rich beef flavor brown well and add hot water for a brown gravy. Or for added flavor use hot tomato juice, lemon sauce, fruit juices, onions, whole vegetables, pickle relish or horseradish sauce.

Why the teachers joined the union

From time to time high school teachers have been asked why they affiliated with a union. In order to explain their point of view and reasons for affiliating, they submit this editorial from the Kansas City Journal—

"This is an age of organization. Everybody is organized — from stevedores to millionaire manufacturers. There are taxpayers' organizations for holding down school costs, including teachers' salaries. There are a thousand and one pressure organizations working for bigger slices of state revenue for this cause or that. Unless the teachers organize in self-protection, they will find themselves jostled to the end of the line.

"The American Federation of Teachers is a unit in the AFL. It follows a no-strike policy and devotes its efforts to protecting the teacher's interest in matters of policy and legislation.

"Those interests must be protected if the standard of education is to be protected and improved. When teachers are buffeted about from pillar to post and their security is imperiled, there is no incentive for competent men and women to make a career of teaching. The schools lose them to other professions. After a time the bulk of the teaching personnel becomes composed of the aged on one hand and on the other of young women who plan to teach only long enough to finance their trousseaus.

"When such conditions prevail, the taxpayer is not getting his money's worth in educational results."

The purposes of the American Federation of Teachers are stated in the Constitution as follows:

1. To bring associations of teachers into mutual assistance and cooperation.
2. To obtain for them all the rights to which they are entitled.
3. To raise the standard of the teaching profession by securing the conditions essential to the best professional service.
4. To promote such a democratization of the schools as will enable them better to equip their pupils to take their places in the industrial, social, and political life of the community.
5. To promote the welfare of the childhood of the nation by providing progressively better educational opportunity for all.

Cast-Iron Stoves

Although they had been used in Germany since the beginning of the 16th century, the first cast-iron stoves ever seen in the Colonies were brought here by the pioneer emigrants from that country. Made of five castiron plates, clamped together to form a box which rested on legs of iron or stone, they were scorned by most of the inhabitants of New England who condescended only to use foot stove.

To The Public

No enterprise of any kind and least of all a school can operate effectively in an atmosphere of distrust, suspicion and intimidation. This is exactly the situation at the Arlington Heights High School. This cannot be regarded as a minor squabble between the teachers and the school administration. The inevitable sufferers are your children, who will be the responsible citizens of the near future.

The picture has been represented by some individuals as a group of self-satisfied teachers resenting the progressive ideas of a knight in shining armor. This is fully in accord with the misrepresentation, half-truths, and other "facts" that have been directed against the faculty.

The teachers want to see educational progress, but they know that "education for democracy" is an empty phrase under a dictatorial administration. The progressive philosophy assumes the presence of a harmonious school and a leadership worthy of the best efforts of students and faculty.

The Board of Education has suggested that the teachers who object to these tactics can resign and go elsewhere. For the teachers this is an easy solution at the present time. This is no solution for the students; they must remain.

Forced resignations and dismissals will not solve the problem. Only the removal of the cause will alter the situation; the unrest will continue until there is a less autocratic administration.

The mass dismissals in Arlington Heights are fast approaching a national scandal in educational circles. It is unlikely that competent teachers will risk their reputations by signing a contract as long as there is such a turnover among the faculty.

The people of Arlington Heights can assist in seeing justice done. For the sake of their children they must.

Set up new plan for validating ration stamps

"Under the new plan for validation of red and blue ration stamps, housewives will find it easier to remember when new stamps become good and to budget use of their points, since now there are always the same number of each points of each kind each month." This was the statement today of the local War Price and Rationing Board in stressing that red and blue stamps become good on the same date—the first day of each calendar month.

"We hope that the buyers of food appreciate this new arrangement under which blue stamps, good for canned fruits and vegetables, and red stamps, good for meats and fats, both are validated in blocks of five.

"Heretofore the two kinds of stamps were not on the same schedule, the blues being validated on the first of the month, but the reds becoming good on the first day of each 'rationing period'.

"Under the old plan, five red stamps for a total of 60 points were validated for each 4-week rationing period, and six red stamps for a total of 60 points were validated for each 5-week rationing period.

"The new method of validating red stamps for meats-fats will result in a reduction of about 6 per cent in the actual number of red points housewives receive," the chairman said, "but this reduction will find compensation in point values.

"Both red and blue stamps will expire for use by consumers on the last day of the fourth month after their validation."

A doctor will tell you

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

It may be that no friend of yours will tell you that your breath offends, but your doctor or dentist will. These professional men have no false scruples about the truth.

The truth can make you free of this most disturbing trait. If the dentist gives you a clean bill of healthy teeth see your doctor. He may discover any one of several reasons for a foul breath. Perhaps it is caused by infected tonsils, perhaps by nasal catarrh, perhaps you have any one of a half dozen other reasons.

Relief is possible and certain when the basic cause is determined. Act upon the doctor's diagnosis and prescribed cure.

Be sure to select a competent druggist.

Tax deadline next week

The dead line is near for the first installment of real estate and the personal property tax bills.

Those who have not paid their taxes to the local collectors are warned to get busy at once.

The local collectors report a decided slowing up of collections last week and the crowds at the county building office reflected the same condition there, all of which means a last minute rush to get under the wire and that the downtown crowds will be immense during the last few days rush.

The local collectors are expecting a few days grace to balance up their books and expect to have the books for a part of next week. They are making Friday, April 27, the absolute deadline on which they will receive taxes.

They expect to be at their offices up to that time so the taxpayers who have not yet made them a visit can still do so and find that they will be waited on promptly and courteously and will not have to crash any of those downtown crowds which promise to be greater than ever this year because of last week's slow down.

So it's the last call and the last chance to pay your taxes at home and in comfort.

Your local collectors will be glad to see you and your home-town taxing bodies will be happy for you to see him as it will mean that the money, the great percentage of which is used right at hime will be available for them at once.

The local collectors express their appreciation for the fine support given them by the taxpayers and they'll be glad to see those who have not yet put in an appearance.

Announce plans for canning sugar

Applications for sugar for home canning are now being accepted at the Ration Board office. No sugar checks or coupons are to be issued prior to May 1.

All issuance will be through Local Boards. The issue for fruit canning is to be at the rate of one pound of sugar for four quarts of finished fruit. Maximum issuance for putting up preserves, jelly, canned vegetables, etc., will be five pounds per person.

The maximum issuance for both fruit canning and preserving to be twenty pounds per person and not more than 160 pounds per family unit.

There are six specific questions with reference to canning needs on application Form R341. The application must be accompanied by Spare Stamp No. 13 from War Ration Book 4 of all members of the family unit for whom the application is made.

No more than two applications may be filed by any family unit during the 1945 season.

County taverns warned of May 1 license deadline

The tavern owners in the unincorporated areas of Cook County were warned yesterday that they must renew their yearly operating license by May 1, 1945.

The warnings were issued by Clayton F. Smith, President of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County, who is also the Cook County Liquor Control Commissioner.

The License Fee is $200.00 per year with an additional $50.00 for those taverns offering entertainment.

Ill. Bell plans post-war expansion of system

The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. has announced that it is ready to resume expansion and improvement of rural telephone service as soon as war conditions permit. Many new devices and methods have been worked out, and the necessary equipment and manpower will be put to work as soon as they are available.

At the present time, it is practicable to reach about 80% of the nation's rural homes from existing telephone lines or lines extended at no construction charge to the user. In Illinois Bell territory, based upon their most recent study, 96% can be so reached.

This effort to bring good telephone service to more farmers is not new. There has been steady progress through the years, and rural telephone service today is more highly developed in this country than anywhere else in the world. Rural Bell telephones in the country have increased 60% since 1935, or about the same percentage as city telephones. In the territory served by the Illinois Bell Telephone Company in the same period, rural telephones have increased over 115% as compared to about a 50% increase in city telephones. In Illinois more than 150,000 rural and farm families have telephones.

The expansion program calls for the use of many types of physical telephone facilities, including the dial system; improved pole-line construction and the radio telephone. Also, for several years before the war research and field trials were carried on by the Bell Telephone Laboratories and the Rural Electrification Administration aimed at perfecting a method of sending telephone conversations over power lines..

Some years before the war, a small dial central office system known as "community dial" was designed for use especially in small rural communities. About 110 of such "community dial" exchanges are in operation in Illinois, and more will be installed as soon as they are available after the war.

The telephone companies are studying the possible use of microwave radio systems in rural telephone service, especially to reach people in remote places.

A new wire has been developed that will permit poles to be placed farther apart than at present. This wire is much more resistant to high winds, sleet and ice, and will mean fewer interruptions of service for rural subscribers.

No enterprise of any kind and least of all a school can operate effectively in an atmosphere of distrust, suspicion and intimidation. This is exactly the situation at the Arlington Heights High School. This cannot be regarded as a minor squabble between the teachers and the school administration. The inevitable sufferers are your children, who will be the responsible citizens of the near future.

The picture has been represented by some individuals as a group of self-satisfied teachers resenting the progressive ideas of a knight in shining armor. This is fully in accord with the misrepresentation, half-truths, and other "facts" that have been directed against the faculty.

The teachers want to see educational progress, but they know that "education for democracy" is an empty phrase under a dictatorial administration. The progressive philosophy assumes the presence of a harmonious school and a leadership worthy of the best efforts of students and faculty.

The Board of Education has suggested that the teachers who object to these tactics can resign and go elsewhere. For the teachers this is an easy solution at the present time. This is no solution for the students; they must remain.

Forced resignations and dismissals will not solve the problem. Only the removal of the cause will alter the situation; the unrest will continue until there is a less autocratic administration.

The mass dismissals in Arlington Heights are fast approaching a national scandal in educational circles. It is unlikely that competent teachers will risk their reputations by signing a contract as long as there is such a turnover among the faculty.

The people of Arlington Heights can assist in seeing justice done. For the sake of their children they must.

Gems of thought

FAME

Worldly fame is but a breath of wind that blows now this way, and now that, and changes name as it changes direction.

—Dante.

Beauty, wealth, or fame is incompetent to meet the demands of the affections, and should never weigh against the better claims of intellect, goodness and virtue.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

No true and permanent Fame can be founded except in labors which promote the happiness of mankind.

—Charles Sumner.

—Walter Savage Landor.

Let us satisfy our own consciences, and trouble not ourselves by looking for fame. If we deserve it, we shall attain it: if we deserve it not we cannot force it.

—Seneca.

Fame usually comes to those who are thinking about something else,—very rarely to those who say to themselves, "Go to, now, let us be a celebrated individual!"

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

DES PLAINES

The will of Mrs. Sophia Pries, late of 1420 Ashland ave, Des Plaines, has been admitted to probate. It disposes of a $15,000 estate. She died Jan. 22. She left certain stocks and some money to her son, Arthur Pries, of Chicago, as trustee, the income to be used for the life support of a son, John. The residue of her estate is to be divided equally between her four children or their descendants. Heirs in Des Plaines include Mathilda Healy, daughter, 1420 Ashland ave., and Esther Meir and Fred Hippner, grandchildren, both of Oakton st., Des Plaines.

Jungle fighter gives tribute to scouting

George O. Van Orden, Lt. Col. U. S. Marine Corps, recently wrote a letter to the Boy Scouts of America which should be of great interest to every parent, especially those who have sons who are scouts. The letter reads in part as follows:

"In the jungles and on the battle field, I have realized how much more than just 'fun' that all scouts got out of that program. It has even taken a bloody war to make us realize the real worth of scoutcraft."

There are two aspects to it.

"One: in a battalion which it was my privilege to command for some time, we came to have some considerable reputation as Jungle fighters. We knew how to 'get along'. These men were real woodsmen; they were good trackers. On patrol they were never once ambushed; in fact, on several occasions in one month my men turned the tables and bushwacked the traps set for them—just because they knew how to read signs, detect camouflage and get around in the bush day or night. My men never suffered from diseases normally incidental to campaigning in the field; they knew how to be sanitary. Their camp craft was good. They knew how to feed themselves in the field. They knew all the little tricks that make the difference between being comfortable and being miserable, between being healthy and being sick, between being safe and sound in the jungle and being a sucker for the first Jap to cross their path. We used to talk it over; you learn about these things in the Marines, to some extent, but not to the degree our lads knew and practiced them. Well, the answer was not too hard to discover; what our lads were doing was no more than any good Scout learns to do by the time he is First Class and has had a couple of summers' experience in the woods. And there were enough ex-Scouts in our outfit to show the greenhorns how to do it, how to get along—right from the start. That is angle Number One—Scouting has saved the health and lives of countless thousands of our young men in this war with the Japanese.

"Number Two—and equally important—in my relationship with these men, over a period of two years, I observed a condition of morals that was amazing to one who has spent a lifetime among hard, rugged, single-purposed groups of men away from home and all restraining influences. This condition of morals was, of course, due to the morality of the subordinate leaders—the sergeants, the lieutenants, the captains; enlisted men of the Marine Corps always reflect the character of their immediate leader. With these lads we never had trouble with liquor, with women, with theft, with falsehood, with courage, nor with any one of the problems that come up in large bodies of men in the field. Considering that the quality of home breeding of all Marines is about equal, taking them in groups, there must have been a reason beyond that. There was—and you've guessed it—the great majority of my officers and noncommissioned officers were Scouts. They merely lived 'Scouting' as they had been taught to do, and in so doing set an example that the others followed."

Sulphuric Acid

The first sulphuric acid ever manufactured in the United States was made by John Harrison in Philadelphia in 1793. The plant of Harrison Brothers was taken over by the Du-Ponts in 1917. More sulphuric acid is produced in this country than any other chemical, since it is practically the basis of the entire chemical industry. In medieval times it was known as "oil of vitriol."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 15.

The Golden Text was, "Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise" (Jer. 17: 14).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease . . . These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, . . . as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give" (Matt. 10: 1, 5, 7, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker-Eddy: "Jesus established in the Christian era the precedent for all Christianity, theology, and healing. Christians are under as direct orders now, as they were then, to be Christlike, to possess the Christ-spirit, to follow the Christ-example, and to heal the sick as well as the sinning . . . The Christian Scientist has enlisted to lessen evil, disease, and death; and he will overcome them by understanding their nothingness and the allness of God, or good. Sickness to him is no less a temptation than is sin, and he heals them both by understanding God's power over them. The Christian Scientist knows that they are errors of belief, which Truth can and will destroy" (pp. 138,450).

Inspired Heating Stove

From the 11th to the 15th centuries AD., the fireplace and the chimney—as we know them—were developed. But it was not until the end of the latter period that efforts were made to distribute heat through rooms more evenly than was possible with hearth fires. Those attempts eventually led to the invention of the heating stove.

Mrs. Irwin Garms has been quite ill the past week.

American Legion auxiliary notes

Merle Guild Unit No. 208, the American Legion Auxiliary, held a business meeting at Legion hall Tuesday with 14 members present. After the committee reports, with an ever increasing request to please contribute, was taken care of, there was an informal discussion on the coming activities. The Child Welfare chairman, Etta Fitzpatrick, reported sending a birthday card and present to the child sponsored by the Auxiliary.

The Good Will chairman, Laura McElhose, reported sending cards to the sick and those whose birthdays are in April.

After adjournment, the hostesses Millie Russell and Camille Peroutka, served refreshments on a table spread with a paper cover, gay with spring flowers, with a centerpiece of beautiful tulips.

DIVORCED

Gladys D. Bartholomew, Barrington, obtained a divorce from Lester J. Bartholomew, Barrington, and custody of their two children Friday in Lake County circuit court. They were married March 4, 1936 at Geneva. In addition to a divorce and custody of the children she obtained an order awarding her their household furniture and $17.50 a week support for the children.

Farm tools

Manufacturers of a wide variety of farm implements and their many suppliers of parts and materials, are looking forward to the greatest volume of business in their history. The production of agricultural machinery has necessarily been limited during war, and the pent-up demand in this country is augmented by the flood of requests for American tools from all over the world. This record boom in the production of U. S. farm tools will soar over a billion dollars annually, in the opinion of Joseph W. Frazer, chairman of Graham-Paige Motors Corporation, which will market a new line of special agricultural implements.

He said that American industry has the opportunity to play the leading role in "mechanization of global agriculture," because our tractors, bulldozers and machines of war have already done a forceful "advance selling job" in many countries where little mechanical equipment was seen before the war. U. S. machinery manufacturers will be called upon to supply implements to rehabilitate war-devastated regions as soon as possible, Frazer said, as well as to modernize farming methods in other parts of the globe. Demand for new machinery will be strong in this country because many farmers have earmarked part of their war savings for replacement and new-type implements.

Carry the ball

No matter in what vocation or walk of life, a person must carry the ball if he is to perform his duties as a United States citizen. With a world war on, there are plenty of opportunities to carry the ball. This is especially true in the battle of Price Control against Inflation. Every citizen must do his part. We cannot let George do it —AND GET THE JOB DONE.

Right now there is a critical need for volunteers in the price control program. These volunteers are needed as Price Panel Assistants, to aid in surveys in their local community. Such surveys take only a few hours a day once or twice a month. Surely you can devote this much time to holding the line against inflation on the Home Front. None of us want the bitter experience following the First World War, when Inflation was followed by an even more disastrous Deflation. Go to your recruiting station at the local War Price and Rationing Board and ENLIST in THIS WAR WORK TODAY.

WATERING

Sprinkle, but don't soak the seedlings. Soak, but don't sprinkle the growing vegetables.

INSECTS AND DISEASE

Crop rotation helps control plant disease and pests. A bug returns to his old stamping ground, finds a vegetable to which he is allergic, and starves.

WEEDS

On the uncultivated plot weeds will crowd in, rob plants of food and moisture, and spread disease among them. Catch the villainous weeds while they're young.

Gems of thought

FAME

Worldly fame is but a breath of wind that blows now this way, and now that, and changes name as it changes direction.

—Dante.

Beauty, wealth, or fame is incompetent to meet the demands of the affections, and should never weigh against the better claims of intellect, goodness and virtue.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

No true and permanent Fame can be founded except in labors which promote the happiness of mankind.

—Charles Sumner.

—Walter Savage Landor.

Let us satisfy our own consciences, and trouble not ourselves by looking for fame. If we deserve it, we shall attain it: if we deserve it not we cannot force it.

—Seneca.

Fame usually comes to those who are thinking about something else,—very rarely to those who say to themselves, "Go to, now, let us be a celebrated individual!"

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

DES PLAINES

The will of Mrs. Sophia Pries, late of 1420 Ashland ave, Des Plaines, has been admitted to probate. It disposes of a $15,000 estate. She died Jan. 22. She left certain stocks and some money to her son, Arthur Pries, of Chicago, as trustee, the income to be used for the life support of a son, John. The residue of her estate is to be divided equally between her four children or their descendants. Heirs in Des Plaines include Mathilda Healy, daughter, 1420 Ashland ave., and Esther Meir and Fred Hippner, grandchildren, both of Oakton st., Des Plaines.

Jungle fighter gives tribute to scouting

George O. Van Orden, Lt. Col. U. S. Marine Corps, recently wrote a letter to the Boy Scouts of America which should be of great interest to every parent, especially those who have sons who are scouts. The letter reads in part as follows:

"In the jungles and on the battle field, I have realized how much more than just 'fun' that all scouts got out of that program. It has even taken a bloody war to make us realize the real worth of scoutcraft."

There are two aspects to it.

"One: in a battalion which it was my privilege to command for some time, we came to have some considerable reputation as Jungle fighters. We knew how to 'get along'. These men were real woodsmen; they were good trackers. On patrol they were never once ambushed; in fact, on several occasions in one month my men turned the tables and bushwacked the traps set for them—just because they knew how to read signs, detect camouflage and get around in the bush day or night. My men never suffered from diseases normally incidental to campaigning in the field; they knew how to be sanitary. Their camp craft was good. They knew how to feed themselves in the field. They knew all the little tricks that make the difference between being comfortable and being miserable, between being healthy and being sick, between being safe and sound in the jungle and being a sucker for the first Jap to cross their path. We used to talk it over; you learn about these things in the Marines, to some extent, but not to the degree our lads knew and practiced them. Well, the answer was not too hard to discover; what our lads were doing was no more than any good Scout learns to do by the time he is First Class and has had a couple of summers' experience in the woods. And there were enough ex-Scouts in our outfit to show the greenhorns how to do it, how to get along—right from the start. That is angle Number One—Scouting has saved the health and lives of countless thousands of our young men in this war with the Japanese.

"Number Two—and equally important—in my relationship with these men, over a period of two years, I observed a condition of morals that was amazing to one who has spent a lifetime among hard, rugged, single-purposed groups of men away from home and all restraining influences. This condition of morals was, of course, due to the morality of the subordinate leaders—the sergeants, the lieutenants, the captains; enlisted men of the Marine Corps always reflect the character of their immediate leader. With these lads we never had trouble with liquor, with women, with theft, with falsehood, with courage, nor with any one of the problems that come up in large bodies of men in the field. Considering that the quality of home breeding of all Marines is about equal, taking them in groups, there must have been a reason beyond that. There was—and you've guessed it—the great majority of my officers and noncommissioned officers were Scouts. They merely lived 'Scouting' as they had been taught to do, and in so doing set an example that the others followed."

Sulphuric Acid

The first sulphuric acid ever manufactured in the United States was made by John Harrison in Philadelphia in 1793. The plant of Harrison Brothers was taken over by the DuPonts in 1917. More sulphuric acid is produced in this country than any other chemical, since it is practically the basis of the entire chemical industry. In medieval times it was known as "oil of vitriol."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 15.

The Golden Text was, "Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise" (Jer. 17: 14).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease . . . These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, . . . as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give" (Matt. 10: 1, 5, 7, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus established in the Christian era the precedent for all Christianity, theology, and healing. Christians are under as direct orders now, as they were then, to be Christlike, to possess the Christ-spirit, to follow the Christ-example, and to heal the sick as well as the sinning . . . The Christian Scientist has enlisted to lessen evil, disease, and death; and he will overcome them by understanding their nothingness and the allness of God, or good. Sickness to him is no less a temptation than is sin, and he heals them both by understanding God's power over them. The Christian Scientist knows that they are errors of belief, which Truth can and will destroy" (pp. 138,450).

Inspired Heating Stove

From the 11th to the 15th centuries AD., the fireplace and the chimney—as we know them—were developed. But it was not until the end of the latter period that efforts were made to distribute heat through rooms more evenly than was possible with hearth fires. Those attempts eventually led to the invention of the heating stove.

Mrs. Irwin Garms has been quite ill the past week.

American Legion auxiliary notes

Merle Guild Unit No. 208, the American Legion Auxiliary, held a business meeting at Legion hall Tuesday with 14 members present. After the committee reports, with an ever increasing request to please contribute, was taken care of, there was an informal discussion on the coming activities. The Child Welfare chairman, Etta Fitzpatrick, reported sending a birthday card and present to the child sponsored by the Auxiliary.

The Good Will chairman, Laura McElhose, reported sending cards to the sick and those whose birthdays are in April.

After adjournment, the hostesses Millie Russell and Camille Peroutka, served refreshments on a table spread with a paper cover, gay with spring flowers, with a centerpiece of beautiful tulips.

DIVORCED

Gladys D. Bartholomew, Barrington, obtained a divorce from Lester J. Bartholomew, Barrington, and custody of their two children Friday in Lake County circuit court. They were married March 4, 1936 at Geneva. In addition to a divorce and custody of the children she obtained an order awarding her their household furniture and $17.50 a week support for the children.

Farm tools

Manufacturers of a wide variety of farm implements and their many suppliers of parts and materials, are looking forward to the greatest volume of business in their history. The production of agricultural machinery has necessarily been limited during war, and the pent-up demand in this country is augmented by the flood of requests for American tools from all over the world. This record boom in the production of U. S. farm tools will soar over a billion dollars annually, in the opinion of Joseph W. Frazer, chairman of Graham-Paige Motors Corporation, which will market a new line of special agricultural implements.

He said that American industry has the opportunity to play the leading role in "mechanization of global agriculture," because our tractors, bulldozers and machines of war have already done a forceful "advance selling job" in many countries where little mechanical equipment was seen before the war. U. S. machinery manufacturers will be called upon to supply implements to rehabilitate war-devastated regions as soon as possible, Frazer said, as well as to modernize farming methods in other parts of the globe. Demand for new machinery will be strong in this country because many farmers have earmarked part of their war savings for replacement and new-type implements.

Carry the ball

No matter in what vocation or walk of life, a person must carry the ball if he is to perform his duties as a United States citizen. With a world war on, there are plenty of opportunities to carry the ball. This is especially true in the battle of Price Control against Inflation. Every citizen must do his part. We cannot let George do it —AND GET THE JOB DONE.

Right now there is a critical need for volunteers in the price control program. These volunteers are needed as Price Panel Assistants, to aid in surveys in their local community. Such surveys take only a few hours a day once or twice a month. Surely you can devote this much time to holding the line against inflation on the Home Front. None of us want the bitter experience following the First World War, when Inflation was followed by an even more disastrous Deflation. Go to your recruiting station at the local War Price and Rationing Board and ENLIST in THIS WAR WORK TODAY.

14 churches represented at leadership school

The Northwest Suburban Leadership School met in the Methodist Meeting House in Arlington Heights with an attendance of well over 100 persons. There were 14 churches represented and Sunday church school teachers from each of the churches enrolled.

Dr. Melconian fascinated the representative and appreciative group with a modern up-to-date picture of the demand for the bible. He stated that this best seller is being more sought for than any book on the market, that it fills the empty spot caused by the tragedy of our present day world and that it has always been a manual in the hands of people in trouble and distress. He pointed out that it is God's Covenant with His people for over four thousand years.

Next week Dr. Melconian will point out the lurid aspect of man's nature. He said in his preliminary remarks that stories in the Bible could not be sent through the mails, they are so depraved, so full of lust and the vileness of man.

The leaders of the commissions were an inspiration to practical working teachers. Each instructor had an overflow group of avid students. More new students are expected next week.

Miss Dorothy Sodt efficiently handled the large number of persons registering, A. L. Ashcraft assisting her. Miss Ormiston was in charge of the book table and showed interested persons materials that have been developed for true religious education and growth.

The general hour is open to all persons and is led by Dr. Vartan Melconian. It meets Monday at 7:30 p. m. sharp.

About Our Schools

(This is the sixth in a series of articles on schools and school legislation by Superintendent R. E. Clabaugh and Eleanor Milstead).

Have you, as an adult citizen of a great democracy ever thought about the following statements and questions:

The long arm of the federal government reaches into the most remote corners of the nation and summons the best of our youth to the defense of the United States. Does the federal government have any responsibility to support a program of education which will enable them to perform such a duty well?

The heaviest burden of paying for this war will be laid by the federal government upon those who are now the Nation's youth. Does the federal government have any responsibility to support a program of education which will enable them to pay this debt?

The future of the American government—of all that our boys are fighting for—depends upon the ability and loyalty of those who are youth today. Does the federal government have any responsibility to support a program of education which will make America's future secure?

American education faces great responsibilitits with inadequate financial resources and depleted personnel. The schools had not fully recovered from a ten-year economic depression when they were struck by serious difficulties because of the war.

Did You Know That:

More than 280,000 teachers have left the schools since Pearl Harbor. Fifty-five thousand teaching positions have been abolished. Substandard certificates have been increased 2,000 per cent. There are 10,000 classrooms without teachers. There are 7,000,000 children aged 5-17 who are not in school. In our teachers colleges only one-half as many students are preparing to teach as in pre-war days. One-fourth of American teachers are paid less than $1,200 a year. Some pupils are housed in hovels, others in safe, clean, beautiful buildings. Some are taught by nearly illiterate teachers, others by teachers of high competence. School terms vary in length from a few weeks to ten months per year.

Some school systems spend $6000 a year per class-room unit. Others spend less than $100 a year per classroom unit. In a Nation where some school systems spend 60 times as much as others to educate their children, it is no accident that 36% of the adults in one state are for all practical purposes illiterate, while another state has only 4% illiteracy. It is not surprising either that the per capita income in some states is four times that in other states or that in some states two men per hundred registered in the selective service had to be rejected for educational deficiency? While in other states 12 men per hundred were rejected for the same reason.

The states with the least adequate schools are actually spending a larger percent of the income of their people on education than are the states with the best schools.

Educational opportunity in America will always be inadequate and unequal until the federal government participate in the financial support of schools.

The Thomas-Hill-Ramspeck legislation (S. 181 and H. R. 1296) now before Congress, permits the federal government to meet its responsibilities to its future citizens, and reserves control of the schools in the states and local school systems. It expressly forbids to federal officials or agencies control of the schools.

When you urge your senators and legislators to support this bill, keep in mind and before theirs that there were 350,000 registrants in the draft who signed their names with a mark! The education of 1,704,000 men in the selective service is below the minimum standard for induction into the armed forces. Nearly four million men have been rejected because of physical unfitness. The rejectees for educational and physical inadequacy could man the whole Western Front—with many to spare!

Much of this educational and physical unfitness could have been prevented or corrected had sufficient funds been available for the adequate and equalized education of our youth.

Arlington Jr. women offer marionette show May 6

The Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club is again presenting the George C. Cole family and their marionettes. All who missed the show last year will want to see it this year. Those who attended last year will also want to come again because there will be an entirely new show given.

The Cole family will be in Arlington Heights Saturday, May 6, at the Recreation Park Field House. This year there will be three performances given at 1:30 p. m., 3:00 p. m. and 4:30 p. m. Tickets will be on sale at school for 30c, tax included.

Early purchase of tickets is urged. Only a limited amount will be sold at the door.

New officers take over at local PTA

The new officers of the Arlington Heights Garden Club took over the reins at the last meeting and were well received. C. A. Hughes, new president, went through the club business in a concise and humorous fashion. Mrs. Chas. Doellefield, secretary, Mrs. Paul Patrick, treasurer, also showed ability in their respective offices.

To add variety to the evening some of the members brought special arrangements and bouquets of flowers. Mrs. Doellefield's contribution was a large arrangement of rock garden flowers which was remarkable in that it included so many varieties for this time of year. Mrs. Ira Parker furnished a stunning arrangement of magnolia blooms.

The speaker for the evening was Mr. Mollenhouse. His talk on the best varieties of vegetables for the amateur to grow, was very interesting, as well as instructive.

14 churches represented at leadership school

The Northwest Suburban Leadership School met in the Methodist Meeting House in Arlington Heights with an attendance of well over 100 persons. There were 14 churches represented and Sunday church school teachers from each of the churches enrolled.

Dr. Melconian fascinated the representative and appreciative group with a modern up-to-date picture of the demand for the bible. He stated that this best seller is being more sought for than any book on the market, that it fills the empty spot caused by the tragedy of our present day world and that it has always been a manual in the hands of people in trouble and distress. He pointed out that it is God's Covenant with His people for over four thousand years.

Next week Dr. Melconian will point out the lurid aspect of man's nature. He said in his preliminary remarks that stories in the Bible could not be sent through the mails, they are so depraved, so full of lust and the vileness of man.

The leaders of the commissions were an inspiration to practical working teachers. Each instructor had an overflow group of avid students. More new students are expected next week.

Miss Dorothy Sodt efficiently handled the large number of persons registering, A. L. Ashcraft assisting her. Miss Ormiston was in charge of the book table and showed interested persons materials that have been developed for true religious education and growth.

The general hour is open to all persons and is led by Dr. Vartan Melconian. It meets Monday at 7:30 p. m. sharp.

New officers for girl scout troop

On April 16 new officers elected by G. S. troop No. 5 were Elaine Duenn, president; Ruth Teutsch, vice president; Virginia Koeppen, secretary; Barbara Lyons, treasurer; Diane Rowland, scribe, and Ruth Havranek, librarian.

Camp talk is the important subject to all scouts at this time.

Alice Siemro, scribe.

Mrs. Howard Turner of Roselle took a group of her friends, including Mrs. Elmer Buesing and Mrs. Ken Milstead of Arlington Heights, to Little Travelers in Geneva Tuesday.

Public generous in clothing for refugees

Those who cast their votes in the Arlington Heights village hall Tuesday evening were convinced that Arlington people have been generous in gifts of clothing for war refugees. A mountain-like size of clothing fills one corner of the council chamber.

Mrs. Coleman, local chairman, asks that those who have not yet given their castoff clothing do so this week end. The clothing will be sorted and boxed next week for shipment. She will need more volunteers to help in the sorting and classification of the clothing. Those who are willing to volunteer for such service can leave their telephone number with the desk sergeant at the police station and they will be notified the hours that the work will be done. "Even a few hours will be of great assistance," says Mrs. Coleman.

Much of the clothing has many more months or years of wear and it will be the job of the packers to classify it in a manner that will enable it to be delivered directly to the places where it is most needed.

Type of clothing needed

What is needed is good substantial used clothing, for both winter and summer wear. Although clothing need not be in perfect repair, it must be useful to the people who will receive it. Underclothing and all types of cotton garments should be washed before they are donated, but need not be ironed. (Evening dresses, tuxedos and dress suits cannot be used).

Where clothes will be sent

The donated garments will be shipped to the war-devastated countries on the basis of the greatest immediate need and available shipping space. The clothing will be distributed free to the needy without discrimination of any kind. The Far East will be included, in the event conditions are such as to permit distribution of clothing collected in this drive. This includes the Philippines.

PTA program scores smash hit

Singer, speaker, pastel pictures rate 'tops'

When a single evening at the North School includes a top notch singer, a speaker who produces both thought and reflective laughter, and an exhibit of seventh and eighth grade pictures in pastel that a good many members of the audience would like to own, I think this parent-reporter may be forgiven for lapsing, in her enthusiasm and gratitude into use of the journalistically frowned upon personal pronoun to say I think it was inspirational and thrilling and wonderful.

I don't know much about music, but Mrs. Robert Malcolm's voice accompanied by Mrs. Albert Dick's piano playing can have my movie and ice-cream-soda money any evening in the week. I was impressed with the Aria from an opera by Verdi and enjoyed the number from Grieg—Johann, but Annie Laurie, beautifully and simply sung touched my heart. None of us wanted the songs stopped, and our applause won a lilting encore—Laughing Boy.

It is now 12:10 a. m. I have looked over the eight pages of notes I took tonight on Viggo Bovjerg's outline of A Philosophy for Democratic Living. He said so many important things, it is hard to select the few I can tell you about. You see, Mr. Bovjerg has done a lot of thinking—also a lot of translation of his thought into action. He's a teacher at the National College of Education. He worked with returned veterans in the first world war and he's putting what he learned then into practice in his experiences with this war's returned fighters at Great Lakes. The crystallization and telescoping of his thought and work—well—it packs a wallop. You sit on the edge of your seat. You watch his face and you think too.

Here are some of the things that he said. He said that real Democracy, which so far has not existed in this world will come only as a result of the peace of mind of the individuals who create it. He said that learning to make something with your hands was salvation of mind and conservation of civilization. Oh, I'm not using the dynamic words he used. He said so much, I can't. He said that fear and its sublimation and subjagation are the essence of man's supremacy. He said that we should all use our minds as they are for the purpose of all good. He said that if schools are to carry on for democratic driving they must inject enthusiasm for learning how to learn. One of the last things he said was that Americans should be a people who are not able to sleep because of the anxiety of achievement. His description of the tremendous role that creative work plays in the reclamation of sick minds was something none of us teachers or parents will soon forget.

And then besides Mrs. Malcolm and Mr. Bovjerg we faced as we listened to them an outlay of pictures that made us want to write eulogies to Miss Tully who has seen and brought forth the glory of productive ability that our sons and daughters own.

Five of the fifteen pastel drawings which were made as entries in the Woman's Club contest "Beauty in Illinois" were selected to be sent to the Sherman Hotel from whence they may, some of them, travel to the state contest. Those five were:

Chicago at Night by Gloria Cherwin; Screened Sunset by Taylor Lewis Jr.; Spring is Here by Paul Mueller; Lake Michigan Fury by Shirley Dodge; and Golden Grain by Elroy Wilke.

I wanted to own some of those pictures, some of the fifteen. They were all good. My favorite was not one of the five listed above. It was a drawing by George Palmer called Looking Out Our Kitchen Door. George has shown so much with a few unentangled lines and colors.

Mary Freeman, Dawn Niemeyer, Roy Reindl, Rae Chidley, Nancy Jane Bowman, Gordon Busse, Norman Held, Patricia Boyles, Jeanine Burneis, Ronald Hill and Laura Fritz are the other young artists. As Gabriel Church Kitten said to Peter Church Mouse, " I could go on and on." But it is now 1 a. m. I'll stop after I tell you that the Pledge of Allegiance was led by two Girl Scouts who are also 4-H'ers and the coffee and cake were furnished by the North School fourth grade and the South School second grade; the fifth grade at the South School and grade 7-1 at the North School won the attendance records.

Everyone in Arlington Heights should have been there. Our P. T. A. is really something to be proud of. From now on I'll try to leave the personal pronoun out of my articles, but you can see why I didn't this time, can't you?

Lutheran ladies to meet Thursday

The Ladies Aid of the Arlington Heights St. Peter Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon, April 19, in the parish building at two o'clock for a social afternoon. The Stanley Brush Co. will give a demonstration.

Games will be played, prizes given and lunch will be served. There will be no admission charge. Everyone is welcome.

Rummage sale

A rummage sale sponsored by Arlington Heights Chapter O. E. S. will be held in the Presbyterian hall Saturday, April 21. Doors will be open at 9 a. m.

St. James women to meet Tuesday

The St. James Catholic Women's Guild will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening, April 24, in the St. James school hall.

This will be a Mother and Daughter party. A special program in charge of Mrs. Ann Murran, has been planned. Refreshments will be served.

CARD PARTY

The Arlington Heights V. F. W. will hold a benefit card party in the village hall Wednesday evening, April 25, at 8:00 o'clock. There will be an attractive prize for each table. Refreshments will be served. Tickets are 50 cents.

District women's music festival next Wednesday

The Woman's club chorus of the Seventh district will present their annual festival of music Wednesday, April 25, at the Norwood Park Presbyterian church, Nina and Nicolet avenues, at 8:15 o'clock. An exceptionally fine program will be presented with the well-known baritone, Bruce Foote, and pianist, Clair Omar Musser, as guest artists.

The chorus is composed of members from the various clubs in the Seventh Congressional District of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, with Mrs. Sebre M. Baldwin director, Mrs. E. V. Essington pianist and Mrs. Robert Jackson organist. They have sung together for nearly fifteen years, appearing at many club, district and state meetings, as well as at the General Federation national conventions.

Church honors FDR

As a fitting tribute to the President, a brief memorial service was held in both services at the Arlington Heights St. Peter Lutheran church Sunday morning. A similar service was held in the parish school Friday at 11:30 a. m. and classes were dismissed at noon.

Mrs. George A. Sharp left on the "Southwind" Wednesday, Apr. 18 to join her husband at Thomasville, Ga., where he is now stationed at the Finney General hospital.

Just Around the Corner

Dear Mary:

Our heads bowed very low last week, and our hearts are still heavy. It seems to me that even those who fought Franklin Roosevelt tooth and claw and ballot and were far from tears Thursday must even so be destitute of words with which to deny his stature.

I have always liked Edwin Markham's Lincoln poem and despite the physical and environmental differences between the two great men the last six lines fit my personal grief.

He Held his place—
Held the long purpose like a growing tree—
Held on through blame and faltered not at praise.
And when he fell in whirlwind, he went down
As when a lordly cedar, green with boughs,
Goes down with a great shout upon the hills,
And leaves a lonesome place against the sky.

Mary, it looks as if this must be almost my last letter to you for some time. I'll be in the six-cylinder scurry that moving always means even under the most favorable conditions. We are headed back to Cincinnati by the first of June. Thank heaven we have a house there. What in the world would we do without friends. So often ours have remembered their own difficulties and translated them into help for us when we need a hand up the house-hunting hill.

Moving before has been to me an adventure—a conjecture and a wondering about what splendid people I shall next have the joy of meeting. It has meant fun trying my luck again with my old furniture in new surroundings, fun in seeing new visions and figuring out new situations. This time I do not want to go. I shall try to tell you why in my next letter to you.

Recently Ken brought me the March Scientific Monthly. He had appreciatively marked for my attention in the Comments and Criticisms the following paragraphs signed—Old Hi Ho.

TO HONORABLE WRITERS

Old saying is, everybody tells everybody else how to do everything. New saying is same thing. Writers in Scientific Monthly tell how win war, how cure sick, how kill Germans, how keep peace, how save food, how teach young, how poison bugs, how go fast, how make rubber, how keep soil, how get seaweed, how do everything. How come when everybody read everything that everybody tell how to do, everything stay bad?

Well, Confucius, say, "think first, keep still second, count thousand times, take a little sleep, smoke a long pipe, tell self take it easy—and everything be all right." So stop tell people how do this, how do that, how think, how eat, how catch fish, how cross ocean, how hot on sun, how everything. Tell self what not do. Tell self stop eat too much, stop tell lies, stop hate people, stop love money, stop keep up with Mrs. Jones, stop write dam fool words for Scientific Monthly. Tell self what do. Tell self enjoy sunshine, see blue sky, look bright stars, hear little wind in trees, watch birds build nests, love little children, turn eyes toward heaven. Put on white pages Scientific Monthly pictures oceans and mountains and green grass and big trees and waterfalls and yellow fields of grain and waving corn and houses covered with vines and children playing in yards. Then everything all right, big rainbow in sky and song in heart.

I think old Hi Ho had something here don't you?

With love, Elly.

'Bundles' card party May 16

Residents of Arlington Heights have a date at the Field House Wednesday evening, May 16, when the Bundles for America unit sponsors another of their ever-popular card parties. There will be novel prizes for each table.

Tickets can be purchased from any Bundles member, or from Mrs. Nicholas Mayer, Arl. Hts. 1369. 60 cents admission includes tax. Refreshments of cake and coffee will be served. Mrs. John Shanklin is in charge of arrangements.

Well, Confucius, say, "think first, keep still second, count thousand times, take a little sleep, smoke a long pipe, tell self take it easy—and everything be all right." So stop tell people how do this, how do that, how think, how eat, how catch fish, how cross ocean, how hot on sun, how everything. Tell self what not do. Tell self stop eat too much, stop tell lies, stop hate people, stop love money, stop keep up with Mrs. Jones, stop write dam fool words for Scientific Monthly. Tell self what do. Tell self enjoy sunshine, see blue sky, look bright stars, hear little wind in trees, watch birds build nests, love little children, turn eyes toward heaven. Put on white pages Scientific Monthly pictures oceans and mountains and green grass and big trees and waterfalls and yellow fields of grain and waving corn and houses covered with vines and children playing in yards. Then everything all right, big rainbow in sky and song in heart.

I think old Hi Ho had something here don't you?

With love, Elly.

'Bundles' card party May 16

Household chemicals do most damage to clothes

Why do fabrics die before their time? In view of the present scarcity of sheets, pillow cases, towels, and other household fabrics, the American Institute of Laundering has tested some 30 household chemical preparations for their reaction on various fabrics. The test brought out several important facts not readily recognized by women.

Porcelain cleaners, battery acids, bleaches, liquid type of deodorants, styptic powders (with alum content), and pharmaceuticals all proved dangerous to cottons, silks, and synthetic fibers. Any one of them can weaken or cause holes in fabrics. Many housewives have experienced this type of damage by unknowingly abusing their linens.

One housewife had this experience. When taken out of storage and laundered for one of those "special occasions," two of her fine linen damask banquet cloths fell apart. What mysterious power was responsible?

The two laundered cloths were sent to the Institute's laboratories along with the third cloth which had been stored with the originals, but not laundered. The research experts found a high content of acid sulphate present in all three cloths . . . an acid that constitues as much as 80% of a porcelain cleaner. Upon further investigation the housewife remembered spilling a can of such a cleaner on the linens.

Similar types of damage occur when household linens are carelessly used or when they are saturated with strong bleaches and other cleansing agents containing chemicals injurious to fabrics.

"In these cases, as in many others," said George H. Johnson, General Manager of the Institute, "the damage is not always apparent immediately. The fabric may be used and laundered several times before the damage shows up, or the deterioration may be so vigorous that it might cause holes to show up within a few hours after contact."

So, in order to take better care of those sheets, towels, and table cloths—those out-for-the-duration necessities—warns the Laundry Institute, treat your linens with utmost care. Don't use them for cleaning jobs which saturate the fibers with injurious home cleaning preparations — while non-injurious for the purpose for which they are designed, they are "death" to textiles. Use them for what they were intended—and only for that.

Contrary to the popular belief, tuberculosis may strike young children, even infants.

You have probably heard it said: "But our child is too little to have tuberculosis." Unfortunately, that is not true. The disease is not uncommon even among tiny babies, in which case it usually proves fatal because of the intensity and rapidity of its attack on the very young.

Exposure of infants to tubercle bacilli by ignorance or carelessness on the part of a person who has the adult type of tuberculosis may bring about the quick spreading of the disease known as military tuberculosis, or "galloping consumption." This is a candition which is difficult to treat since the germs attack many parts of the child's body at once. Tuberculous meningitis, another killer, likewise occurs most often in babies or children.

Usually in children a little older, "adult type" tuberculosis occurs, where infection lodges in the lung following prolonged exposure to the disease.

How can the danger of tuberculosis be minimized among children? There are five rules every wise parent should follow:

1. Make certain that your child does not live with or near anyone known to have active tuberculosis.
2. Keep your child away from crowds where infection may occur.
3. Be sure that your child has plenty of pasteurized milk to drink from a reputable source.
4. Be sure—don't just guess—that your child gets health-building foods of all kinds and sufficient sleep to help him ward off tuberculosis and preserve general good health.
5. Remember—each member of your family should have a chest x-ray once a year to be sure he is free from tuberculosis.

Nurses needed in veterans hospitals

The Civil Service Commission is launching a new drive to secure nurses for essential war service in Veterans Administration Hospitals and in other Federal hospitals. In a new folder entitled "Serve Those Who Served," just released by the Commission, the need for nurses to care for the war wounded is emphasized.

The shortage of nurses in Veterans Administration Hospitals is particularly acute. Approximately 2,000 nurses are needed immediately to aid in caring for wounded servicemen and women who still require hospitalization after they have been discharged from the military service.

Civilian nurses are also needed in Army hospitals to replace the Army nurses who have gone overseas, and in U. S. Public Health Service Hospitals to care for war casualties of the Coast Guard, the Merchant Marine, the Army Engineer Corps, and the Army Transport Service.

To qualify for a nursing position in a Veterans Administration Hospital, applicants must have graduated from a recognized school of nursing, and be registered in a State or Territory, or in the District of Columbia. There are no age limits. The entrance salary is $2,190 a year for Graduate Nurse positions. Some appointments are made to positions paying $1,970 a year, but after six months' training successfully completed, nurses may be promoted to positions paying $2,190.

The Commission's new folder sets forth some of the advantages for nurses in the Veterans Administration Hospitals. All nurses who may be available for this important work are urged to write at once to the Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., for a copy of the folder "Serve Those Who Served."

Vegetables

You can tell that springtime has really arrived in the Midwest when the first homegrown vegetables start coming to market. The War Food Administration reports that green onions from Illinois and Indiana are to be found on some local food counters this week, and Southern Illinois is sending fresh green asparagus. There is also some outdoor grown rhubarb from Illinois, and a little early spinach.

Of course, locally-grown vegetables are a very small percentage of our market supplies at Chicago at this time of the year. It is too late for much storage stock, and it is still too early for many outdoor grown new vegetables. We do, however, have some homegrown sweet potatoes, parsnips, and a few beets, carrots, and turnips left, which are home-grown, and quite a few dry onions for this time of year.

Practically all of our vegetable supplies are now coming from the sunny South and West, mostly from Texas, Louisiana, California, and Arizona. This week, cabbage shipments have picked up, and supplies are rather liberal, with prices at quite moderate levels. Carrot supplies are rather moderate, and prices have been edging higher on this item. The price trend on the best quality celery has also been upward. However, with increased arrivals of asparagus, especially from California, this succulent spring item can be had at lower prices than have been possible so far this season.

There's not very much in the way of lettuce or cucumbers, and these are selling at ceiling levels. More green peppers on the market have made possible somewhat more favorable prices on this commodity, especially on the smaller sizes and lower grades. Young beets are "hard to beat" at this time of the year, as they're tender and of good quality and a pretty good buy. There is also good news in the liberal shipments of tomatoes this week, although best quality are priced rather high.

There are not enough strawberries to meet the demand, and ceiling prices prevail. Outside of a few pears, pineapples, grapes and avocados—apples, oranges and grapefruit are having it all their own way at the fruit counters.

SUES FOR $50,000

Edna Roscoe has sued the American Coach Co. in Superior court for $50,000 damages for injuries she claims to have sustained while a passenger in one of their coaches February 24. She says she boarded a coach in Chicago to ride to Glenview. On Linden ave., near Major ave., in Morton Grove, she says the coach left the road and she was knocked down to the floor of the vehicle and seriously injured.

FASHIONS

For an active life, the two-piece crease-resistant rayon gabardine, shown above as pictured in the April issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, is ideal outfit.

Slobolt

A new summer leaf lettuce called slobolt has been announced by the Department of Agriculture, and is already being increased by seed growers to make it available to gardeners. It will be listed in the 1946 seed catalogues. This new lettuce withstands midsummer temperatures without quickly shooting or "bolting" to seed. If plants are set 10 to 12 inches apart and only the basal leaves are used as they reach a desirable size, lettuce may be harvested from the same plants over a period of several weeks, making it a very desirable home-garden variety. Slobolt has frilled light-green leaves that have the very wrinkled effect described as savoyed. The plants are of moderate size and the seeds are black.

More farm gas

The nation's food growers will get extra gasoline for non-highway use during the second quarter of 1945, says PAW. Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes has announced the allocation of 1,276,000 barrels of automotive gasoline a day for U. S. Civilian consumption in the second quarter of 1945, comprising the months of April, May and June. Compared with the quantity of gasoline made available to civilians in the corresponding quarter of 1944, the new allocation is 19,000 barrels a day greater, the additional fuel being assigned to the War Food Administration for farm use. Commenting on this, Deputy Administrator Davies said: "The quantity of gasoline required for non-highway farm use always rises sharply in the second quarter to provide fuel for spring plowing, cultivating and planting, and we have provided for that increase as usual. This year we were asked for an unusually large quantity, with the explanation that it was hoped to enlarge the productive farm acreage of our country by about 10,000 acres. There has been an increase in the number of tractors added to the nation's farm equipment, and we are informed that plans have been worked out to run all tractors 20 percent more hours per day."

Farm real estate

The average index value per acre of Farm Real Estate (1912-1914, index value 100) for the United States as a whole was 126 on March 1, 1945, representing a rise of 11 per cent during the last year, and 5 per cent during the preceding four months, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Values rose 15 per cent during the year ended in March, 1944, and 21 per cent in 1919-1920, when the peak of the World War I boom was reached. Values have now advanced at an average rate of one per cent a month for four years. The rise for the 1941-45 period is 85 per cent of the increase for the four-year period 1916-1920. During the year average values increased 15 per cent or more in nine states, and 10 per cent or more in 26 states. The increase during the year equalled or exceeded the record increases of 1919-1920 in five states.

Conventions

The ban on conventions is less than two months old, but from the day of its birth, it has packed a husky wallop. As enforced by ODT's Col. J. Monroe Johnson, the convention ban already has struck a heavy blow at the earning power of American hotels, according to a nationwide survey made by J. E. Frawley, president of the American Hotel Association.

Kansas City hotelmen estimate the ban will cost them $547,000 this year in revenues: Montana hostelries guess their loss at $1,200,000; Wyoming bobs up with a $1,000,000 figure, while the innkeepers of New Mexico claim their revenues will drop $250,000.

Within the first few weeks of the new order, the ODT looked over 400 applications for conventions. Of these only fifteen were allowed.

Butter

The War Food Administration has fixed the butter set-aside quota (amount of butter put aside for government purchase) for April at 40 percent of production, and for May at 55 percent of production. Previously, during February and March, the set-aside percentages were 20 and 25 percent respectively. Efforts are being made to maintain butter production and to keep the available supplies flowing into trade channels on a fairly even monthly basis. During April and May quantities of creamery butter for civilians will be about 80,000,000 pounds as compared with an average of about 82,000,000 pounds during February and March.

Old cartons

In the wake of the greater home front conservation demand implicit in the War Production Board's recent order further reducing the use of new paperboard containers, one of the nation's largest producers of war alcohol, Schenlly Disillers corporation, is intensifying on a 45-state basis its carton salvage program which last year netted a saving of nearly 21,000,000 pounds of shipping containers.

In terms of materials released for transport overseas, the cartons recovered and returned to use by the company during 1944, according to Carl J. Kiefer, vice president, represented the replacement of sufficient paperboard for the manufacture of 8,000,000 75 mm. artillery shell casings, and an additional 32,500,000 Army "K" ration packages. Under the program, corrugated pads, liners and partitions, as well as cartons, are collected from wholesalers and retailers and returned to regional plants for reconditioning and eventual reuse. Material that is torn or damaged beyond possibility of repair at Schenley plants is routed to scrap dealers and paper mills. High point of the 1944 campaign, Kiefer said, was reached in the company's Lawrenceburg, Indiana, plant, where during one 30-day period, 85 per cent of all outgoing shipments were packed in reconditioned cartons.

Canning sugar

The Office of Price Administration says there will be enough sugar to preserve as much fruit as was actually "put up" in our homes last year. The same amount of sugar (700,000 tons) has been set aside this year for home canning as was set aside last year. Last year, however, 300,000 tons more sugar than the total amount allocated for home canning was bought by housewives. A large part of this sugar was bought with stamp 40, the home canning stamp, and much of it was used for ordinary household purposes. In 1945 no stamps will be validated for canning sugar. Housewives will be given sugar coupons for home canning by their local boards. Each housewife's home canning sugar alotment will be based on the amount of canning she did last year and the amount she plans to do this year. She will be allowed up to a maximum of 20 pounds per person, or 160 pounds to a single family, even though the family may contain more than eight persons.

Tires

Apparently we haven't even yet "turned the corner" on the rubber crisis, in spite of the miracle of synthetic rubber production — scheduled to reach a million tons this year. The problem of keeping essential traffic rolling will be actually tougher this summer than ever. The reason is that military demands are still soaring, and shortages of carbon black and other materials used in tire manufacture further complicate the situation.

Joseph A. Hoban, tire division merchandise manager of the B. F. Goodrich company, in a talk in Cleveland the other day cited estimates that 46 million passenger car tires need replacement or recapping, but that the total of all new and recapped passenger car tires that can be made available this year will probably be less than 35 million—only three-fourths of the tires needed right now! The 46 million estimate was based on an examination of autos in war-plant parking areas. Four-fifths of all war workers go to and from work in private autos.

Cows improve

The well-rounded program of the Dairy Improvement Associations, begun in a small way 40 years ago, is each year now showing wider results, says Secretary of Agriculture, Claude R. Wickard. Effects of the use of proved sires are especially significant, resulting as they do in a healthy rise of the average milk production of all the daughters of proved bulls instead of outstanding milk production records of just a few individuals. Last year the average production for all of the nation's 26 million dairy cows was less than 4,600 lbs. of milk; for the half million cows of the Improvement Association herds it was 8,300 lbs. With the increased interest in record keeping and the rapid development of artificial insemination, we can look forward to continuing increases in dairy cow efficiency. At Boltsville, for example, the U.S.D.A. has some proved Holstein bulls all of whose daughters average over 20,000 lbs. of milk and over 800 pounds of butterfat a year.

Questions and answers on service to veterans

Question: May I obtain, under the G. I. Bill of Rights, a loan to buy an automobile?

Answer: Yes, if the automobile is necessary and is to be used in the conduct of your business or your farming occupation. For example, a veteran may buy an automobile to be used as a taxicab, or a truck for hauling purposes.

Question: I received an honorable discharge from the Army just before Pearl Harbor. Am I considered a veteran of World War II, and entitled to all the benefits of a World War II veteran?

Answer: Yes. All persons in active service of the armed forces subsequent to September 16, 1940, and who were discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable, are considered World War II veterans.

Question: I am 38 years old and recently discharged from the Army. I understand honorably discharged men can obtain homestead rights in Alaska. Where can I obtain information about Alaska homestead rights?

Answer: Homestead rights in Alaska are open to a dischargee over 21 years of age, or the head of a family, and not the owner of more than 160 acres of land in the United States. Homestead information may be obtained from the General Land Office, Washington D. C., or from the District Land Offices at Anchorage, Fairbanks, or Nome, Alaska.

Question: What agencies or organizations will assist veterans in filing claims for disability compensation?

Answer: Any veteran desiring a service officer to act as his representative in appearances before rating boards, etc., must give power of attorney to an authorized representative of one of the following organizations:

American Legion.
Disabled American Veterans.
Military Order of the Purple Heart.
United Spanish War Veterans.
Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Milk

Milk production on farms during 1945 is expected to be at least as large as the 1944 output of 119 billion pounds, says the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Milk cows on farms January 1, 1945, totaled 27,785,000 head, or 129,000 more than on January 1, 1944. Returns to dairy farmers, because of higher production payment rates for butterfat, probably will average higher in 1945 than in 1944. Also dairy products-feed price ratios will continue favorable to milk producers with the 1924-1943 average.

Business drops

Industrial activity rose in February and March, says the Federal Reserve Board. But the Board's production index, at 235, is down from 244 in February of 1944. Decline in shipbuilding is one cause for the drop . . . Quicksilver mines, which had been having their own little depression, are busy again. The Army's new mercury battery, compact but powerful, has spurred demand for mercury . . . Soap manufacturers, worried over the shortage of fats and oils, are giving the fat salvage drive a renewed boost.

IN MEMORIAM

SMART, SARAH F.

In loving memory of my mother who passed away one year ago, April 21, 1944.

Deep in my heart lies a picture
of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame I shall keep it,
Because she was one of the best.
Loving daughter,
Mrs. Earl McNeely.

OBITUARIES

Arthur Jensen

Arthur Jensen, former resident of Palatine, passed away Wednesday, April 11, in Ludington, Mich.

He was born in Denmark Dec. 12, 1882, and upon graduation from the University of Denmark, came to this country and settled in Chicago. In 1916 he married Marie Petersen of Ludington, Mich.

Mr. Jensen was employed by the Chicago Surface Lines and held his position with them for 26 years.

The surviving members of his family are his wife, Marie, and three sons, Major Wm. A. Jensen, Ensign Robert E. Jensen and T-Sgt. Howard J. Jensen, all of whom are on active duty overseas. One grandson, Robert Eugene Jensen, Jr., also survives, as do one brother, Laurits Jensen of Stanwood, Mich., and four sisters, two of whom live in Denmark.

Funeral services were held Saturday, April 14, in Ludington. Burial was in the family lot in South Victory cemetery.

Mrs. Anna Karner

Mrs. Anna Karner, mother of Mrs. Fritz Weidig, of Prospect Heights, died at the home of her daughter Monday after a week's illness. The funeral was held Thursday morning at Lauterburg & Oehler chapel, Arlington Heights with the Rev. Kepper officiating. Cremation followed at Acacia.

Deceased, Anna Lincke, was born in Germany January 8, 1865, where she married Carl Karner in 1891. A son and a daughter were born to them. Mr. Karner died in 1897. Following the coming to America of her son, Mrs. Karner and her daughter followed in 1926, settling in Chicago, which was their home until a year ago.

MARY K. MARSCHALL

In memory of our dear mother and grandmother who passed away six years ago today. We will never forget you.
Daughter and Grandchildren.

Mrs. Elizabeth Guild

Mrs. Elizabeth Guild, who had been a resident of Arlington Heights a great many years, passed away Thursday, April 12 at her home, 306 North Vail after an illness of only two days. Funeral services were held Sunday at the Lauterburg & Oehler chapel, Rev. Jordan of Park Ridge Community church officiating. Burial was on the family lot in Arlington Heights cemetery.

Deceased leaves one son, Bruce, of Park Ridge, and four grandchildren. A daughter and two sons preceded her in death. One son, Merle, a veteran of World War I, died in 1920 for whom Merle Guild Post of the American Legion was named.

Mrs. Guild, nee Anderson, was born November 14, 1859, in Constantine, Michigan. She was united in marriage to Reuben Guild in Huron, So. Dakota in 1885. Fifteen years later, the family came to Arlington Heights, occupying the Reuben Guild farm, in the northwestern part of the village until 1920. This farm was later subdivided. Mr. Guild died in September, 1927.

Mrs. Guild was a member of the Presbyterian church from the time of her girlhood and until recent years took an active intrest in the women's organizations. She had seen her home town advance from a few hundred inhabitants to a young city and she took great pride in its growth.

CARD OF THANKS

Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. For the beautiful service, floral offerings, and other kindnesses, we are deeply grateful.
Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf and family and Louis.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear brother, Wilmer C. Paquette, who passed away on April 17, one year ago.
Mrs. Gordon Haskins.

Household chemicals do most damage to clothes

Why do fabrics die before their time? In view of the present scarcity of sheets, pillow cases, towels, and other household fabrics, the American Institute of Laundering has tested some 30 household chemical preparations for their reaction on various fabrics. The test brought out several important facts not readily recognized by women.

Porcelain cleaners, battery acids, bleaches, liquid type of deodorants, styptic powders (with alum content), and pharmaceuticals all proved dangerous to cottons, silks, and synthetic fibers. Any one of them can weaken or cause holes in fabrics. Many housewives have experienced this type of damage by unknowingly abusing their linens.

One housewife had this experience. When taken out of storage and laundered for one of those "special occasions," two of her fine linen damask banquet cloths fell apart. What mysterious power was responsible?

The two laundered cloths were sent to the Institute's laboratories along with the third cloth which had been stored with the originals, but not laundered. The research experts found a high content of acid sulphate present in all three cloths . . . an acid that constitues as much as 80% of a porcelain cleaner. Upon further investigation the housewife remembered spilling a can of such a cleaner on the linens.

Similar types of damage occur when household linens are carelessly used or when they are saturated with strong bleaches and other cleansing agents containing chemicals injurious to fabrics.

"In these cases, as in many others," said George H. Johnson, General Manager of the Institute, "the damage is not always apparent immediately. The fabric may be used and laundered several times before the damage shows up, or the deterioration may be so vigorous that it might cause holes to show up within a few hours after contact."

So, in order to take better care of those sheets, towels, and table cloths—those out-for-the-duration necessities—warns the Laundry Institute, treat your linens with utmost care. Don't use them for cleaning jobs which saturate the fibers with injurious home cleaning preparations — while non-injurious for the purpose for which they are designed, they are "death" to textiles. Use them for what they were intended—and only for that.

Contrary to the popular belief, tuberculosis may strike young children, even infants.

You have probably heard it said: "But our child is too little to have tuberculosis." Unfortunately, that is not true. The disease is not uncommon even among tiny babies, in which case it usually proves fatal because of the intensity and rapidity of its attack on the very young.

Exposure of infants to tubercle bacilli by ignorance or carelessness on the part of a person who has the adult type of tuberculosis may bring about the quick spreading of the disease known as military tuberculosis, or "galloping consumption." This is a candition which is difficult to treat since the germs attack many parts of the child's body at once. Tuberculous meningitis, another killer, likewise occurs most often in babies or children.

Usually in children a little older, "adult type" tuberculosis occurs, where infection lodges in the lung following prolonged exposure to the disease.

How can the danger of tuberculosis be minimized among children? There are five rules every wise parent should follow:

1. Make certain that your child does not live with or near anyone known to have active tuberculosis.
2. Keep your child away from crowds where infection may occur.
3. Be sure that your child has plenty of pasteurized milk to drink from a reputable source.
4. Be sure—don't just guess—that your child gets health-building foods of all kinds and sufficient sleep to help him ward off tuberculosis and preserve general good health.
5. Remember—each member of your family should have a chest x-ray once a year to be sure he is free from tuberculosis.

Nurses needed in veterans hospitals

The Civil Service Commission is launching a new drive to secure nurses for essential war service in Veterans Administration Hospitals and in other Federal hospitals. In a new folder entitled "Serve Those Who Served," just released by the Commission, the need for nurses to care for the war wounded is emphasized.

The shortage of nurses in Veterans Administration Hospitals is particularly acute. Approximately 2,000 nurses are needed immediately to aid in caring for wounded servicemen and women who still require hospitalization after they have been discharged from the military service.

Civilian nurses are also needed in Army hospitals to replace the Army nurses who have gone overseas, and in U. S. Public Health Service Hospitals to care for war casualties of the Coast Guard, the Merchant Marine, the Army Engineer Corps, and the Army Transport Service.

To qualify for a nursing position in a Veterans Administration Hospital, applicants must have graduated from a recognized school of nursing, and be registered in a State or Territory, or in the District of Columbia. There are no age limits. The entrance salary is $2,190 a year for Graduate Nurse positions. Some appointments are made to positions paying $1,970 a year, but after six months' training successfully completed, nurses may be promoted to positions paying $2,190.

The Commission's new folder sets forth some of the advantages for nurses in the Veterans Administration Hospitals. All nurses who may be available for this important work are urged to write at once to the Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., for a copy of the folder "Serve Those Who Served."

Vegetables

You can tell that springtime has really arrived in the Midwest when the first homegrown vegetables start coming to market. The War Food Administration reports that green onions from Illinois and Indiana are to be found on some local food counters this week, and Southern Illinois is sending fresh green asparagus. There is also some outdoor grown rhubarb from Illinois, and a little early spinach.

Of course, locally-grown vegetables are a very small percentage of our market supplies at Chicago at this time of the year. It is too late for much storage stock, and it is still too early for many outdoor grown new vegetables. We do, however, have some homegrown sweet potatoes, parsnips, and a few beets, carrots, and turnips left, which are home-grown, and quite a few dry onions for this time of year.

Practically all of our vegetable supplies are now coming from the sunny South and West, mostly from Texas, Louisiana, California, and Arizona. This week, cabbage shipments have picked up, and supplies are rather liberal, with prices at quite moderate levels. Carrot supplies are rather moderate, and prices have been edging higher on this item. The price trend on the best quality celery has also been upward. However, with increased arrivals of asparagus, especially from California, this succulent spring item can be had at lower prices than have been possible so far this season.

There's not very much in the way of lettuce or cucumbers, and these are selling at ceiling levels. More green peppers on the market have made possible somewhat more favorable prices on this commodity, especially on the smaller sizes and lower grades. Young beets are "hard to beat" at this time of the year, as they're tender and of good quality and a pretty good buy. There is also good news in the liberal shipments of tomatoes this week, although best quality are priced rather high.

There are not enough strawberries to meet the demand, and ceiling prices prevail. Outside of a few pears, pineapples, grapes and avocados—apples, oranges and grapefruit are having it all their own way at the fruit counters.

SUES FOR $50,000

Edna Roscoe has sued the American Coach Co. in Superior court for $50,000 damages for injuries she claims to have sustained while a passenger in one of their coaches February 24. She says she boarded a coach in Chicago to ride to Glenview. On Linden ave., near Major ave., in Morton Grove, she says the coach left the road and she was knocked down to the floor of the vehicle and seriously injured.

FASHIONS

For an active life, the two-piece crease-resistant rayon gabardine, shown above as pictured in the April issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, is ideal outfit.

Slobolt

A new summer leaf lettuce called slobolt has been announced by the Department of Agriculture, and is already being increased by seed growers to make it available to gardeners. It will be listed in the 1946 seed catalogues. This new lettuce withstands midsummer temperatures without quickly shooting or "bolting" to seed. If plants are set 10 to 12 inches apart and only the basal leaves are used as they reach a desirable size, lettuce may be harvested from the same plants over a period of several weeks, making it a very desirable home-garden variety. Slobolt has frilled light-green leaves that have the very wrinkled effect described as savoyed. The plants are of moderate size and the seeds are black.

More farm gas

The nation's food growers will get extra gasoline for non-highway use during the second quarter of 1945, says PAW. Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes has announced the allocation of 1,276,000 barrels of automotive gasoline a day for U. S. Civilian consumption in the second quarter of 1945, comprising the months of April, May and June. Compared with the quantity of gasoline made available to civilians in the corresponding quarter of 1944, the new allocation is 19,000 barrels a day greater, the additional fuel being assigned to the War Food Administration for farm use. Commenting on this, Deputy Administrator Davies said: "The quantity of gasoline required for non-highway farm use always rises sharply in the second quarter to provide fuel for spring plowing, cultivating and planting, and we have provided for that increase as usual. This year we were asked for an unusually large quantity, with the explanation that it was hoped to enlarge the productive farm acreage of our country by about 10,000 acres. There has been an increase in the number of tractors added to the nation's farm equipment, and we are informed that plans have been worked out to run all tractors 20 percent more hours per day."

Farm real estate

The average index value per acre of Farm Real Estate (1912-1914, index value 100) for the United States as a whole was 126 on March 1, 1945, representing a rise of 11 per cent during the last year, and 5 per cent during the preceding four months, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Values rose 15 per cent during the year ended in March, 1944, and 21 per cent in 1919-1920, when the peak of the World War I boom was reached. Values have now advanced at an average rate of one per cent a month for four years. The rise for the 1941-45 period is 85 per cent of the increase for the four-year period 1916-1920. During the year average values increased 15 per cent or more in nine states, and 10 per cent or more in 26 states. The increase during the year equalled or exceeded the record increases of 1919-1920 in five states.

Conventions

The ban on conventions is less than two months old, but from the day of its birth, it has packed a husky wallop. As enforced by ODT's Col. J. Monroe Johnson, the convention ban already has struck a heavy blow at the earning power of American hotels, according to a nationwide survey made by J. E. Frawley, president of the American Hotel Association.

Kansas City hotelmen estimate the ban will cost them $547,000 this year in revenues: Montana hostelries guess their loss at $1,200,000; Wyoming bobs up with a $1,000,000 figure, while the innkeepers of New Mexico claim their revenues will drop $250,000.

Within the first few weeks of the new order, the ODT looked over 400 applications for conventions. Of these only fifteen were allowed.

Butter

The War Food Administration has fixed the butter set-aside quota (amount of butter put aside for government purchase) for April at 40 percent of production, and for May at 55 percent of production. Previously, during February and March, the set-aside percentages were 20 and 25 percent respectively. Efforts are being made to maintain butter production and to keep the available supplies flowing into trade channels on a fairly even monthly basis. During April and May quantities of creamery butter for civilians will be about 80,000,000 pounds as compared with an average of about 82,000,000 pounds during February and March.

Old cartons

In the wake of the greater home front conservation demand implicit in the War Production Board's recent order further reducing the use of new paperboard containers, one of the nation's largest producers of war alcohol, Schenlly Disillers corporation, is intensifying on a 45-state basis its carton salvage program which last year netted a saving of nearly 21,000,000 pounds of shipping containers.

In terms of materials released for transport overseas, the cartons recovered and returned to use by the company during 1944, according to Carl J. Kiefer, vice president, represented the replacement of sufficient paperboard for the manufacture of 8,000,000 75 mm. artillery shell casings, and an additional 32,500,000 Army "K" ration packages. Under the program, corrugated pads, liners and partitions, as well as cartons, are collected from wholesalers and retailers and returned to regional plants for reconditioning and eventual reuse. Material that is torn or damaged beyond possibility of repair at Schenley plants is routed to scrap dealers and paper mills. High point of the 1944 campaign, Kiefer said, was reached in the company's Lawrenceburg, Indiana, plant, where during one 30-day period, 85 per cent of all outgoing shipments were packed in reconditioned cartons.

Canning sugar

The Office of Price Administration says there will be enough sugar to preserve as much fruit as was actually "put up" in our homes last year. The same amount of sugar (700,000 tons) has been set aside this year for home canning as was set aside last year. Last year, however, 300,000 tons more sugar than the total amount allocated for home canning was bought by housewives. A large part of this sugar was bought with stamp 40, the home canning stamp, and much of it was used for ordinary household purposes. In 1945 no stamps will be validated for canning sugar. Housewives will be given sugar coupons for home canning by their local boards. Each housewife's home canning sugar alotment will be based on the amount of canning she did last year and the amount she plans to do this year. She will be allowed up to a maximum of 20 pounds per person, or 160 pounds to a single family, even though the family may contain more than eight persons.

Tires

Apparently we haven't even yet "turned the corner" on the rubber crisis, in spite of the miracle of synthetic rubber production — scheduled to reach a million tons this year. The problem of keeping essential traffic rolling will be actually tougher this summer than ever. The reason is that military demands are still soaring, and shortages of carbon black and other materials used in tire manufacture further complicate the situation.

Joseph A. Hoban, tire division merchandise manager of the B. F. Goodrich company, in a talk in Cleveland the other day cited estimates that 46 million passenger car tires need replacement or recapping, but that the total of all new and recapped passenger car tires that can be made available this year will probably be less than 35 million—only three-fourths of the tires needed right now! The 46 million estimate was based on an examination of autos in war-plant parking areas. Four-fifths of all war workers go to and from work in private autos.

Cows improve

The well-rounded program of the Dairy Improvement Associations, begun in a small way 40 years ago, is each year now showing wider results, says Secretary of Agriculture, Claude R. Wickard. Effects of the use of proved sires are especially significant, resulting as they do in a healthy rise of the average milk production of all the daughters of proved bulls instead of outstanding milk production records of just a few individuals. Last year the average production for all of the nation's 26 million dairy cows was less than 4,600 lbs. of milk; for the half million cows of the Improvement Association herds it was 8,300 lbs. With the increased interest in record keeping and the rapid development of artificial insemination, we can look forward to continuing increases in dairy cow efficiency. At Boltsville, for example, the U.S.D.A. has some proved Holstein bulls all of whose daughters average over 20,000 lbs. of milk and over 800 pounds of butterfat a year.

Questions and answers on service to veterans

Question: May I obtain, under the G. I. Bill of Rights, a loan to buy an automobile?

Answer: Yes, if the automobile is necessary and is to be used in the conduct of your business or your farming occupation. For example, a veteran may buy an automobile to be used as a taxicab, or a truck for hauling purposes.

Question: I received an honorable discharge from the Army just before Pearl Harbor. Am I considered a veteran of World War II, and entitled to all the benefits of a World War II veteran?

Answer: Yes. All persons in active service of the armed forces subsequent to September 16, 1940, and who were discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable, are considered World War II veterans.

Question: I am 38 years old and recently discharged from the Army. I understand honorably discharged men can obtain homestead rights in Alaska. Where can I obtain information about Alaska homestead rights?

Answer: Homestead rights in Alaska are open to a dischargee over 21 years of age, or the head of a family, and not the owner of more than 160 acres of land in the United States. Homestead information may be obtained from the General Land Office, Washington D. C., or from the District Land Offices at Anchorage, Fairbanks, or Nome, Alaska.

Question: What agencies or organizations will assist veterans in filing claims for disability compensation?

Answer: Any veteran desiring a service officer to act as his representative in appearances before rating boards, etc., must give power of attorney to an authorized representative of one of the following organizations:

American Legion.
Disabled American Veterans.
Military Order of the Purple Heart.
United Spanish War Veterans.
Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Milk

Milk production on farms during 1945 is expected to be at least as large as the 1944 output of 119 billion pounds, says the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Milk cows on farms January 1, 1945, totaled 27,785,000 head, or 129,000 more than on January 1, 1944. Returns to dairy farmers, because of higher production payment rates for butterfat, probably will average higher in 1945 than in 1944. Also dairy products-feed price ratios will continue favorable to milk producers with the 1924-1943 average.

Business drops

Industrial activity rose in February and March, says the Federal Reserve Board. But the Board's production index, at 235, is down from 244 in February of 1944. Decline in shipbuilding is one cause for the drop . . . Quicksilver mines, which had been having their own little depression, are busy again. The Army's new mercury battery, compact but powerful, has spurred demand for mercury . . . Soap manufacturers, worried over the shortage of fats and oils, are giving the fat salvage drive a renewed boost.

IN MEMORIAM

SMART, SARAH F.

In loving memory of my mother who passed away one year ago, April 21, 1944.

Deep in my heart lies a picture
of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame I shall keep it,
Because she was one of the best.

Loving daughter,
Mrs. Earl McNeely.

OBITUARIES

Arthur Jensen

Arthur Jensen, former resident of Palatine, passed away Wednesday, April 11, in Ludington, Mich.

He was born in Denmark Dec. 12, 1882, and upon graduation from the University of Denmark, came to this country and settled in Chicago. In 1916 he married Marie Petersen of Ludington, Mich.

Mr. Jensen was employed by the Chicago Surface Lines and held his position with them for 26 years.

The surviving members of his family are his wife, Marie, and three sons, Major Wm. A. Jensen, Ensign Robert E. Jensen and T-Sgt. Howard J. Jensen, all of whom are on active duty overseas. One grandson, Robert Eugene Jensen, Jr., also survives, as do one brother, Laurits Jensen of Stanwood, Mich., and four sisters, two of whom live in Denmark.

Funeral services were held Saturday, April 14, in Ludington. Burial was in the family lot in South Victory cemetery.

Mrs. Anna Karner

Mrs. Anna Karner, mother of Mrs. Fritz Weidig, of Prospect Heights, died at the home of her daughter Monday after a week's illness. The funeral was held Thursday morning at Lauterburg & Oehler chapel, Arlington Heights with the Rev. Kepper officiating. Cremation followed at Acacia.

Deceased, Anna Lincke, was born in Germany January 8, 1865, where she married Carl Karner in 1891. A son and a daughter were born to them. Mr. Karner died in 1897. Following the coming to America of her son, Mrs. Karner and her daughter followed in 1926, settling in Chicago, which was their home until a year ago.

MARY K. MARSCHALL

In memory of our dear mother and grandmother who passed away six years ago today. We will never forget you.

Daughter and Grandchildren.

Mrs. Elizabeth Guild

Mrs. Elizabeth Guild, who had been a resident of Arlington Heights a great many years, passed away Thursday, April 12 at her home, 306 North Vail after an illness of only two days. Funeral services were held Sunday at the Lauterburg & Oehler chapel, Rev. Jordan of Park Ridge Community church officiating. Burial was on the family lot in Arlington Heights cemetery.

Deceased leaves one son, Bruce, of Park Ridge, and four grandchildren. A daughter and two sons preceded her in death. One son, Merle, a veteran of World War I, died in 1920 for whom Merle Guild Post of the American Legion was named.

Mrs. Guild, nee Anderson, was born November 14, 1859, in Constantine, Michigan. She was united in marriage to Reuben Guild in Huron, So. Dakota in 1885. Fifteen years later, the family came to Arlington Heights, occupying the Reuben Guild farm, in the northwestern part of the village until 1920. This farm was later subdivided. Mr. Guild died in September, 1927.

Mrs. Guild was a member of the Presbyterian church from the time of her girlhood and until recent years took an active intrest in the women's organizations. She had seen her home town advance from a few hundred inhabitants to a young city and she took great pride in its growth.

CARD OF THANKS

Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. For the beautiful service, floral offerings, and other kindnesses, we are deeply grateful.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf and family and Louis.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear brother, Wilmer C. Paquette, who passed away on April 17, one year ago.

Mrs. Gordon Haskins.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS..

"When you think of the sacrifices our fighting men are making in this war, it's hard to figure out how we'll ever repay them, isn't it, Judge?"

"Yes, it really is, Tom. There are only certain things we can do. Such as...write them cheerful letters often. Send them favorite gifts from time to time. Work harder than ever to provide them with everything they need to finish their job quickly. Buy more and more War Bonds... especially during the current drive... to pay for the ammunition and fighting equipment they must have."

"All that still seems kind of small compared with what they're doing for us, Judge."

"True, but it's about all we older folks back home can do, Tom. Except one more thing. And that is to be sure our fighting men come home to the same kind of country they left behind. The kind of country their letters tell us they want. Nothing changed that they don't want changed while they're away and unable to express their wishes."

Philippines

Sgt. Roger Rockenbach of Wheeling writes from the Philippines that he had the good fortune of being away from the front on Easter Sunday and took the chance to write to the home folks. Here are excerpts from his letter:

"It has been a long time since I have been able to write. We have been constantly on the move, as there is so much to do down here. Received the memorandum book and the boys and myself really pored over the map of the States, dreaming and planning of the visits when we shall return, God willing. Thanks for the picture of the river and the Christmas program, which was one of the nicest things I could have received.

"Please thank the people who autographed the program. It really brought the old home town an awful lot closer. Words cannot express my thanks and appreciation. Would like to write each one a thank you letter but that is impossible. Letters are really swell to get, so keep 'em coming. Hello to everyone and the best always. 'Rocky'."

Sgt. Mel Bach now a PW

Word was received this week that Sgt. Melvin Bach of Mt. Prospect, missing since December 22, is now a prisoner of war in Ge-

many. A card was received from him by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bach, Monday, though dated the early part of January.

The card stated Mel was feeling fine, that he missed letters from home, and urged his parents to contact the Red Cross to gain details about Prisoner of War mail. The card was dated February 6. Red Cross informed Mrs. Bach that Mel was stationed at Stalag XIII Germany.

Sgt. Bach was declared missing December 22 in the German break through in Luxemburg. He was a member of the 28th division, the unit with 7 local casualties. Two of those returned to U. S. lines, three have been reported prisoners, one was killed and one is still missing.

Sgt. Bach entered the service September 29, 1942. He shipped overseas in October of '43.

Great Lakes

Harry Olaf Hanson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hanson, Box 202, Itasca, is receiving his initial Naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes.

His recruit training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill and general Naval procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the recruit to determine whether he will be assigned to a Naval Service School, to a shore station or to immediate duty at sea.

Home on leave for a week from Great Lakes is Clarence Herr of Palatine. Clarence was a member of the V-12 unit at Normal university, Normal, Ill., until the unit was closed about 6 weeks ago. Since that time he has been stationed at the Lakes.

Clarence arrived home last week, Thursday, and leaves again this Thursday to return to the Lakes. Future station is not known.

"Chuck" Krieman, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krieman of Lincoln street, East Maine, went to Great Lakes last Friday, April 13, to begin his boot training as a member of Uncle Sam's navy.

Home on leave from Great Lakes after completing his boot training there is Gene Johnson of Arlington Heights. Future station is not known at present.

Ray Hanson S2c of Wheeling was at home from Great Lakes on a 24 hour leave last week end. Ray is transferring into the Seabees and expects to move to Rhode Island for further training soon.

Pvt. Pete Bodor is now a prisoner of war in Germany it was learned Monday when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bodor, 235 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, received a card from him. The card was dated January 10.

Pvt. Bodor was declared missing as of December 17 in that memorable Belgian push in which the Nazis made a short-lived counter-attack. Pvt. Bodor was one of six local casualties of the 28th American division at that time. He was captured in Luxemburg.

Pete has never had a furlough since entering the army September 24, 1942.

France

Now in France is Harold Framberg of Arlington Heights. His address is Pfc. Harold Framberg, 36377480, APO 562, % PM, New York, N. Y.

In a recent letter Harold spoke of living in a Paris hotel, with plenty of service provided them. French girls clean the rooms and straighten up the place, with hot and cold running water available, an almost unheard of luxury overseas. He also spoke of the MPs wearing white helmets, belts and leggings in their work.

Pvt. Wm. Butler now a PW

Word has been received that Pfc. William Butler, husband of the former Mary Alice Malcomson of Arlington Heights, is now a prisoner of war in Germany. A card from Bill was received by his wife April 3, and a war department wire to the same effect was received just last week, stating he had been a prisoner of war since January 5.

Pfc. Butler, son of Dr. and Mrs. Craig Butler of Oak Park, entered service in June of '43. He went overseas in November of 1944 with the Rainbow division, serving as an infantryman. He went directly to France and into the front lines. His wife lives at 615 Beverly Lane, Scarsdale, Arlington Heights.

Dear Mr. DePue:

It has long been a well known fact amongst insurance buyers that your office has an enviable reputation for handling good, honest, reliable capital stock insurance with quick courteous efficient service and honest fair loss adjustments. Many of your clients may never know of the latter.

A few Sundays ago when my house at Wilke and Palatine Road caught fire and burned to the ground my one consolation was in the fact that you were my insurance man. My faith in your skill, knowledge and experience and your prompt efficient handling of my claim has resulted in a complete happy 100% settlement of a 100% loss, within fifteen days.

It is too bad that I didn't carry more insurance — with the increased cost of replacement and higher prices for real estate I would advise anyone to bring their insurance up-to-date; you can't replace in 1945 for values of a few years ago. I would heartily recommend them to consult you as your Seal on a policy truly is a "Mark of Distinction and the Seal of Integrity".

Best wishes,

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS..

"When you think of the sacrifices our fighting men are making in this war, it's hard to figure out how we'll ever repay them, isn't it, Judge?"

"Yes, it really is, Tom. There are only certain things we can do. Such as...write them cheerful letters often. Send them favorite gifts from time to time. Work harder than ever to provide them with everything they need to finish their job quickly. Buy more and more War Bonds... especially during the current drive... to pay for the ammunition and fighting equipment they must have."

"All that still seems kind of small compared with what they're doing for us, Judge."

"True, but it's about all we older folks back home can do, Tom. Except one more thing. And that is to be sure our fighting men come home to the same kind of country they left behind. The kind of country their letters tell us they want. Nothing changed that they don't want changed while they're away and unable to express their wishes."

Philippines

Sgt. Roger Rockenbach of Wheeling writes from the Philippines that he had the good fortune of being away from the front on Easter Sunday and took the chance to write to the home folks. Here are excerpts from his letter:

"It has been a long time since I have been able to write. We have been constantly on the move, as there is so much to do down here. Received the memorandum book and the boys and myself really pored over the map of the States, dreaming and planning of the visits when we shall return, God willing. Thanks for the picture of the river and the Christmas program, which was one of the nicest things I could have received.

"Please thank the people who autographed the program. It really brought the old home town an awful lot closer. Words cannot express my thanks and appreciation. Would like to write each one a thank you letter but that is impossible. Letters are really swell to get, so keep 'em coming. Hello to everyone and the best always. 'Rocky'."

Sgt. Mel Bach now a PW

Word was received this week that Sgt. Melvin Bach of Mt. Prospect, missing since December 22, is now a prisoner of war in Ge-

many. A card was received from him by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bach, Monday, though dated the early part of January.

The card stated Mel was feeling fine, that he missed letters from home, and urged his parents to contact the Red Cross to gain details about Prisoner of War mail. The card was dated February 6. Red Cross informed Mrs. Bach that Mel was stationed at Stalag XIII Germany.

Sgt. Bach was declared missing December 22 in the German break through in Luxemburg. He was a member of the 28th division, the unit with 7 local casualties. Two of those returned to U. S. lines, three have been reported prisoners, one was killed and one is still missing.

Sgt. Bach entered the service September 29, 1942. He shipped overseas in October of '43.

Great Lakes

Harry Olaf Hanson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hanson, Box 202, Itasca, is receiving his initial Naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes.

His recruit training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill and general Naval procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the recruit to determine whether he will be assigned to a Naval Service School, to a shore station or to immediate duty at sea.

Home on leave for a week from Great Lakes is Clarence Herr of Palatine. Clarence was a member of the V-12 unit at Normal university, Normal, Ill., until the unit was closed about 6 weeks ago. Since that time he has been stationed at the Lakes.

Clarence arrived home last week, Thursday, and leaves again this Thursday to return to the Lakes. Future station is not known.

"Chuck" Krieman, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krieman of Lincoln street, East Maine, went to Great Lakes last Friday, April 13, to begin his boot training as a member of Uncle Sam's navy.

Home on leave from Great Lakes after completing his boot training there is Gene Johnson of Arlington Heights. Future station is not known at present.

Ray Hanson S2c of Wheeling was at home from Great Lakes on a 24 hour leave last week end. Ray is transferring into the Seabees and expects to move to Rhode Island for further training soon.

23 SCHOOLS IN RELAYS NEXT WEEK

Mac Says ....

GERALD A. McELROY

Both coaches Trapp of Bensenville and Clark of Barrington are feeling the competition of baseball as they try to develop winning track squads. In both schools several of the outstanding track prospects have forsaken the cinder track for the diamond, making track squads which lacked balance just that much weaker. We have always contended that both baseball and track cannot be successfully carried on in the same school when that institution is under 500 enrollment. If a small school has both, the result in most cases is that both teams are below par.

In the Northwest this year Palatine and Antioch are the only schools having track without baseball and we predict that they will finish one-two in the Northwest meet at the end of the season. Likewise Northbrook and Ela who concentrate on baseball in the spring have been the league leaders for years. Barrington has not had a strong spring sports team since they have gone in for both baseball and track and Bensenville will have a similar experience unless we are badly mistaken. In the Northeast conference only three schools, Arlington, Niles and Leyden support both baseball and track and they are the three largest ranging from 650 to 850 in enrollment. Lake Forest, Libertyville and Crystal Lake concentrate on track and their records year after year certainly prove our point.

A way of having both baseball and track without conflict

Please do not get the idea we are rapping baseball. We would rather play baseball any day than compete in track and did play four years of college varsity baseball and never went out for track at all in college. So, if anything, we certainly ought to be prejudiced in favor of baseball.

However, our experience in nine years as track coach at Palatine has convinced us that from the standpoint of physical development and physical education track is the superior sport. From the standpoint of recreation we would take baseball any day. Each has its points. The climate of this area is much more conducive to a good track season than to baseball.

We would like to see a plan worked out whereby track would continue until mid May and then baseball take over from that point and be organized to continue through part of the summer vacation when the weather is ideal. In some larger communities where the coach is hired 12 months, and handles summer sports, this is being practiced. In many communities this takes the form of American Legion junior baseball with high school boys making up the team and the high school coach directing the summer program.

We think that both these fine sports should be available for all boys and this is one way the small school could successfully give the boys the benefits of both. We would like to see the Northwest Conference organized for American Legion Junior baseball through the summer.

New coaches to have fine material

The recent dismissals at Arlington have eliminated the entire coaching staff of the school and a new group of coaches will take over in September. Who ever these men may be we are certain of one thing. They will have at their command some of the best athletic talent in the conference, especially in football and basketball. The future at Arlington in sports appears the brightest in a long, long time. We hope that Arlington will be able to find the kind of men they need to carry forward their sports program.

New starting method in Australia

Australia is faced by a serious shortage of blank cartridges for use in starting track events. Reports state that they have a new method devised which works very satisfactorily. They snap rat traps and state that the report is nearly as loud as the traditional pistol. Some schools of this area who cannot get shells for starting guns might give this idea a tryout.

Roosevelt was number one sports fan of the nation

Schools of this area held memorial services at 11 a. m. and dismissed for the day last Friday in respect for the memory of Franklin Roosevelt. All athletic contests were called off over the past weekend. Roosevelt was one of the greatest friends of sports among leading government officials.

Thornton admitted to suburban league

One of the big events of the week in suburban sports was the unanimous vote of the officials of the big Suburban league in favor of the admission of Thornton Township High school. Thornton recently left the South Suburban League where they have won the basketball title 12 of the past 15 years. The admission of Thornton gives the Suburban League eight members which not only simplifies schedule making but will strengthen the conference to a point where it will be the best in the state. The seven other members are Evanston, Proviso, New Trier, Morton of Cicero, Waukegan, Oak Park and Highland Park.

Sandwich to attend Palatine relays

Latest possible entry in the Palatine Relays is Sandwich, Ill., in class "B". This increases the number of schools to 25 who have indicated their intention of coming to the big Palatine meet on Saturday, May 28.

"B" records exceed "A" in three relays

We are publishing the Palatine Relays records this week. A glance at them shows that in three cases class "B" records are better than class "A". Bensenville has the best 880 yard relay mark in either class in the 13 years the meet has been run. The Bisons of 1941 ran the event in 1:34.9 with Audas, Riley, Pomplun, and Kiefer the record breaking quartet. Last year Geneva's frosh-soph relay broke the all time record for the 440 with a mark of :47.4 and this quartet of speedsters as juniors should make Geneva a leading threat to win the meet title this year.

Cards and Pirates hold hurdle records

The shuttle relay races will be split into "A" and "B" events this year for the first time. Arlington and Palatine are the class champions on the basis of past marks. Palatine's 320 yard high hurdle record of :45.3 made in 1943 by Guenther, Cramer, Herr, and Van Dyke is the best mark to date. Arlington's :46 is the best for "A" class schools. In the low hurdle event at 432 yards Arlington has the best mark of :52 while Palatine has shown the best for "B" schools with a :52.8 in 1943 when Guenther, VanDyke, Jones and Stinson did the hurdling. These will be the relay marks for each class to shoot at in this year's meet..

Best record in pole vault and high jump

Best marks on the record books in individual events are without question the pole vault of 12 feet 7 inches made by Merwin of Woodstock in 1935 and the high jump mark of six feet two made by Zacco of Geneva in 1938. The pole vault mark is just four inches short of the state record.

Antioch lad scored 34½ points

It looks like Coach Al Kroll of Antioch has a real track star in the making in Dan Jones, a sophomore. In a frosh-soph meet involving Antioch, Libertyville, and Barrington Jones won six first places, took a second and anchored the winning relay team for a total of 34½ points. Jones won both hurdles, the high jump, pole vault, broad jump, and shot, and was second in the discus. Incidentally Antioch scored 88½ points to Barrington's 47½ and 14 for the Libertyville frosh.

Stinson's Pirates bolstered by return of Vogt

Track spirit at Palatine was given a fine boost and the chances of Palatine in their own relays next week were moved up aplenty by the return of Clarence Vogt to track. Vogt was conference mile champ as a freshman and sophomore but last year broke a cartilage in a knee and was out all season. This past winter Vogt played basketball wearing a heavy knee brace. His 2:13 half mile Monday shows that he is getting in form in a hurry and it was run after winning the mile.

Palatine had three boys run the half under 2:20 Monday and has high hopes of winning the two mile relay with Vogt, Hapke, Henker and either Weinacht or Wente as the quartet of runners. With Vogt to run the anchor half in the medley Palatine will have a chance to score in that event. The shuttle hurdle teams are shaping up and the Pirates will be in the points in both lows and highs. The frosh-soph relay will be o. k. but the weakest event for Coach Howard Stinson's team will be the 880 relay.

Wauconda and Northbrook starting track

Wauconda and Northbrook are doing a little track this spring and Palatine has invited them to come into whatever dual meets they choose to get some competition and experience. Monday they were over and showed enough stuff to get some places in the conference meet. Novotney of Wauconda, wearing gym shoes, ran the 100 in :11.2 and the 220 in :25.2 in his first track meet. Another Wauconda lad ran a strong third in the mile behind Vogt and Hapke of Palatine who came in with hands clasped for a first place tie. Coach Kessler is handling both track and baseball at Wauconda and John Walgren, who used to compete in track at Iowa State Teachers College is getting track started at Northbrook.

Change schedule

Palatine's schedule for the coming week has been shifted with Barrington, Wauconda, and Northbrook coming for a meet on Tuesday, April 24, and the Pirate Frosh-Sophs going to Bensenville the following day. Barrington was supposed to have been in the meet Monday but begged off because of a frosh-soph meet at Bensenville the following day. Of course the big event of the week comes on Saturday in the Palatine Relays.

Lake Forest loses to Waukegan

It is hard to tell from the Lake Forest defeat at the hands of Waukegan last Friday 79 1/6 to 34 5/6 whether the Scouts can be counted as contenders to repeat their Palatine Relays triumph of a year ago. Lake Forest won only three events against Waukegan's Bulldogs but all the marks were good, especially in the running events, where Coach Lindenmeyer's team usually shines. Larsen won the 220 in :23.8, fine time, and Conover took the shot and Vincent the pole vault. Waukegan made unusual early season marks for a school that usually is the weakling of the Suburban League in track. Bob Jones broke the Waukegan school record in the high hurdles with a :15.9 performance.

See Geneva and Crystal Lake as favorites in Palatine meet

By G. A. McELROY (Sports Editor)

One record is in danger in the 13th annual Palatine Relays next week, Saturday, with the announcement that Hann of Somanauk will enter the mile run. Last year Hann ran the mile in 4:34 in the state district meet which is more than five seconds better than the Palatine meet record. Just how near that mark a boy can come in outdoor competition this early in the season is a question but he should come close if he gets favorable weather.

With 23 schools indicating that they will enter boys the meet stacks up as one of the best in the long series. Certainly the competition for the team championships will be extremely keen and even. Geneva or one of the new schools in class "B" rate as favorites. Palatine, coached by Howard Stinson, won't be far down the line in the final tabulation and might be a contender if the points are widely distributed. On paper Crystal Lake should rate the favorite spot in class "A" but the Lakers have always been slow getting into form in track and have so many years ranked high in pre-meet dope without being a contender that this year they might surprise us. Class "A" schools are all wondering whether Naperville will be back after an absence of two years. They had a monopoly on "A" championships until travel problems caused them to compete at the nearby Wheaton Relays held the same day. There is a good chance that they will come back to Palatine this year.

The morning session of the meet opens at 9:30 with all the field events and 100 yard dash preliminaries in the forenoon. The afternoon relay session opens at 1:15 with the two mile relay the first event followed by the high hurdle shuttle, 100 yard dash finals, frosh-soph relay, medley relay low hurdle shuttle, mile run, and 880 yard relay. In all the relays the "B" class races are run first. Robert Ballard, swimming coach at the North Shore Athletic Club, will be the starter as in past years.

The expected entries in class "A" are Arlington Heights, Crystal Lake, Lake Forest, Leyden, Libertyville, Niles, St. Charles, Belvidere, and Naperville.

In class "B" there are likely to be the following: Antioch, Barrington, Bensenville, Batavia, Geneva, Palatine, Mooseheart, Morrison, Marengo, West Chicago, Woodstock, Sandwich, Wauconda and Northbrook.

Pirates 95, Bensenville 41, Wauconda 8

Palatine ran away with a four school meet involving Bensenville, Wauconda, and Northbrook Monday evening as the Pirates scored 95 to Bensenville's 41, and Wauconda's eight. Wauconda and Northbrook are just starting track and had six boys apiece in the meet. Several Wauconda boys showed good stuff but were handicapped by lack of track shoes. Novotney looked especially good in the sprints. On a dual basis Palatine had an edge of 79 2/3 to Bensenville's 38 1/3. Olenicki captured two firsts and a second for the Bisons to collect 13 points and top all scorers of the meet.

Twenty Palatine boys broke into scoring with Moody getting 12¼, Arendt 10¼, and Vogt 9 to lead in points. The Pirates won 11 out of 14 first places. Clarence Vogt, who returned to track the past week, was a double winner for the Pirates in 880 and mile as was Matt Weinacht in the 440 and high jump. Vogt's 2:13 half mile was one of the best marks of the meet. Ernsting's :11.1 in the 80 ard high hurdles for Bensenville was another fine performance. However the Bison star fell in the low hurdles and did not place. Stevenson, a Palatine freshman, won the broad jump.

The meet was originally scheduled for last Friday with Barrington included but was postponed as evidence of respect for Franklin Roosevelt. Barrington declined to compete Monday and will meet the Pirates in a dual on Tuesday, Apr. 24.

Card nine beats Barrington, 7-1

Last Thursday the Arlington Cards baseball nine went to Barrington to play a return engagement and came back to Arlington with a 7 to 1 non-hit win. (The Cards won the first encounter 5 to 4).

Barrington's lone run was the result of three walks issued by Robinson and an error by Ehard. In the third inning Robinson walked the first two batsmen, got the next batsman on a force out at third, then walked the fourth batsman, which left the bags loaded with one out. At this point the fifth batsman bounced one to Robinson who tossed to Ehard at the plate for a force out, Ehard then made the mistake of attempting to get the man going into third instead of first and threw the ball into left field enabling a man to count from third.

Home plate at Barrington is not of the regulation rubber type and after a few innings is hard to see from the mound. Robinson's curves and drops were being called balls and it was deemed wise to remove him in favor of Jack Brumm at the start of the fourth inning. Brumm's fast ball completely stopped Barrington.

"Oz" Aldrich, the Card's clean-up man, has apparently found his batting eye as he belted out three doubles and a single in four times at bat. Robinson got 3 for 4.

Navajo Legend

Navajo Indians believe that Shiprock, an isolated butte which towers 1,900 feet above the plain, was once a great bird which brought the tribe to New Mexico.

Redwings work out in spite of rain

Although the weather was far from being suited for baseball, the Arlington Redwings held their first practice session last Sunday afternoon. The field was in bad condition from the heavy rains. Batting practice and infield work outs had to be omitted from the routine. The main activity consisted of limbering up games, throwing and chasing fly balls to get the legs in shape.

Next Sunday another practice will be held beginning at 2:00 p. m. Manager Ed Wahl again invites anyone desiring to try out to come to Recreation Park. There are several positions open in the infield and outfield which must be filled before May 6, which will probably be the date of the opening game.

Bensenville Frosh-Sophs lose to Broncs

Barrington's Frosh-Sophs defeated Bensenville 69-49 Tuesday afternoon in a dual meet held on the Bison's track. Rain and a cold wind provided handicaps to good marks. Epley of Barrington was a triple winner in the dashes to lead the scorers. Barrington took first places in all but three events.

Summary

Flesch and Bomar in title match

Chicago bowling fans will have the rare opportunity of seeing representatives of the three nationally recognized titles in action April 21-22 when Buddy Bomar and Bill 'Chopper' Flesch, Monarch Beer stars in the Classic League, defend their National Two Man Title against the high scoring ability of Wally Reppenhagen and Bill Benet of Detroit. The forthcoming battle not only involves the coveted title but also carries a purse of $2,000, for the winning duo.

The match will be routed over a 42 game distance which will be divided into six seven game blocks. The actual firing started in Detroit as the tilt is on a home and home basis with the first 21 games rolled in the motor city last week end and the remaining 21 here in Chicago April 21-22 at Matty Maetz's Recreation, 5961 No. Ridge ave. The opening block of seven games next week will hit the lanes on Saturday night at 8:30 p. m. and the other two blocks the following day at 3 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. The scoring will be based on the point system with one point for each game won and one point for total pinfall in each block. In the event of a tie game each duo will be credited with half a point.

Arlington to open NE baseball at Leyden Fri.

The Northeast Baseball Conference opens next Friday, April 20 with Arlington's Cards engaging Leyden at Leyden. To date it has been impossible to determine the possibilities of the Cards. They have now played four practice games and have looked both good and bad.

In the first Barrington game errors and untried pitchers almost proved fatal and hitting was not up to par. At Waukegan there was a stiff wind blowing off the plate and the pitchers, who are not yet really ready for seven innings, tired before the games were over. Hitting was definitely below what it should be at Waukegan and fielding was not secure, although the wind may have had much to do with that.

Arlington has seven pitchers, Robinson, Brumm, Krueger, Wille, Liemetter, Bach and Bracke; at Waukegan Liemetter and Wille had sore arms, and could not throw, so this left five pitchers for four games as both the Varsity and Frosh-Sophs had doubleheaders there. Of the seven pitchers Robinson, Brumm and Krueger are in the best shape and may carry the brunt of the season's work. Wille's arm is still sore, Bach has an infected finger, and Liemetter, who last year had a tendency to wildness, has not worked out enough, Bracke has a good hook but hasn't worked up enough stamina to last a full game. Bach and Bracke pitched for the Frosh-Sophs at Waukegan and were winners in both games.

Aldrich apparently has 1st base sewed up but also looks good at third. The rest of the infield is decidedly uncertain although Bach seems to have the edge at shortstop. Griffith and Crawford are battling for second but also have to watch out for Robinson and Brumm here. Third is between Thompson and Wille, while McArdle has shown signs of being a hitter and may eventually wind up at first with Aldrich moving to third.

Catching is up to Payne and Al Stroker with Ehard getting the nod if neither of these two come through. The outfield seems to be G. Stroker, Holtz, Ehard and Krueger although Bert Dahlstrom is making a strong bid and is really looking a lot like his cousin, Warren, who did a whale of a job in center field last year.

To sum up the situation, in order to come through the Card's pitchers will have to condition themselves well, and the base-running will have to improve. Hitting is gradually coming up to the standard.

The schedule as set up now is as follows:

April 20—Arlington at Leyden.
April 27—Warren at Arlington.
May 4—Arlington at Niles.
May 11—Leyden at Arlington.
May 16—Arlington at Niles. (Frosh-Soph).
May 18—Arlington at Warren.
May 25—Niles at Arlington.

Waukegan is to play a return engagement at Arlington some time in May and it is hoped that more Frosh-Soph games may be obtained.

23 SCHOOLS IN RELAYS NEXT WEEK

Mac Says ....

GERALD A. McELROY

Both coaches Trapp of Bensenville and Clark of Barrington are feeling the competition of baseball as they try to develop winning track squads. In both schools several of the outstanding track prospects have forsaken the cinder track for the diamond, making track squads which lacked balance just that much weaker. We have always contended that both baseball and track cannot be successfully carried on in the same school when that institution is under 500 enrollment. If a small school has both, the result in most cases is that both teams are below par.

In the Northwest this year Palatine and Antioch are the only schools having track without baseball and we predict that they will finish one-two in the Northwest meet at the end of the season. Likewise Northbrook and Ela who concentrate on baseball in the spring have been the league leaders for years. Barrington has not had a strong spring sports team since they have gone in for both baseball and track and Bensenville will have a similar experience unless we are badly mistaken. In the Northeast conference only three schools, Arlington, Niles and Leyden support both baseball and track and they are the three largest ranging from 650 to 850 in enrollment. Lake Forest, Libertyville and Crystal Lake concentrate on track and their records year after year certainly prove our point.

A way of having both baseball and track without conflict

Please do not get the idea we are rapping baseball. We would rather play baseball any day than compete in track and did play four years of college varsity baseball and never went out for track at all in college. So, if anything, we certainly ought to be prejudiced in favor of baseball.

However, our experience in nine years as track coach at Palatine has convinced us that from the standpoint of physical development and physical education track is the superior sport. From the standpoint of recreation we would take baseball any day. Each has its points. The climate of this area is much more conducive to a good track season than to baseball.

We would like to see a plan worked out whereby track would continue until mid May and then baseball take over from that point and be organized to continue through part of the summer vacation when the weather is ideal. In some larger communities where the coach is hired 12 months, and handles summer sports, this is being practiced. In many communities this takes the form of American Legion junior baseball with high school boys making up the team and the high school coach directing the summer program.

We think that both these fine sports should be available for all boys and this is one way the small school could successfully give the boys the benefits of both. We would like to see the Northwest Conference organized for American Legion Junior baseball through the summer.

New coaches to have fine material

The recent dismissals at Arlington have eliminated the entire coaching staff of the school and a new group of coaches will take over in September. Who ever these men may be we are certain of one thing. They will have at their command some of the best athletic talent in the conference, especially in football and basketball. The future at Arlington in sports appears the brightest in a long, long time. We hope that Arlington will be able to find the kind of men they need to carry forward their sports program.

New starting method in Australia

Australia is faced by a serious shortage of blank cartridges for use in starting track events. Reports state that they have a new method devised which works very satisfactorily. They snap rat traps and state that the report is nearly as loud as the traditional pistol. Some schools of this area who cannot get shells for starting guns might give this idea a tryout.

Roosevelt was number one sports fan of the nation

Schools of this area held memorial services at 11 a. m. and dismissed for the day last Friday in respect for the memory of Franklin Roosevelt. All athletic contests were called off over the past weekend. Roosevelt was one of the greatest friends of sports among leading government officials.

Thornton admitted to suburban league

One of the big events of the week in suburban sports was the unanimous vote of the officials of the big Suburban league in favor of the admission of Thornton Township High school. Thornton recently left the South Suburban League where they have won the basketball title 12 of the past 15 years. The admission of Thornton gives the Suburban League eight members which not only simplifies schedule making but will strengthen the conference to a point where it will be the best in the state. The seven other members are Evanston, Proviso, New Trier, Morton of Cicero, Waukegan, Oak Park and Highland Park.

Sandwich to attend Palatine relays

Latest possible entry in the Palatine Relays is Sandwich, Ill., in class "B". This increases the number of schools to 25 who have indicated their intention of coming to the big Palatine meet on Saturday, May 28.

"B" records exceed "A" in three relays

We are publishing the Palatine Relays records this week. A glance at them shows that in three cases class "B" records are better than class "A". Bensenville has the best 880 yard relay mark in either class in the 13 years the meet has been run. The Bisons of 1941 ran the event in 1:34.9 with Audas, Riley, Pomplun, and Kiefer the record breaking quartet. Last year Geneva's frosh-soph relay broke the all time record for the 440 with a mark of :47.4 and this quartet of speedsters as juniors should make Geneva a leading threat to win the meet title this year.

Cards and Pirates hold hurdle records

The shuttle relay races will be split into "A" and "B" events this year for the first time. Arlington and Palatine are the class champions on the basis of past marks. Palatine's 320 yard high hurdle record of :45.3 made in 1943 by Guenther, Cramer, Herr, and Van Dyke is the best mark to date. Arlington's :46 is the best for "A" class schools. In the low hurdle event at 432 yards Arlington has the best mark of :52 while Palatine has shown the best for "B" schools with a :52.8 in 1943 when Guenther, VanDyke, Jones and Stinson did the hurdling. These will be the relay marks for each class to shoot at in this year's meet..

Best record in pole vault and high jump

Best marks on the record books in individual events are without question the pole vault of 12 feet 7 inches made by Merwin of Woodstock in 1935 and the high jump mark of six feet two made by Zacco of Geneva in 1938. The pole vault mark is just four inches short of the state record.

Antioch lad scored 34½ points

It looks like Coach Al Kroll of Antioch has a real track star in the making in Dan Jones, a sophomore. In a frosh-soph meet involving Antioch, Libertyville, and Barrington Jones won six first places, took a second and anchored the winning relay team for a total of 34½ points. Jones won both hurdles, the high jump, pole vault, broad jump, and shot, and was second in the discus. Incidentally Antioch scored 88½ points to Barrington's 47½ and 14 for the Libertyville frosh.

Stinson's Pirates bolstered by return of Vogt

Track spirit at Palatine was given a fine boost and the chances of Palatine in their own relays next week were moved up aplenty by the return of Clarence Vogt to track. Vogt was conference mile champ as a freshman and sophomore but last year broke a cartilage in a knee and was out all season. This past winter Vogt played basketball wearing a heavy knee brace. His 2:13 half mile Monday shows that he is getting in form in a hurry and it was run after winning the mile.

Palatine had three boys run the half under 2:20 Monday and has high hopes of winning the two mile relay with Vogt, Hapke, Henker and either Weinacht or Wente as the quartet of runners. With Vogt to run the anchor half in the medley Palatine will have a chance to score in that event. The shuttle hurdle teams are shaping up and the Pirates will be in the points in both lows and highs. The frosh-soph relay will be o. k. but the weakest event for Coach Howard Stinson's team will be the 880 relay.

Wauconda and Northbrook starting track

Wauconda and Northbrook are doing a little track this spring and Palatine has invited them to come into whatever dual meets they choose to get some competition and experience. Monday they were over and showed enough stuff to get some places in the conference meet. Novotney of Wauconda, wearing gym shoes, ran the 100 in :11.2 and the 220 in :25.2 in his first track meet. Another Wauconda lad ran a strong third in the mile behind Vogt and Hapke of Palatine who came in with hands clasped for a first place tie. Coach Kessler is handling both track and baseball at Wauconda and John Walgren, who used to compete in track at Iowa State Teachers College is getting track started at Northbrook.

Change schedule

Palatine's schedule for the coming week has been shifted with Barrington, Wauconda, and Northbrook coming for a meet on Tuesday, April 24, and the Pirate Frosh-Sophs going to Bensenville the following day. Barrington was supposed to have been in the meet Monday but begged off because of a frosh-soph meet at Bensenville the following day. Of course the big event of the week comes on Saturday in the Palatine Relays.

Lake Forest loses to Waukegan

It is hard to tell from the Lake Forest defeat at the hands of Waukegan last Friday 79 1/6 to 34 5/6 whether the Scouts can be counted as contenders to repeat their Palatine Relays triumph of a year ago. Lake Forest won only three events against Waukegan's Bulldogs but all the marks were good, especially in the running events, where Coach Lindenmeyer's team usually shines. Larsen won the 220 in :23.8, fine time, and Conover took the shot and Vincent the pole vault. Waukegan made unusual early season marks for a school that usually is the weakling of the Suburban League in track. Bob Jones broke the Waukegan school record in the high hurdles with a :15.9 performance.

See Geneva and Crystal Lake as favorites in Palatine meet

By G. A. McELROY (Sports Editor)

One record is in danger in the 13th annual Palatine Relays next week, Saturday, with the announcement that Hann of Somanauk will enter the mile run. Last year Hann ran the mile in 4:34 in the state district meet which is more than five seconds better than the Palatine meet record. Just how near that mark a boy can come in outdoor competition this early in the season is a question but he should come close if he gets favorable weather.

With 23 schools indicating that they will enter boys the meet stacks up as one of the best in the long series. Certainly the competition for the team championships will be extremely keen and even. Geneva or one of the new schools in class "B" rate as favorites. Palatine, coached by Howard Stinson, won't be far down the line in the final tabulation and might be a contender if the points are widely distributed. On paper Crystal Lake should rate the favorite spot in class "A" but the Lakers have always been slow getting into form in track and have so many years ranked high in pre-meet dope without being a contender that this year they might surprise us. Class "A" schools are all wondering whether Naperville will be back after an absence of two years. They had a monopoly on "A" championships until travel problems caused them to compete at the nearby Wheaton Relays held the same day. There is a good chance that they will come back to Palatine this year.

The morning session of the meet opens at 9:30 with all the field events and 100 yard dash preliminaries in the forenoon. The afternoon relay session opens at 1:15 with the two mile relay the first event followed by the high hurdle shuttle, 100 yard dash finals, frosh-soph relay, medley relay low hurdle shuttle, mile run, and 880 yard relay. In all the relays the "B" class races are run first. Robert Ballard, swimming coach at the North Shore Athletic Club, will be the starter as in past years.

The expected entries in class "A" are Arlington Heights, Crystal Lake, Lake Forest, Leyden, Libertyville, Niles, St. Charles, Belvidere, and Naperville.

In class "B" there are likely to be the following: Antioch, Barrington, Bensenville, Batavia, Geneva, Palatine, Mooseheart, Morrison, Marengo, West Chicago, Woodstock, Sandwich, Wauconda and Northbrook.

Pirates 95, Bensenville 41, Wauconda 8

Palatine ran away with a four school meet involving Bensenville, Wauconda, and Northbrook Monday evening as the Pirates scored 95 to Bensenville's 41, and Wauconda's eight. Wauconda and Northbrook are just starting track and had six boys apiece in the meet. Several Wauconda boys showed good stuff but were handicapped by lack of track shoes. Novotney looked especially good in the sprints. On a dual basis Palatine had an edge of 79 2/3 to Bensenville's 38 1/3. Olenicki captured two firsts and a second for the Bisons to collect 13 points and top all scorers of the meet.

Twenty Palatine boys broke into scoring with Moody getting 12¼, Arendt 10¼, and Vogt 9 to lead in points. The Pirates won 11 out of 14 first places. Clarence Vogt, who returned to track the past week, was a double winner for the Pirates in 880 and mile as was Matt Weinacht in the 440 and high jump. Vogt's 2:13 half mile was one of the best marks of the meet. Ernsting's :11.1 in the 80 ard high hurdles for Bensenville was another fine performance. However the Bison star fell in the low hurdles and did not place. Stevenson, a Palatine freshman, won the broad jump.

The meet was originally scheduled for last Friday with Barrington included but was postponed as evidence of respect for Franklin Roosevelt. Barrington declined to compete Monday and will meet the Pirates in a dual on Tuesday, Apr. 24.

Card nine beats Barrington, 7-1

Last Thursday the Arlington Cards baseball nine went to Barrington to play a return engagement and came back to Arlington with a 7 to 1 non-hit win. (The Cards won the first encounter 5 to 4).

Barrington's lone run was the result of three walks issued by Robinson and an error by Ehard. In the third inning Robinson walked the first two batsmen, got the next batsman on a force out at third, then walked the fourth batsman, which left the bags loaded with one out. At this point the fifth batsman bounced one to Robinson who tossed to Ehard at the plate for a force out, Ehard then made the mistake of attempting to get the man going into third instead of first and threw the ball into left field enabling a man to count from third.

Home plate at Barrington is not of the regulation rubber type and after a few innings is hard to see from the mound. Robinson's curves and drops were being called balls and it was deemed wise to remove him in favor of Jack Brumm at the start of the fourth inning. Brumm's fast ball completely stopped Barrington.

"Oz" Aldrich, the Card's clean-up man, has apparently found his batting eye as he belted out three doubles and a single in four times at bat. Robinson got 3 for 4.

Navajo Legend

Navajo Indians believe that Shiprock, an isolated butte which towers 1,900 feet above the plain, was once a great bird which brought the tribe to New Mexico.

Redwings work out in spite of rain

Although the weather was far from being suited for baseball, the Arlington Redwings held their first practice session last Sunday afternoon. The field was in bad condition from the heavy rains. Batting practice and infield work outs had to be omitted from the routine. The main activity consisted of limbering up games, throwing and chasing fly balls to get the legs in shape.

Next Sunday another practice will be held beginning at 2:00 p. m. Manager Ed Wahl again invites anyone desiring to try out to come to Recreation Park. There are several positions open in the infield and outfield which must be filled before May 6, which will probably be the date of the opening game.

Bensenville Frosh-Sophs lose to Broncs

Barrington's Frosh-Sophs defeated Bensenville 69-49 Tuesday afternoon in a dual meet held on the Bison's track. Rain and a cold wind provided handicaps to good marks. Epley of Barrington was a triple winner in the dashes to lead the scorers. Barrington took first places in all but three events.

Summary

50 yd. dash: won by Epley, Bar; Borg, Ben, 2nd; Renkema, Bar, 3rd; time 306.4.

100 yd. dash: won by Epley, Bar; Borg, Ben, 2nd; Renkema, Bar, 3rd; time :11.7.

Flesch and Bomar in title match

Chicago bowling fans will have the rare opportunity of seeing representatives of the three nationally recognized titles in action April 21-22 when Buddy Bomar and Bill 'Chopper' Flesch, Monarch Beer stars in the Classic League, defend their National Two Man Title against the high scoring ability of Wally Reppenhagen and Bill Benet of Detroit. The forthcoming battle not only involves the coveted title but also carries a purse of $2,000, for the winning duo.

The match will be routed over a 42 game distance which will be divided into six seven game blocks. The actual firing started in Detroit as the tilt is on a home and home basis with the first 21 games rolled in the motor city last week end and the remaining 21 here in Chicago April 21-22 at Matty Maetz's Recreation, 5961 No. Ridge ave. The opening block of seven games next week will hit the lanes on Saturday night at 8:30 p. m. and the other two blocks the following day at 3 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. The scoring will be based on the point system with one point for each game won and one point for total pinfall in each block. In the event of a tie game each duo will be credited with half a point.

Arlington to open NE baseball at Leyden Fri.

The Northeast Baseball Conference opens next Friday, April 20 with Arlington's Cards engaging Leyden at Leyden. To date it has been impossible to determine the possibilities of the Cards. They have now played four practice games and have looked both good and bad.

In the first Barrington game errors and untried pitchers almost proved fatal and hitting was not up to par. At Waukegan there was a stiff wind blowing off the plate and the pitchers, who are not yet really ready for seven innings, tired before the games were over. Hitting was definitely below what it should be at Waukegan and fielding was not secure, although the wind may have had much to do with that.

Arlington has seven pitchers, Robinson, Brumm, Krueger, Wille, Liemetter, Bach and Bracke; at Waukegan Liemetter and Wille had sore arms, and could not throw, so this left five pitchers for four games as both the Varsity and Frosh-Sophs had doubleheaders there. Of the seven pitchers Robinson, Brumm and Krueger are in the best shape and may carry the brunt of the season's work. Wille's arm is still sore, Bach has an infected finger, and Liemetter, who last year had a tendency to wildness, has not worked out enough, Bracke has a good hook but hasn't worked up enough stamina to last a full game. Bach and Bracke pitched for the Frosh-Sophs at Waukegan and were winners in both games.

Aldrich apparently has 1st base sewed up but also looks good at third. The rest of the infield is decidedly uncertain although Bach seems to have the edge at shortstop. Griffith and Crawford are battling for second but also have to watch out for Robinson and Brumm here. Third is between Thompson and Wille, while McArdle has shown signs of being a hitter and may eventually wind up at first with Aldrich moving to third.

Catching is up to Payne and Al Stroker with Ehard getting the nod if neither of these two come through. The outfield seems to be G. Stroker, Holtz, Ehard and Krueger although Bert Dahlstrom is making a strong bid and is really looking a lot like his cousin, Warren, who did a whale of a job in center field last year.

To sum up the situation, in order to come through the Card's pitchers will have to condition themselves well, and the base-running will have to improve. Hitting is gradually coming up to the standard.

The schedule as set up now is as follows:

April 20—Arlington at Leyden.
April 27—Warren at Arlington.
May 4—Arlington at Niles.
May 11—Leyden at Arlington.
May 16—Arlington at Niles. (Frosh-Soph).
May 18—Arlington at Warren.
May 25—Niles at Arlington.

Waukegan is to play a return engagement at Arlington some time in May and it is hoped that more Frosh-Soph games may be obtained.

Arthur Wesolek S1c of Wheeling is back on the high seas on the Pacific and writes that he is well and happy. Arthur was on shore duty for a time after his last leave. He found that too monotonous and chose to go back to sea.

Now some where in the Pacific is Alfred Stier of Mt. Prospect. His address is Cpl. Alfred Stier, 36644966, % PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Roselle brothers meet in Philippines

Stan and Mervin Bokelmann meet after 2 years

From the Philippines comes a letter from Stan Bokelman of Roselle. Stan tells of meeting his brother, Mervin, whom he hasn't seen in two years.

"Have been postponing the small task of writing you for several days. My main reason is that I've been daily awaiting my orders to return to the States. That goes for the rest of the crew too. We have made our requirements of three hundred hours and ten months. And are now waiting. Just waiting for that paper with USA stamped all over it. Well, I've decided to write. There is no telling as to how many days it will take us to return, even if our orders come in tomorrow. That sounds nice and quick. But I've been saying that for several days, 'It's coming tomorrow. 'It's coming tomorrow.'

"Yes, we have made our requirements for returning to the States. But our Squadron is as busy as ever. New crews coming in now and then to replace those going home. They're picking up where we left off. Flying missions over enemy territory and taking pictures of the terrain below.

"What I'm mainly concerned about in this letter is the meeting of my brother, Merv. and me. Gosh but it was one grand feeling to see each other again. It was two years ago that I last saw him prior to his entrance into the Army.

"It was about three weeks ago that I discovered in a newscast that his Division was on one of the islands only a short hop from the island I'm on. I obtained permission to be absent from the Squadron for a week, and took off on what was to be a three day trip by way of air, land and water before I got to where his Infantry outfit was stationed. Spent four days with him, mostly talking over the two years we didn't see each other. His outfit was quite busy. But, having a pretty swell Commanding Officer, he had quite a lot of free time while I was there.

"The day had to come that we had to say goodbye. My time was up. Made pretty good time traveling back, except that I had to wait around two days before catching a plane back to this island.

"Managed to have a few pictures taken of Mervin and myself. Enclosed is the negative of the clearest. To put a Filipino touch to it, we got a young lady to pose with us. We also managed to get her name which is Beatriz Tedov. Speaks pretty good English, too."

Stan's address is T-Sgt. Stan O. Bokelman, 16170414, APO 72, % PM, San Francisco, Calif. His brother's address is Pfc. M. E. Bokelman, 36742124, APO 716, % PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Infantryman given award

Pfc. Francis L. Jorstad, son of Mrs. Frances Jorstad, 310 Prospect Manor ave., Mt. Prospect, has been cited by the 85th Mountain Regiment of the 10th "Mountaineer" Division and awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge for actual participation in combat against the enemy on the Fifth Army front in Italy.

Standards for the badge are high. The decoration is awarded to the infantry soldier who has proved his fighting ability in combat.

The handsome badge consists of silver rifle set against a background of infantry blue, enclosed in a silver wreath.

Michigan

Now transferred to Detroit, Michigan, is Capt. H. D. Blocksom of Mt. Prospect. He has been stationed at the Black Hills ordnance depot at Igloo, South Dakota. He is expected home for a few days en route to his new station.

Oregon

Now at Corvallis, Oregon, is Bruce Kempf of Arlington Heights. He was formerly stationed at Farragut, Idaho. His address is HA 2c Bruce Kempf, USN Hosp., Corvallis, Oregon.

Write 'em now

Unit and ship designations are not permitted in publication of overseas addresses. Complete mailing address of many of the boys in service can be obtained by calling publication office. Arl. Hts. 1520. Ask for Bob.

Indiana

Home over the week end from Billings General hospital, Indianapolis, Indiana, was Harold Nebel of Arlington Heights. Harold was in a jeep accident overseas in Europe and is now back in the States.

Ohio

Now at Columbus, Ohio, is Naomi Budlong of Mt. Prospect. She was formerly stationed at Farragut, Idaho. Her address is S2c Naomi L. Budlong, NAF, Columbus, Ohio.

Germany

From Germany comes word of Harry Kowalski, formerly of Palatine.

"Just a few lines to show my appreciation for the paper I've been receiving every week. I'm with the 7th Army in Germany now. I've been in combat and am still on the front lines. The Germans don't seem to be the 'supermen' they claim to be.

"As yet I haven't run into any of my classmates but hope to soon. We've had a little rain the last couple of days but otherwise the weather has been nice. It gets pretty cold at night when you have to sleep in foxholes though.

"Once again I want to tell you how much I enjoy the paper and hope it keeps coming."

From Germany comes word of "Duke" Kopplin of Arlington Heights.

"Haven't written in quite a while but we have been working like beavers. If it shortens this war when we work night and day, though, I'm willing to work that way for months.

"Met Lt. Francis Kelly of Palatine the other day and we had quite a time talking about the old area. Had quite a time ribbing him about Arlington beating Palatine twice this year. He's in the same division as I am, so we should get a chance to see each other often."

His address is Capt. W. E. Kopplin, 0-1103268, APO 2, % PM, New York, N. Y.

Arriving home on furlough Tuesday was Capt. Otto Masny of Arlington Heights. A phone call Tuesday morning revealed that he had arrived at Ft. Sheridan, after being captured by the Nazis in Germany. He was returned to U. S. lines.

With Uncle Sam

Enlist

Miss Jean Baumgarten of Palatine has enlisted in the service of the United States Army Waes and will be classified as a medical technician. She will receive her basic training at Fort Des Moines Iowa, and later will be sent to an army technical school for appropriate training as a medical technician.

Miss Baumgarten, who is a member of Immanuel Lutheran church of Palatine, is the first young lady from that congregation to enlist in the services of her country.

She was formerly employed at the Douglas Aircraft Co., helping build the vital C-54 transport planes.

Ernest Reisinger of Pfingsten rd., Northbrook, has joined the navy.

England

Now in the air corps in England is Wilbert Grandt of Arlington Heights. Wilbert was formerly stationed in the infantry, though he originally asked to be put in the air corps. He was wounded in Europe last fall, hospitalized, returned to the front lines, suffered a case of trench feet, hospitalized again, and is now in the air corps.

"Have been transferred to the air corps and am sure happy about it. I did my stint in the front lines, and don't feel bad at all about a non-combatant job. My work will be clerical."

Changing his address in England is Kenneth Holste of Mt. Prospect. His address is Pfc. Kenneth P. Holste, 36746178, APO 140, % PM, New York, N. Y.

"As yet I haven't run into any of my classmates but hope to soon. We've had a little rain the last couple of days but otherwise the weather has been nice. It gets pretty cold at night when you have to sleep in foxholes though.

"Once again I want to tell you how much I enjoy the paper and hope it keeps coming."

His address is Pvt. Harry Kowalski, 36612547, APO 360, % PM, New York, N. Y.

From Germany comes word of 'Duke" Kopplin of Arlington Heights.

"Haven't written in quite a while but we have been working like beavers. If it shortens this war when we work night and day, though, I'm willing to work that way for months.

"Met Lt. Francis Kelly of Palatine the other day and we had quite a time talking about the old area. Had quite a time ribbing him about Arlington beating Palatine twice this year. He's in the same division as I am, so we should get a chance to see each other often."

His address is Capt. W. E. Kopplin, 0-1103268, APO 2, % PM, New York, N. Y.

Arriving home on furlough Tuesday was Capt. Otto Masny of Arlington Heights. A phone call Tuesday morning revealed that he had arrived at Ft. Sheridan, after being captured by the Nazis in Germany. He was returned to U. S. lines.

With Uncle Sam

Enlist

Miss Jean Baumgarten of Palatine has enlisted in the service of the United States Army Wacs and will be classified as a medical technician. She will receive her basic training at Fort Des Moines Iowa, and later will be sent to an army technical school for appropriate training as a medical technician.

Miss Baumgarten, who is a member of Immanuel Lutheran church of Palatine, is the first young lady from that congregation to enlist in the services of her country.

She was formerly employed at the Douglas Aircraft Co., helping build the vital C-54 transport planes.

Ernest Reisinger of Pfingsten rd., Northbrook, has joined the navy.

England

Now in the air corps in England is Wilbert Grandt of Arlington Heights. Wilbert was formerly stationed in the infantry, though he originally asked to be put in the air corps. He was wounded in Europe last fall, hospitalized, returned to the front lines, suffered a case of trench feet, hospitalized again, and is now in the air corps.

"Have been transferred to the air corps and am sure happy about it. I did my stint in the front lines and don't feel bad at all about a non-combatant job. My work will be clerical."

His address is Pfc. W. H. Grandt, 36372232, APO 149, % PM, New York, N. Y.

Changing his address in England is Kenneth Holste of Mt. Prospect. His address is Pfc. Kenneth P. Holste, 36746178, APO 140, % PM, New York, N. Y.

Infantryman given award

Pfc. Francis L. Jorstad, son of Mrs. Frances Jorstad, 310 Prospect Manor ave., Mt. Prospect, has been cited by the 85th Mountain Regiment of the 10th "Mountaineer" Division and awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge for actual participation in combat against the enemy on the Fifth Army front in Italy.

Standards for the badge are high. The decoration is awarded to the infantry soldier who has proved his fighting ability in combat.

The handsome badge consists of silver rifle set against a background of infantry blue, enclosed in a silver wreath.

Michigan

Now transferred to Detroit, Michigan, is Capt. H. D. Blocksom of Mt. Prospect. He has been stationed at the Black Hills ordnance depot at Igloo, South Dakota. He is expected home for a few days en route to his new station.

Oregon

Now at Corvallis, Oregon, is Bruce Kempf of Arlington Heights. He was formerly stationed at Farragut, Idaho. His address is HA 2c Bruce Kempf, USN Hosp., Corvallis, Oregon.

Write 'em now

Unit and ship designations are not permitted in publication of overseas addresses. Complete mailing address of many of the boys in service can be obtained by calling publication office. Arl. Hts. 1520. Ask for Bob.

Indiana

Home over the week end from Billings General hospital, Indianapolis, Indiana, was Harold Nebel of Arlington Heights. Harold was in a jeep accident overseas in Europe and is now back in the States.

Ohio

Now at Columbus, Ohio, is Naomi Budlong of Mt. Prospect. She was formerly stationed at Farragut, Idaho. Her address is S2c Naomi L. Budlong, NAF, Columbus, Ohio.

More candy

Things to come—More candy for civilians—maybe—as Quartermaster Corps cuts its requirements of War Food Administration . . . A mechanical manicurist, powered by a small motor, for the consumer market . . . Big orders for American railroad equipment from China . . . and, for the umpteenth time, another government effort to ration eggs.

'10 Little Indians' moves to Studebaker

Passing all known records as a literary murderer, Agatha Christie scored her one hundredth victim to her pen in "Ten Little Indians", the merry comedy melodrama which moved from the Harris Theatre, Chicago, after a 24-week run, to the Studebaker Theatre (Chicago) on Sunday night, April 15, for a limited engagement. It is now in its 37th week in New York City.

Agatha Christie scored her first pronounced victim in "The Murder of Doctor Ackroyd" which has always been her favorite novel and brought her the greatest amount of distinction and wealth up to the present dramatization now current.

The sum total of her literary labors as a writer includes 53 novels in which the detection of crime is the paramount issue involved.

Speaking in dollars and cents, her first novel brought her 50 Pounds. Her favorite story, "The Murder of Doctor Ackroyd", held her record, thirty-seven thousand dollars, and in serial form earned her eleven thousand more.

When she had written "Then There Was None", better known as "Ten Little Indians", in play form, one outstanding weekly paid her ten thousand dollars for the first serial rights. As a popular price seller at twenty-five cents, this edition was one million copies and this was exhaused and is now reaching towards the two million mark.

The cast playing in Chicago is headed by Robert Warwick, Toni Gilman, Alexander D'Arcy, Lillian Foster, Philip Tonge and Hunter Gardner.

More feed subsidies for cream producers

Recommendation to Congress by the War Food Administration to continue the present feed subsidy of 10 cents a pound on butterfat throughout the third quarter of this year, beginning on July 1, is welcome news to Cook county cream producers.

There were some predictions that this subsidy would be reduced to 6 cents a pound during the third and fourth quarter of 1945.

Further stimulation to the production of cream for buttermaking was given by the recommendation that the subsidy be increased to 16 cents a pound for the fourth quarter of the year, beginning on October 1.

Officials of the National Cream quality program point out that with a subsidy of 10 cents a pound for 9 months of the year and 16 cents for three months, the average subsidy for the year will be 11½ cents. Figuring conservatively that the average annual butter fat production of cows is 175 pounds, this means that the cream producer will receive a subsidy payment of $20.12½ cents per cow. A producer with a herd of 6 cows will receive $120.75. This sum is increased, of course, when the cows produce more than 175 pounds of butterfat a year.

Government reports indicate that 1,810,000,000 pounds of butter were produced in the United States last year. It took 1,448,000,000 pounds of butter fat to produce this amount of butter. To produce this amount of butterfat, 38,200,000,000 pounds of 4 per cent milk was required. This was equivalent to 31 2/3 per cent of the 120 billion pounds of milk produced in the United States during 1944.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Edward A. Lucas of Chicago, has sued his wife, Rose, in Superior court for divorce. They were married in Des Plaines October 16, 1941.

Ungraded eggs

Because of heavy demand for eggs and a relatively short supply, steps have been taken to permit the sale of "current receipt" (ungraded) eggs, f.o.b. the seller's farm, place of business or other location, OPA has announced. OPA also said that on sales to a government agency, one and one-half cents a dozen may be added to the ceiling price for eggs that have been treated for preservation by immersion in hot water followed by a coating of mineral oil.

'10 Little Indians' moves to Studebaker

Passing all known records as a literary murderer, Agatha Christie scored her one hundredth victim to her pen in "Ten Little Indians", the merry comedy melodrama which moved from the Harris Theatre, Chicago, after a 24-week run, to the Studebaker Theatre (Chicago) on Sunday night, April 15, for a limited engagement. It is now in its 37th week in New York City.

Agatha Christie scored her first pronounced victim in "The Murder of Doctor Ackroyd" which has always been her favorite novel and brought her the greatest amount of distinction and wealth up to the present dramatization now current.

The sum total of her literary labors as a writer includes 53 novels in which the detection of crime is the paramount issue involved.

Speaking in dollars and cents, her first novel brought her 50 Pounds. Her favorite story, "The Murder of Doctor Ackroyd", held her record, thirty-seven thousand dollars, and in serial form earned her eleven thousand more.

When she had written "Then There Was None", better known as "Ten Little Indians", in play form, one outstanding weekly paid her ten thousand dollars for the first serial rights. As a popular price seller at twenty-five cents, this edition was one million copies and this was exhaused and is now reaching towards the two million mark.

The cast playing in Chicago is headed by Robert Warwick, Toni Gilman, Alexander D'Arcy, Lillian Foster, Philip Tonge and Hunter Gardner.

More feed subsidies for cream producers

Recommendation to Congress by the War Food Administration to continue the present feed subsidy of 10 cents a pound on butterfat throughout the third quarter of this year, beginning on July 1, is welcome news to Cook county cream producers.

There were some predictions that this subsidy would be reduced to 6 cents a pound during the third and fourth quarter of 1945.

Further stimulation to the production of cream for buttermaking was given by the recommendation that the subsidy be increased to 16 cents a pound for the fourth quarter of the year, beginning on October 1.

Officials of the National Cream quality program point out that with a subsidy of 10 cents a pound for 9 months of the year and 16 cents for three months, the average subsidy for the year will be 11½ cents. Figuring conservatively that the average annual butter fat production of cows is 175 pounds, this means that the cream producer will receive a subsidy payment of $20.12½ cents per cow. A producer with a herd of 6 cows will receive $120.75. This sum is increased, of course, when the cows produce more than 175 pounds of butterfat a year.

Government reports indicate that 1,810,000,000 pounds of butter were produced in the United States last year. It took 1,448,000,000 pounds of butter fat to produce this amount of butter. To produce this amount of butterfat, 38,200,000,000 pounds of 4 per cent milk was required. This was equivalent to 31 2/3 per cent of the 120 billion pounds of milk produced in the United States during 1944.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Edward A. Lucas of Chicago, has sued his wife, Rose, in Superior court for divorce. They were married in Des Plaines October 16, 1941.

Ungraded eggs

Because of heavy demand for eggs and a relatively short supply, steps have been taken to permit the sale of "current receipt" (ungraded) eggs, f.o.b. the seller's farm, place of business or other location, OPA has announced. OPA also said that on sales to a government agency, one and one-half cents a dozen may be added to the ceiling price for eggs that have been treated for preservation by immersion in hot water followed by a coating of mineral oil.

Recommend tile drainage as conservation practice

Improved drainage of wet but productive farm land is recommended as one of the best means for increasing production of both crop and livestock products.

Usually both open ditches and tile drains are needed for taking away surplus water. In most cases the open ditches must be dredged to provide an outlet for the wet area and then tile drains used to carry away the surplus soil water. In all cases, it is important that surveys be made and the ditches and the tile lines staked to an accurate grade in order to really obtain drainage.

In no case should tile less than 5 inches in diameter be used and as areas drained increase the tile should also be increased. Definite recommendations on this subject are given in Illinois Circular 493, "Farm Drainage."

Recently the Agricultural Adjustment Agency has recognized drainage practices as practices on which payment can be made. They state, however, that payment for drainage practices, either open ditches or tile lines, will be made only when proper construction according to surveys is carried out.

According to R. C. Hay, extension agricultural engineer, the use of proper drainage and cultivation of land now too wet to regularly farm also is a good soil conservation practice, since it permits the use of the steeper land for pasture and hay after the more fertile acres may be reclaimed and farmed intensively. Sometimes the drainage of a rather small acreage where wet spots or ponds now exist add greatly to the convenience of farming good crop land by making it possible to cross with farm implements.

In order to get sufficient operation of drainage ditches and tile outlets it is important that they be kept clear of weeds, brush, trash and sediment in order to provide the maximum flow of water in flood periods.

"This practice is set up to increase production," W. A. Hinz, member of the Cook county AAA committee said. "Farmers who plan to carry out any drainage or ditching practices should contact the county AAA office before they begin performance, for prior approval of the county AAA committee must be secured before this practice is begun if credit is to be earned under the 1945 AAA program.

Sudan-soybean pasture helps keep milk flow

The great drop in milk yields in summertime may be largely prevented by using supplementary pasture crops, believes W. B. Nevens, professor of dairy cattle feeding, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Experiments conducted at the Illinois agricultural experiment station have shown that a mixture of Sudan grass and soybeans furnishes large amounts of pasture during the middle of the summer when other green pastures furnish little feed or are completely dry. The pasturing of this crop in addition to the usual pastures helps to maintain milk yields and to prevent live-weight losses.

The Sudan-soybean mixture was seeded immediately after corn planting and was ready for pasturing in four to six weeks. In the experiment two-thirds of the entire yield of the crop was produced between July 15 and September 1. This is the period during which most grass pastures are dry and bare.

In central Illinois Sudan grass is a short-season crop, most of its yield being produced between July 10 and September 20. A few acres of Sudan-soybean pasture may be found advantageous in supplementing other pastures rather than in completly replacing them. These facts were brought out in a six-year study of pastures for dairy cattle.

The study has been published in Bulletin 505, "Better Pastures for Dairy Cattle," and copies are available upon request to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Pigs gain best that are creep-fed

What about creep-feeding as a method of feeding pigs? When spring pigs on rye pasture were creep-fed at the University of Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station, 5.6 per cent more of the pigs survived to weaning age, J. L. Krider tells us. "This fact alone probably justified creep-feeding, especially this year when we need every pound of meat that can be produced."

The average daily gains of the pigs are greater under the creep feeding method. The difference of .06 pound a pig a day is perhaps of doubtful significance, but the total gain is six pounds a day for the 100 pigs, Krider points out. If they are fed forty days, that's 24 pounds more pork from the 10 pigs at weaning time.

Feed consumption of sows and litters is higher in the creep-fed lots because of the extra feed consumed in the creeps. However, the feed consumed for 100 pounds of net gain, including both sows and pigs, is smaller with the pig creep. Creep-fed pigs required 128 pounds less feed to produce 100 pounds of net gain.

More cotton

As a further step toward increasing the production of yarns and fabrics needed to meet urgent military requirements, WPB has directed the conversion to cotton yarn production of at least 50 per cent of the country's spinning facilities producting spun rayon and similar yarns. The direction affects all mills operating on the cotton system and producing spun rayon, cotton-rayon mixed or other blended or mixed fiber yarn except cotton-wool blended or mixed yarns. It applies to both sale yarn and integrated mills. The direction became effective on March 26, 1945 for all persons who produce yarn, but no fabrics; and on April 9, 1945, for all persons who produce both yarns and fabrics.

Illinois has passed peak in farm products

Prospective plantings and livestock inventories indicate that the peak of agricultural production is past so far as Illinois is concerned, says L. J. Norton, acting head, Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Weather permitting, we will have another year of heavy crop production, but reduced inventories forecast another year of heavy crop production, but reduced inventories forecast a lower production of livestock products.

The March 1 planting intention figures released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate an increase in small grain acreage, particularly oats, but a somewhat smaller combined acreage of our two most important cash crops, corn and soybeans. The combined acreage of small grains, including wheat sown last fall, is up 482,000 acres, while the combined acreage of corn and soybeans is down 65,000 acres. Prospective acreage of hay is also down 130,000 acres.

These changes reflect a tendency to grow larger acreages of crops with lower labor requirements as well as to move away from our very intensive and soil-depleting wartime cropping systems. Fear of chinch bug damage is also a factor in the decrease in corn acreage in some areas.

An increase in hay and pasture acreage in 1946 is foreshadowed by the larger acreage in small grains.

These changes indicate that Illinois farmers plan to utilize all their land in 1945, but to do so a little less intensively than has been the case since 1942.

Expect increase in corn borer, chinch bugs

"Recently we talked with Mr. R. E. Apple, Assistant State Entomologist who indicated that we may expect an increase in corn borer and possibly chinch bugs," states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes. "The practical means of control of these two pests is first, for corn borer do not plant corn until after May 15. From May 15 to June 1 we believe that the infestation will not be too great. For chinch bugs we usually find bugs coming from oats into corn fields where they do their damage. Heavy rains about the time the bugs are just hatching out, for a prolonged period with high humidity usually kills chinch bugs. From all appearances 1945 may be dry which will be favorable to bugs and unfavorable to corn borer. Therefore we would suggest that chinch bugs will usually bother corn adjoining on oats, wheat or barley fields. We doubt that the bugs will be as bad as they were in 1934 and possibly if we avoid as far as possible keeping oats and corn fields together this will be sufficient.

"It is our opinion that it is cheaper to let bugs have two or three acres of corn than it is to put in a lot of time building barriers unless the bugs are very, very bad. A strip of area perhaps two or three acres wide between oats and corn will help a little but not a great deal in preventing bugs moving from oats into corn."

Vitamins for pigs

The critical periods in pork production are gestation, lactation and the period from birth to 75 pounds, says J. L. Krider, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. The brood sow and pigs should have green succulent pastures throughout as much of the year as possible. Pastures supply the B-2 factors, vitamin A and probably some unknown factors as well as other nutrients. Pasture is a "safety valve" in swine feeding. With pigs on good green succulent pastures, vitamin deficiencies are not likely. However, we still need to be concerned about supplying protein and minerals to balance grains and pastures produced on the farm.

Farm rental basis allows improvements

Experience with Illinois landlords and tenants indicates that owners have NOT found it advisable to increase their rental shares or their cash rent as they have modernized their buildings and improved living conditions for their tenants, according to J. B. Cunningham, associate professor of farm management extension, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

In general, landlords are repaid for their increased expenses by getting better tenants and increased production and income, the farm management specialist said. However, he continued, some landowners indicate experiences to the contrary.

Some landlords on livestock farms are paid for their investment in extra building by using livestock-share leases and of course by getting good livestock tenants There is more variation in earnings due to efficiency of operation on livestock farms than on grain farms. Likewise, the landlord's expenses and other responsibilities are greater on a livestock-share farm. These points should be considered in changing from a crop-share to a livestock-share type of farming.

On some farms, especially where the landlord cannot finance needed improvements, Cunningham reported, the tenant makes necessary investments with the written understanding that he will be repaid for the unexhausted portion of the cost when he leaves the farm. In such cases, the tenants often receive other favorable considerations to compensate for investments which are ordinarily made by landlords. A clause covering such investments is included in lease forms published by the department of agricultural economics at the University of Illinois.

The specialist added that on farms previously limed and phosphated, where the tenant has received benefits from the first applications, a growing practice is for the tenant to pay one-half the cost of reliming and rephosphating. When this practice is followed, there is usually a written understanding that the cost will be amortized over a period of five years for lime and ten years for rock phosphate.

Recommend tile drainage as conservation practice

Improved drainage of wet but productive farm land is recommended as one of the best means for increasing production of both crop and livestock products.

Usually both open ditches and tile drains are needed for taking away surplus water. In most cases the open ditches must be dredged to provide an outlet for the wet area and then tile drains used to carry away the surplus soil water. In all cases, it is important that surveys be made and the ditches and the tile lines staked to an accurate grade in order to really obtain drainage.

In no case should tile less than 5 inches in diameter be used and as areas drained increase the tile should also be increased. Definite recommendations on this subject are given in Illinois Circular 493, "Farm Drainage."

Recently the Agricultural Adjustment Agency has recognized drainage practices as practices on which payment can be made. They state, however, that payment for drainage practices, either open ditches or tile lines, will be made only when proper construction according to surveys is carried out.

According to R. C. Hay, extension agricultural engineer, the use of proper drainage and cultivation of land now too wet to regularly farm also is a good soil conservation practice, since it permits the use of the steeper land for pasture and hay after the more fertile acres may be reclaimed and farmed intensively. Sometimes the drainage of a rather small acreage where wet spots or ponds now exist add greatly to the convenience of farming good crop land by making it possible to cross with farm implements.

In order to get sufficient operation of drainage ditches and tile outlets it is important that they be kept clear of weeds, brush, trash and sediment in order to provide the maximum flow of water in flood periods.

"This practice is set up to increase production," W. A. Hinz, member of the Cook county AAA committee said. "Farmers who plan to carry out any drainage or ditching practices should contact the county AAA office before they begin performance, for prior approval of the county AAA committee must be secured before this practice is begun if credit is to be earned under the 1945 AAA program.

Sudan-soybean pasture helps keep milk flow

The great drop in milk yields in summertime may be largely prevented by using supplementary pasture crops, believes W. B. Nevens, professor of dairy cattle feeding, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Experiments conducted at the Illinois agricultural experiment station have shown that a mixture of Sudan grass and soybeans furnishes large amounts of pasture during the middle of the summer when other green pastures furnish little feed or are completely dry. The pasturing of this crop in addition to the usual pastures helps to maintain milk yields and to prevent live-weight losses.

The Sudan-soybean mixture was seeded immediately after corn planting and was ready for pasturing in four to six weeks. In the experiment two-thirds of the entire yield of the crop was produced between July 15 and September 1. This is the period during which most grass pastures are dry and bare.

In central Illinois Sudan grass is a short-season crop, most of its yield being produced between July 10 and September 20. A few acres of Sudan-soybean pasture may be found advantageous in supplementing other pastures rather than in completly replacing them. These facts were brought out in a six-year study of pastures for dairy cattle.

The study has been published in Bulletin 505, "Better Pastures for Dairy Cattle," and copies are available upon request to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Pigs gain best that are creep-fed

What about creep-feeding as a method of feeding pigs? When spring pigs on rye pasture were creep-fed at the University of Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station, 5.6 per cent more of the pigs survived to weaning age, J. L. Krider tells us. "This fact alone probably justified creep-feeding, especially this year when we need every pound of meat that can be produced."

The average daily gains of the pigs are greater under the creep feeding method. The difference of .06 pound a pig a day is perhaps of doubtful significance, but the total gain is six pounds a day for the 100 pigs, Krider points out. If they are fed forty days, that's 24 pounds more pork from the 10 pigs at weaning time.

Feed consumption of sows and litters is higher in the creep-fed lots because of the extra feed consumed in the creeps. However, the feed consumed for 100 pounds of net gain, including both sows and pigs, is smaller with the pig creep. Creep-fed pigs required 128 pounds less feed to produce 100 pounds of net gain.

Mr. and Mrs. Weber entertained Mrs. McCarthy, Miss Lydia Weber and Mr. and Mrs. Jacobus and family of Oak Park on Thursday evening. The occasion was in honor of Mr. Weber's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Keiler welcomed a little daughter Wednesday.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bornack Jr. was christened last Sunday by Rev. Zersen in the church. The name Walter Arthur Herman was given. Arthur Bornack and Herman Kruse acted as sponsors.

Bensenville

A surprise party was given in honor of Mrs. J. Marth at Franl Birce's home by "Mary and Martha" and "Baraca" classes of the First Evangelical church. About 50 members were present and all had an enjoyable time.

More cotton

As a further step toward increasing the production of yarns and fabrics needed to meet urgent military requirements, WPB has directed the conversion to cotton yarn production of at least 50 per cent of the country's spinning facilities producting spun rayon and similar yarns. The direction affects all mills operating on the cotton system and producing spun rayon, cotton-rayon mixed or other blended or mixed fiber yarn except cotton-wool blended or mixed yarns. It applies to both sale yarn and integrated mills. The direction became effective on March 26, 1945 for all persons who produce yarn, but no fabrics; and on April 9, 1945, for all persons who produce both yarns and fabrics.

Illinois has passed peak in farm products

Prospective plantings and livestock inventories indicate that the peak of agricultural production is past so far as Illinois is concerned, says L. J. Norton, acting head, Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Weather permitting, we will have another year of heavy crop production, but reduced inventories forecast another year of heavy crop production, but reduced inventories forecast a lower production of livestock products.

The March 1 planting intention figures released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate an increase in small grain acreage, particularly oats, but a somewhat smaller combined acreage of our two most important cash crops, corn and soybeans. The combined acreage of small grains, including wheat sown last fall, is up 482,000 acres, while the combined acreage of corn and soybeans is down 65,000 acres. Prospective acreage of hay is also down 130,000 acres.

These changes reflect a tendency to grow larger acreages of crops with lower labor requirements as well as to move away from our very intensive and soil-depleting wartime cropping systems. Fear of chinch bug damage is also a factor in the decrease in corn acreage in some areas.

An increase in hay and pasture acreage in 1946 is foreshadowed by the larger acreage in small grains.

These changes indicate that Illinois farmers plan to utilize all their land in 1945, but to do so a little less intensively than has been the case since 1942.

Expect increase in corn borer, chinch bugs

"Recently we talked with Mr. R. E. Apple, Assistant State Entomologist who indicated that we may expect an increase in corn borer and possibly chinch bugs," states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes. "The practical means of control of these two pests is first, for corn borer do not plant corn until after May 15. From May 15 to June 1 we believe that the infestation will not be too great. For chinch bugs we usually find bugs coming from oats into corn fields where they do their damage. Heavy rains about the time the bugs are just hatching out, for a prolonged period with high humidity usually kills chinch bugs. From all appearances 1945 may be dry which will be favorable to bugs and unfavorable to corn borer. Therefore we would suggest that chinch bugs will usually bother corn adjoining on oats, wheat or barley fields. We doubt that the bugs will be as bad as they were in 1934 and possibly if we avoid as far as possible keeping oats and corn fields together this will be sufficient.

"It is our opinion that it is cheaper to let bugs have two or three acres of corn than it is to put in a lot of time building barriers unless the bugs are very, very bad. A strip of area perhaps two or three acres wide between oats and corn will help a little but not a great deal in preventing bugs moving from oats into corn."

Vitamins for pigs

The critical periods in pork production are gestation, lactation and the period from birth to 75 pounds, says J. L. Krider, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. The brood sow and pigs should have green succulent pastures throughout as much of the year as possible. Pastures supply the B-2 factors, vitamin A and probably some unknown factors as well as other nutrients. Pasture is a "safety valve" in swine feeding. With pigs on good green succulent pastures, vitamin deficiencies are not likely. However, we still need to be concerned about supplying protein and minerals to balance grains and pastures produced on the farm.

Farm rental basis allows improvements

Experience with Illinois landlords and tenants indicates that owners have NOT found it advisable to increase their rental shares or their cash rent as they have modernized their buildings and improved living conditions for their tenants, according to J. B. Cunningham, associate professor of farm management extension, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

In general, landlords are repaid for their increased expenses by getting better tenants and increased production and income, the farm management specialist said. However, he continued, some landowners indicate experiences to the contrary.

Some landlords on livestock farms are paid for their investment in extra building by using livestock-share leases and of course by getting good livestock tenants There is more variation in earnings due to efficiency of operation on livestock farms than on grain farms. Likewise, the landlord's expenses and other responsibilities are greater on a livestock-share farm. These points should be considered in changing from a crop-share to a livestock-share type of farming.

On some farms, especially where the landlord cannot finance needed improvements, Cunningham reported, the tenant makes necessary investments with the written understanding that he will be repaid for the unexhausted portion of the cost when he leaves the farm. In such cases, the tenants often receive other favorable considerations to compensate for investments which are ordinarily made by landlords. A clause covering such investments is included in lease forms published by the department of agricultural economics at the University of Illinois.

The specialist added that on farms previously limed and phosphated, where the tenant has received benefits from the first applications, a growing practice is for the tenant to pay one-half the cost of reliming and rephosphating. When this practice is followed, there is usually a written understanding that the cost will be amortized over a period of five years for lime and ten years for rock phosphate.

Palatine Medic wins bronze star

Sending several letters from Germany is Lynn Olson of Palatine. We have combined them to make an interesting tale.

"It was warm enough yesterday for the Chaplain to baptize some of the boys in sort of a canal or dock of the Rhine. They went in waist deep, and did all the ducking and other rigmarole. Of course the water was slightly cold, but we have some very hardy men in this outfit.

"As far as being hardy is concerned, I think I was hardier back in the States. If I had to walk 25 miles now I think I'd fall out after 4 or 5. We don't get much walking after getting into combat. Every time we make a move it is by truck or jeep, and when we go out on a litter haul we always use the jeep, walking only a couple hundred feet.

"There was a time when I could go through an hour's calisthenics and never feel it, but I'm afraid that just 15 minutes of it now would put me under.

Germany much like Illinois

"Germany looks much like Illinois. Only difference is that some of the houses aren't near as up to date. And the buildings aren't near as tall. The houses are built of stone and clay, instead of wood. It is the small towns and farms that are different, as most of the cities are just like those at home.

"Usually when we get into a city or town we find it was so bombarded that there is nothing left to tell what it looked like. Lately we have had better luck, for our unit is moving so fast that the towns have hardly been hit.

"Trains here (we have some running) are just like those in the rest of Europe. They are smaller than ours and have four large wheels instead of eight as at home.

Can't talk to German civilians

"The German civilians have just a few hours on the street each day, and it is then that they do all their business. The streets are filled then with people pulling little carts and carrying baskets. G. I.s can have nothing to do with then. There is $65 fine for talking with a civilian.

"Just to show you how some men are reported missing and turn up I'll tell you of one case. A man was transferred to our aid station from regimental aid, and was with us for some time. The 1st Sergeant at regimental forgot to record his transfer, or had lost his records. He noticed the man wasn't around any more, so marked him as missing in action.

"It might have been just as well if no one had found him for he could have gone home, gotten out of the army and perhaps have collected $10,000 insurance after a time when he was presumed dead.

Get clean clothes

"Our laundry is taken care of by the Quartermaster. We are supposed to get clean or new clothes every week, at which time we take a shower. Sometimes we take the showers in large tents, but lately we have been near mines and have been using the indoor showers provided for the miners. The showers are in tiled rooms. Sometimes we get showers every day, and some times it's weeks before we get near one. Longest time we spent on line without clean clothes or shower was 50 days.

"I suppose everyone back home is reading the papers and rapidly forming the opinion the war is about over. Maybe the end isn't far off, then again it may be a long time. I'm going to celebrate when this war is over and take a nice long ocean trip to the South Seas. Hope I get a few weeks at home before going out there, though.

"Got a sort of lucky break the other day. I happened to be one of two men in the aid station that was awarded the Bronze Star. That medal is at the bottom of the list. Important thing is that when discharges are considered they give a certain number of points for decorations.

"About the most pitiful sight I've seen over here was an old lady walking along through the knee deep snow up to the front door of her home. The front door was all that remained. The rest was a smoking pile of rubble, the cows, roasted, still standing in their stalls. That was in Belgium where the scene was repeated many times on those innocent victims of war.

"After all the mangled corpses and suffering soldiers I've seen, my emotions are not perhaps so easily aroused any more but things like that still pull the old heart strings."

Builds bridge under fire for TD unit in Germany

Capt. Edward H. Wolske, husband of Mrs. Mildred Wolske, of 606 East Park, Arlington Heights, had exciting experiences recently during the fighting on the western front in the Siegfried Line, near Hellenthal, Germany.

Captain Wolske commands company A of the 269th Engineer Combat Battalion. His company was given the mission of building an important bridge in order to assist the advance of a tank destroyer platoon in support of a regiment in the American 69th infantry division.

The Captain made a daylight reconnaisance in order to obtain information for the building of this bridge, and after getting the information needed he returned to his company area and supervised a practice 'run' of building the bridge. Several days later the bridge was constructed by his company under German artillery and sniper fire. The successful completion of this bridge by Captain Wolske's company enabled the platoon to advance rapidly, and also aided materially in the capture of six towns by the American 69th Infantry Division.

During a second advance several days later, Captain Wolske supervised the clearing of minefields, mined roads, and filling of road craters. His company of engineers provided safe crossing places in the second band of pillboxes in the Siegried line. They also constructed a section or road through a minefield and helped erect two treadway bridges. His men removed 103 German mines from roads and 50 yards of large trees felled across a road and mined. Again, the engineer's mission was successfully completed, and the TD's moved forward. During this action two German soldiers surrendered to men from Captain Wolske's company.

It Happened Here

The Cherry Tree

Cherry tree, O, cherry tree,
In such rapt expectancy,
Young and fair and so heart breaking,
Maid her first communion taking.
Cherry tree, your vestal hour
Brief may be but hath for dower
All the orchard's green and gold
And the dawn's flush still may hold.
Cherry tree, your robe is grown
In some paradisal zone.
Standing there amid the grasses,
Petals drop for youth that passes.

Palatine Medic wins bronze star

Sending several letters from Germany is Lynn Olson of Palatine. We have combined them to make an interesting tale.

"It was warm enough yesterday for the Chaplain to baptize some of the boys in sort of a canal or dock of the Rhine. They went in waist deep, and did all the ducking and other rigmarole. Of course the water was slightly cold, but we have some very hardy men in this outfit.

"As far as being hardy is concerned, I think I was hardier back in the States. If I had to walk 25 miles now I think I'd fall out after 4 or 5. We don't get much walking after getting into combat. Every time we make a move it is by truck or jeep, and when we go out on a litter haul we always use the jeep, walking only a couple hundred feet.

"There was a time when I could go through an hour's calisthenics and never feel it, but I'm afraid that just 15 minutes of it now would put me under.

"It isn't the work here that gets us down, but the long period at the front without rest that tells on a man. Spending a month on the front without a break is a strain of some sort.

Germany much like Illinois

"Germany looks much like Illinois. Only difference is that some of the houses aren't near as up to date. And the buildings aren't near as tall. The houses are built of stone and clay, instead of wood. It is the small towns and farms that are different, as most of the cities are just like those at home.

"Usually when we get into a city or town we find it was so bombarded that there is nothing left to tell what it looked like. Lately we have had better luck, for our unit is moving so fast that the towns have hardly been hit.

"Trains here (we have some running) are just like those in the rest of Europe. They are smaller than ours and have four large wheels instead of eight as at home.

Can't talk to German civilians

"The German civilians have just a few hours on the street each day, and it is then that they do all their business. The streets are filled then with people pulling little carts and carrying baskets. G. I.s can have nothing to do with then. There is $65 fine for talking with a civilian.

"Just to show you how some men are reported missing and turn up I'll tell you of one case. A man was transferred to our aid station from regimental aid, and was with us for some time. The 1st Sergeant at regimental forgot to record his transfer, or had lost his records. He noticed the man wasn't around any more, so marked him as missing in action.

"It might have been just as well if no one had found him for he could have gone home, gotten out of the army and perhaps have collected $10,000 insurance after a time when he was presumed dead.

Get clean clothes

"Our laundry is taken care of by the Quartermaster. We are supposed to get clean or new clothes every week, at which time we take a shower. Sometimes we take the showers in large tents, but lately we have been near mines and have been using the indoor showers provided for the miners. The showers are in tiled rooms. Sometimes we get showers every day, and some times it's weeks before we get near one. Longest time we spent on line without clean clothes or shower was 50 days.

"I suppose everyone back home is reading the papers and rapidly forming the opinion the war is about over. Maybe the end isn't far off, then again it may be a long time. I'm going to celebrate when this war is over and take a nice long ocean trip to the South Seas. Hope I get a few weeks at home before going out there, though.

"Got a sort of lucky break the other day. I happened to be one of two men in the aid station that was awarded the Bronze Star. That medal is at the bottom of the list. Important thing is that when discharges are considered they give a certain number of points for decorations.

"About the most pitiful sight I've seen over here was an old lady walking along through the knee deep snow up to the front door of her home. The front door was all that remained. The rest was a smoking pile of rubble, the cows, roasted, still standing in their stalls. That was in Belgium where the scene was repeated many times on those innocent victims of war.

"After all the mangled corpses and suffering soldiers I've seen, my emotions are not perhaps so easily aroused any more but things like that still pull the old heart strings."

Builds bridge under fire for TD unit in Germany

Capt. Edward H. Wolske, husband of Mrs. Mildred Wolske, of 606 East Park, Arlington Heights, had exciting experiences recently during the fighting on the western front in the Siegfried Line, near Hellenthal, Germany.

Captain Wolske commands company A of the 269th Engineer Combat Battalion. His company was given the mission of building an important bridge in order to assist the advance of a tank destroyer platoon in support of a regiment in the American 69th infantry division.

The Captain made a daylight reconnaisance in order to obtain information for the building of this bridge, and after getting the information needed he returned to his company area and supervised a practice 'run' of building the bridge. Several days later the bridge was constructed by his company under German artillery and sniper fire. The successful completion of this bridge by Captain Wolske's company enabled the platoon to advance rapidly, and also aided materially in the capture of six towns by the American 69th infantry Division.

During a second advance several days later, Captain Wolske supervised the clearing of minefields, mined roads, and filling of road craters. His company of engineers provided safe crossing places in the second band of pillboxes in the Siegried line. They also constructed a section or road through a minefield and helped erect two treadway bridges. His men removed 103 German mines from roads and 50 yards of large trees felled across a road and mined. Again, the engineer's mission was successfully completed, and the TD's moved forward. During this action two German soldiers surrendered to men from Captain Wolske's company.

It Happened Here

The Cherry Tree

Cherry tree, O, cherry tree,
In such rapt expectancy,
Young and fair and so heart breaking,
Maid her first communion taking.
Cherry tree, your vestal hour
Brief may be but hath for dower
All the orchard's green and gold
And the dawn's flush still may hold.
Cherry tree, your robe is grown
In some paradisal zone.
Standing there amid the grasses,
Petals drop for youth that passes.

—S'AMUSER.

Roselle flier wins DFC for work in Germany

Capt. Joseph O'Neil given award

"For extraordinary achievement in aerial flight against the enemy," Captain Joseph J. O'Neil, of Roselle, Illinois, was recently awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. According to the Ninth Air Force General Order, on January 22, "When he was leading his flight on a dive-bombing mission against a concentration of enemy vehicles in Germany, Lt. O'Neil's aircraft was struck by heavy antiaircraft fire which severely damaged it. Despite the extreme difficulty and hazard of continued flight he nevertheless led his flight with outstanding leadership to complete the mission with excellent results. His unusual aerial profiency nd courage in the face of intense enemy fire on this occasion reflect great credit upon himself and the Army Air Forces."

The 21 year-old Thunderbolt pilot, veteran of over seventy-five combat missions, wears the Purple Heart and the Air medal with 11 Oak Leaf Clusters. He participated in the pre-invasion attacks on the enemy transportation system, in the invasion battles, and the break-through at St. Lo. He accompanied General Patton's spear heads in the drive across France, covering the flanks and softening positions ahead. He fought in the reduction of the Ardennes salient, and in the Ninth Army's recent advance to the Rhine. His Group received the Presidential Citation as well as frequent commendations from both air and ground commanders.

A graduate of Glen Ellyn High School, Captain O'Neil was employed by the Illinois Tool Works before entering the army. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. O'Neil of Roselle.

Scott Field

Pvt. Verton Collignon, husband of Mrs. Iona Belendorf Collignon, Arlington Heights, was one of 15 added to the honor roll of the Radio Fundamental Branch, a special course of the radio Operators Mechanic School, at Scott Field, parent radio school of the AAF Training Command.

This phase is one of many to be completed by Pvt. Collignon, a part of his intensive training to become a radio-gunner on one of America's great bombers.

Braves 2 miles machine gun fire to rescue men

The story of how Bob Oliver, an Army medic from Palatine, braved two miles of enemy machine gun and sniper fire to rescue suffering comrades was told this week in the announcement of a citation given to him. The citation follows:

"Robert J. Oliver, 36657699, Private First Class, Medical Department, United States Army. For heroic achievement in action on 5 March 1945, near Castel d'Aiano, Italy. Assigned to relay casualties from an aid station to the rear, Private First Class Oliver braved enemy sniper and machine gun fire to reach wounded two miles away after previous attempts to rescue suffering comrades had failed.

"Although he was harassed by enemy sniper and machine gun fire and confronted with terrain features that made any undertaking hazardous, he rendered invaluable service in aiding speedy evacuation of wounded personnel. His unselfish service and enterprising heroism are graphically illustrative of the highest traditions of the United States Army."

Philippines

From the Philippines comes word of Henry Schaefer of Arlington Heights.

"During the past four months I have had several temporary addresses, but since they were only of a temporary nature, I thought it best to wait until I would receive a permanent address. Please send the Herald to my new address.

"Haven't received a copy of the paper since December 18. Sure would like to receive some copies in the future.

"At the present time I am on one of the Philippine Islands. The island is nice, and in some respects beautiful. The natives are very friendly. If only this place wasn't so far from home, I'd feel a lot better. But I guess it's O. K. The outfit I'm attached to is really swell. We all have a good time together."

His address is Pvt. Henry W. Schaefer, 36910593, APO 40, % P M, San Francisco, Calif.

Lt. Donald Bingham of Wheeling, now stationed in the Philippines, says he is glad to get the addresses of service men and women of this area and is constantly on the look out for old acquaintances. He pilots a C-46 troop carrier plane and covers the entire Pacific area.

In New Guinea he met Mary Bazso, formerly at the Crane Fund, who is a Red Cross Recreational worker on that island. On Biak Island, he ran across Madeline Swenson, who is serving as an army nurse. Miss Swenson is well known in Wheeling having served as nurse at the Crane Fund for several years.

Now in the Philippines is Lawrence Engelking of Arlington Heights. His address is Pfc. Lawrence Engelking, 36629918, APO 74, % PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Changing his address in the Philippines is Robert Taylor of Arlington Heights. His address is Pfc. Robert M. Taylor, 36677394, APO 72, % PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Four Schaefers now in service

PFC. ARNOLD SCHAEFER

PFC. ARTHUR SCHAEFER

3 in Germany 1 in Oklahoma

Another family with 4 men in service is the John Schaefer family of Arlington Heights. Three in Germany and one in the States is their record.

Arnold entered the service July 12, 1942. He went overseas in September of last year, going first to England. He is a cook. France, Germany, Holland, and now back to Germany with the 95th division of Patton's Third army is his record. His address is Pfc. Arnold Schaefer, 363593-25, APO 95, % PM, New York, N. Y.

Also, in the 95th division is Arthur Schaefer. Art, twin brother of Arnold, entered service June 24, 1944. He went overseas last December, going directly to France. Now he is with his brother in Germany. Both are in the infantry. His address is Pfc. Arthur Schaefer, 36989944, APO 95, % PM, New York, N. Y.

The other son in Germany is Harvey. He entered service November of '43, going overseas just two weeks after brother Arnold, and also to England. He soon went to France and is now in General Simpson's Ninth army. His address is Pfc. Harvey Schaefer, 36770535, APO 339, % PM, New York, N. Y.

The fourth son in service is Francis Schaefer who went into the Field Artillery the same day as his brother, Art, June 24, 1944. He is now stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. His address is Pvt. Francis Schaefer, B Btry Tng Det No. 2, FAS, Ft. Sill, Oklahoma.

PFC. HARVEY SCHAEFER

PVT. FRANCIS SCHAEFER

Germany

A letter from Cpl. Melvin Becker of Wheeling, was received on Monday. He is with the 9th armed division of the 1st army and is

Wounded vet in England

Pfc. Fred Kuester of Palatine, recently wounded in Germany, is now stationed at a hospital in England. Fred was wounded March 19, according to word received two weeks ago by the former Clara Metz of Arlington Heights. He suffered wounds in the hips, but complete details are not known.

Fred's address is Pfc. F. G. Kuester, 36989940, Dept of Patients No. 4149, Ward 40, U. S. Army Hosp Plant, APO 63 % PM, New York, N. Y.

Virginia

Now at Fort Monroe, Virginia, is Fred Gusewelle of Palatine. He was formerly stationed at Fort Revere, Massachusetts. His address is Cpl. Fred Gusewelle, 3rd Student Btry, CAST, Fort Monroe, Va.

Now at Portsmouth, Virginia, is David Borgardt of Arlington Heights. He was formerly stationed at Baltimore, Maryland. His address is David Borgardt, C. G. Depot, Portsmouth, Va.

Germany

After a silence of over a month a letter from Capt. John Sicks of Wheeling tells of being somewhere in Germany. The countryside was very scenic and they were quartered in a German house which had been evacuated before the arrival of the troops.

With Uncle Sam

Italy

With a fifteenth air force service command air service group in Italy—"For meritorious and outstanding service in support of combat operations against the enemy for the period of 1 January to 30 June 1944" the signal company of which Staff Sergeant Valdimar Hernandez of Roselle is a member has been awarded the Meritorious Service Unit Plaque. The award was made known in a letter of commendation from Major General Natham Twining, Commanding General of the Fifteenth Air Force.

As a symbolic reward for the achievement, the combined unit received a mahogany plaque on which the words "Service" and "Award of Merit" are written, and each member of the unit is entitled to wear a golden yellow laurel wreath patch on his right sleeve.

Staff Sergeant Hernandez, an assistant warehouse foreman in a signal supply unit of the Fifteenth Air Force Service Command, is the husband of Mrs. Marjorie Hernandez, 670 Luda Street, Elgin. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Hernandez, Roselle. Staff Sergeant Hernandez entered the army in March of 1942 and has been nearly two years overseas. He has served in North Africa and Italy. He is a graduate of the Elgin High school.

Changing his address overseas is Bill Miller of Arlington Heights. He was formerly stationed in Italy, so we're keeping him there. His address is Pvt. William Miller, 36665318, APO 794, % PM, New York, N. Y.

Sgt. John V. Haben of Wheeling writes from Italy, that they are very busy and are making many missions over Germany. He is happy to have received his promotion to sergeant.

Discharged

Harvey Thompson of Arlington Heights has been granted an honorable discharge from the army, it was learned this week.

Harvey was injured internally when a jeep crashed into a building in Southern France last winter. Since that time he has been undergoing treatment at various hospitals.

Thompson was a patient in three British hospitals before returning to the States six weeks ago. He rested in a New Jersey hospital for three weeks, was then transferred to Winters General hospital at Topeka, Kansas. Harvey arrived home Sunday.

S1c Kurt Augard of Northbrook has been discharged from the navy.

Germany

After a silence of over a month a letter from Capt. John Sicks of Wheeling tells of being somewhere in Germany. The countryside was very scenic and they were quartered in a German house which had been evacuated before the arrival of the troops.

With Uncle Sam

Italy

With a fifteenth air force service command air service group in Italy—"For meritorious and outstanding service in support of combat operations against the enemy for the period of 1 January to 30 June 1944" the signal company of which Staff Sergeant Valdimar Hernandez of Roselle is a member has been awarded the Meritorious Service Unit Plaque. The award was made known in a letter of commendation from Major General Natham Twining, Commanding General of the Fifteenth Air Force.

As a symbolic reward for the achievement, the combined unit received a mahogany plaque on which the words "Service" and "Award of Merit" are written, and each member of the unit is entitled to wear a golden yellow laurel wreath patch on his right sleeve.

Staff Sergeant Hernandez, an assistant warehouse foreman in a signal supply unit of the Fifteenth Air Force Service Command, is the husband of Mrs. Marjorie Hernandez, 670 Luda Street, Elgin. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Hernandez, Roselle. Staff Sergeant Hernandez entered the army in March of 1942 and has been nearly two years overseas. He has served in North Africa and Italy. He is a graduate of the Elgin High school.

Changing his address overseas is Bill Miller of Arlington Heights. He was formerly stationed in Italy, so we're keeping him there. His address is Pvt. William Miller, 36665318, APO 794, % PM, New York, N. Y.

Sgt. John V. Haben of Wheeling writes from Italy, that they are very busy and are making many missions over Germany. He is happy to have received his promotion to sergeant.

Discharged

Harvey Thompson of Arlington Heights has been granted an honorable discharge from the army, it was learned this week.

Harvey was injured internally when a jeep crashed into a building in Southern France last winter. Since that time he has been undergoing treatment at various hospitals.

Thompson was a patient in three British hospitals before returning to the States six weeks ago. He rested in a New Jersey hospital for three weeks, was then transferred to Winters General hospital at Topeka, Kansas. Harvey arrived home Sunday.

S1c Kurt Augard of Northbrook has been discharged from the navy.

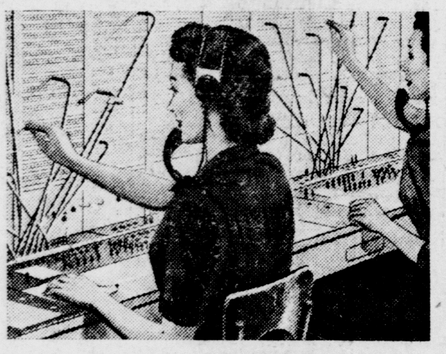
YES, THERE'S A TELEPHONE WAITING LIST!

1. Until the full tide of victory, Western Electric plants—which make our equipment—must produce the communications weapons of war . . . telephones, switchboards, cable. . . .



2. 23 million more local calls and 9½ million more long distance calls were handled in 1944 in the Illinois Bell territory. Every bit of Central Office equipment is on the job.

BUT, WE ARE KEEPING IT SHORT AS POSSIBLE!

3. Illinois Bell people here in this area have found many ingenious new ways to make supplies on hand do a bigger and better job. . . .

4. Requests for service are being met just as fast as facilities become available. Rest assured your name, in our files, receives constant attention.

THE WAR IS NOT OVER UNTIL YOU HELP LICK JAPAN

The Truth is That Our Real Task is Just Beginning!

The big C-54 transport planes you can help to build here are even more necessary in the Pacific conflict. Companion planes to the largest bombers, these C-54's carry everything to our fighting men—jeeps, ammunition, supplies of every sort. And as long as men are being shot, and wounded, these C-54's will be needed in increasing numbers to move casualties to hospitals.

Then the C-54 Becomes the Commercial Airliner After the War

The skills Douglas employes acquire fit them for a future in aviation—and in working with the new light metals such as magnesium and the aluminum alloys. When you work at Douglas, you have the best job that any loyal American could have today. Come out—at once!
